I'd like to be a janitor,
And with their cohorts stand,
A good black cap upon my head,
An eager open hand.
There's no hot water What cares he?
He never takes a shower,
Suppose the place is cold as ice;
He's cozy in his bower.
I wouldn't be a millionaire,
Could I my pathway choose.
I'd rather be a janitor,
And sit all day and snooze.

SPIRIT OF THE CONVENTION.

A. HERBERT CAMPBELL, GAMMA '26.

It is indeed a misfortune that the delegates who attended the 1924 National Convention of Kappa Delta Rho are able to carry back to their respective chapters only a report and not the whole spirit of brotherhood and good fellowship which prevailed among the men who met as representatives of a chain of colleges extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In spirit, all brothers will attest to the fact that East and West can and do meet. We were very proud to have a representative of our new chapter. Lambda, with us, and we feel much assured that we have not only lengthened but also strengthened our chain of brotherhood.

One thing to be regretted is that so few of our alumni attend the conventions. I am sure that this is due to the fact that they have never attended one, for if they did they would go again and again whenever and wherever it would be possible. There is something inspiring about it that can not be understood until one has experienced it. I am eagerly looking forward for next year's convention when I will again be so fortunate as to attend.

"REMINISCENCE."

C. BECKWITH BOONE, IOTA.

The convention at Ohio State brings back to the delegate many happy memories of a cordial group of men, a great college, and the sunburnt fields of Ohio. Of course the most pleasant memories were those of that lively, intelligent group of men that met to discuss fraternity problems. The men at the Kappa chapter house received and treated us royally. Their hospitality made us feel at home, and we were ready and desirous to reason on the policies and problems of Kappa Delta Rho. The delegate remembers those clear cut personalities that gathered there, he sees all of them as men of purpose and character. He contrasts them with the clear bright skies of Ohio and the beautiful city of Columbus. Long sessions with many thoughts and fewer solutions must go with every convention, while a polished banquet and an interesting tour is a welcome change. As the train clipped the rails leaving the broad fields of Ohio behind, the delegate realized it was good for him to be "Out where the West Begins."

EDMUND H. CRANE, GAMMA '25.

IMPRESSIONS FROM THE CONVENTION.

I have been asked what it was that the National Convention of Kappa Delta Rho brought to me most strongly, and I think it was that our brothers are real flesh and blood beings, that the fraternity is really a thing of this earth. I wonder if we realize how far the brothers of the separate chapters are apart? Not in miles, for miles are not too long and can be covered, but in spirit. For the separate chapters with the brothers that make them up are names, the national officers are just names; and how can we say of a name "That is my brother?" Before I went to Columbus, Kappa was only a name to me, the national officers were not real people. A letter from the Grand Quaester was something that required immediate attention, and the name at the bottom was one that demanded respect because of the title affixed to it; but never, until I saw Brother Pike and shook hands with him, did I see the man behind the name. There was a wide space between us, and it was a gap that correspondence could not bridge. And so it was that when I went to Columbus I went to meet not human beings and brothers, but names.

But how different things were when I walked in the Kappa Chapter house and met a circle of men who smiled and gripped my hand with a strength that proved them things of flesh, blood, and muscle. These were people with whom I could talk and find sympathy and understanding. There were people I could call my brothers and feel warmth behind the declaration. I can't describe the change that took place nor shall I try, but there was a big difference. It meant more to me than all the suggestion and good advice I could get, and I got a great deal. It is impossible of course, but it would be a wonderful thing if some day we could come to meet and know every brother we have, for we can never really feel that we are brothers to a man until we know him.

LOVE.

Love is like an onion
You taste it with delight,
But when it's gone you start to cuss:
"Why did I ever bite?"

—Michigan Gargoyle.

WHAT DOES YOUR FRATERNITY MEAN TO YOU?

ALPHA CHAPTER.

Just what has your fraternity meant to you? Have you ever stopped to ask that question of yourself? If I were asked such a question, my answer would be, "Just what I have put into it, no more, no less." A fraternity is a hundred per cent efficient machine. The benefit you derive from the fraternity is just proportional to the work you put into it. Show me the man who is factious and fault-finding and discontented and I'll show you the man who shirks his responsibilities. The things a man prizes most are the things he has worked hardest for. It is surprising how sweet the fruits of hard work are. If you have been feeding on the bitter berries of indolence and a laissez faire policy, try a change of diet. The next time you are getting ready for a house party don't sneak off under cover of a good excuse but stick around. There's nothing the matter with you, you're just a little lazy and work is a sure cure for such a malady. The fraternity is generous in her estimate of your worth and she is equally generous in her rewards but unlike the rain she does not let fall her rewards on the good and bad alike.

Just what has a fraternity to offer? Well, she offers the respect of the men with whom you are intimately associated. It's a pretty good man who can demand the respect of his fellows and such a man has a fair show of making good in this world and will perhaps have the opportunity to polish golden candelabra in the next. The opposite is also true; a man who does not have the respect of other men needs to take stock of himself. He's not hitting on all six and something's wrong. Perhaps he needs to scrape off a little of the carbon of laziness and give his speed boat a fair chance in the race of life.

Ben Franklin once said that, "True merit is ability coupled with the desire to serve one's fellow men." The fraternity offers you a chance to show how much "true merit" you have. There are some thirty or more men with whom you are closely allied. What have you to offer them? Is it an obscene story now and then or is it a little sound advice? Is it a mass of flunks for them to paste on their fraternity records or is it a Phi Beta key? Do you present them with the great cipher of social success or with a college letter? Think about it. Men value you by what you give them; if you give them nothing, then your value is nothing. The fraternity affords an opportunity for you to give and remember it is a blamed sight better to give than to receive.

The supreme gift that a fraternity offers is friendship. Not a bland, suave, superficial friendship, but a deep, sincere, appreciative friendship that comes from a fine understanding based on intimacy. Friendship is that affinity existing between the good in one man and the good in another, it is like calling to like, it bridges all gapes, it obliterates all difficulties, and strengthens with years. Men who have finished college and those who are soon to finish are unanimous in saying that among their most valued acquisitions are the friendships they formed in college. A man who has real friendships must himself be a real man for friendships are not built on worthless qualities. If the fraternity has not given you her finest gift, examine yourself carefully, be sure that you have not surrounded yourself with an adamant shell of selfishness. Better wear a millstone for a watch charm than hang a little amulet of selfishness about your neck; you'll get about as far with the former as you will with the latter. Give the fraternity all you have got and you will be astounded at what she has to offer you.

The establishment of a new and "independent" college is planned by Dr. Alexander Meicklejohn, former president of Amherst College, according to a dispatch from New York where Dr. Meicklejohn has been in conference with friends and earlier associates. The aim is said to be the creation of a college where emphasis will be placed upon the teacher's freedom to teach, and where there will be no trustee control and a minimum of administrative machinery.

To found the new institution a fund of $3,000,000 is thought to be sufficient. Part of this sum would be used for the purchase of a site, possibly and perhaps preferably a site with the necessary buildings already erected on it, the idea being to make use of the plant of some abandoned school or other like institution, so that the outlay for physical cost may be as modest and economical as possible.

The remainder of the fund, increased by tuition fees, would be used for the support of the teaching staff. Although various rumors are current as to the identity of the men likely to become leading members of the new college faculty, if the plan is successfully launched, no final agreements have yet been concluded.

Among the men whom Dr. Meicklejohn has consulted on the project is R. H. Tawney of London, Counsellor of the British Labor Party, who recently sailed for England after attending the Williams-town Institute of Politics. Mr. Tawney visited Amherst College as a special lecturer during Dr. Meicklejohn's presidency.

After a survey of the American colleges and Universities, Dean Walters of Swarthmore declares that the annual increase in attendance at these institutions has fallen to approximately the pre-war rate.

Unofficial war has been declared upon automobiles for the use of students at the University of Illinois. While the university officials have laid down no rule against machines, Professor Thomas A. Clark, dean of men, has written letters to the parents of the 400 students who have machines, asking their co-operation in solving the problem. Dean Clark minces no words in his denunciation of automobiles for students. He says, in part:

"The auto is a waster of time and money. It encourages loafing and the taking of frequent and unnecessary trips out of town to the neglect of the students' regular work.

"The student with an automobile is likely to be a poor student because he cannot resist the temptation of the car.

"The possession of a car involves more than ordinary physical danger. There is moral danger in the car. Whatever of drinking and stealing and sexual immorality exists among the college students is largely connected with the automobile."

Statistics from Princeton show that the annual average earnings of the 1913 class (196 men) amount to $6,560. Other income brings the average annual receipts up to $8,315. Twenty-four men are making at least $10,000 per year.

A $10,000,000 52-story building will be erected at the entrance to Schenley park next year as the new home of the University of Pittsburgh, Chancellor John G. Bowman announced. The building, described as the "Cathedral of Learning," will accommodate 12,000 students.

Chancellor Bowman, in outlining the plans at a dinner of university trustees, members of the faculty and citizens' committee of 120 business men, said the building would be erected so that it could be seen from a great distance on either side. It will be Gothic in architecture, and built of white Kentucky limestone.

The building, which is to provide classrooms, libraries, shops and laboratories, will be 680 feet high, 360 feet long and 260 feet wide. It will have 16 high-speed elevators. The main doorways at the four entrances will be 39 feet high.

The university's new home will take about two acres of the 14-acre quadrangle facing the entrance to the park. It will house all departments except the schools of medicine and dentistry, which will have the present buildings nearby.

"The idea of a single high structure is not a casual conclusion," Chancellor Bowman said. "The decision is the result of three years of thought.

"Charm, intimacy, restfulness, dignity and coziness may be well expressed in the moss and ivy covered buildings of Harvard, Princeton, Oxford and the University of Chicago, but the feeling of these structures is not indigenous to Pittsburgh. We, if we express ourselves with truth, should express courage, daring and a reach for the unattainable. That is the spirit of achievement."

Chancellor Bowman said the increased cost of a skyscraper would be offset by the saving in land and upkeep. He stressed its flexibility for expansion of university departments and the idea of giving unity to the university.

Did you ever take your girl
To the movies
And no sooner get settled
When she starts to rave
About the hero?
His hair is curly
While yours is straight.
He is tall
You are short.
He wears knickers
And you don't even own any.
He rides a horse like

And has Jack Dempsey fists
And about this time
You have given up hope.

Neither did I.

FRESHMAN EDUCATION.

With the rushing season over in the majority of institutions where Phi Mu Delta is represented, the fraternity can now begin the training of its freshmen in the ideals and principles that have made Phi Mu Delta strong. The next few weeks constitute a critical period in the college career of every fraternity freshman. There is nothing new in this statement but it can hardly be stressed too much. Not only will his attitude towards his studies determine whether he will stay in college four years or six months; but also his early impressions of fraternity life will affect his subsequent feeling towards the brotherhood he has joined. In these weeks of training every neophyte must see the best side of fraternity life exemplified.

It is unnecessary to say anything about the Triangle's attitude towards the nonsensical performances that initiates must go through in some organizations in the name of fraternity. The editorial in this issue quoted from Banta's Exchange expresses our views well enough. It may be worth while at this time, however, to call to the attention of the chapters of Phi Mu Delta that the last conclave went on record as strongly condemning any rough-house informal initiations on the part of any of its chapters.

It will be much better if any chapter with surplus energy will use it in a positive way for the education of the men it has pledged. Some chapters have already started such a system. The Triangle heartily recommends the plan of pledge organization adopted by Gamma Delta chapter at Wisconsin. This calls for weekly meetings of the freshmen, a loose organization among them, and frequent talks by alumni or active members on the manifold phases of fraternity life. Initiates thus come into the actual brotherhood with a thorough understanding of all that it means and are prepared to work for the fraternity, not simply because some upperclassman has told them to do a certain task, but because the reasons for such work are known and fully appreciated.

—The Phi Mu Delta Triangle.

Regardless of political affiliations, all members of the fraternity are proud of the honor which has come to it through the nomination of John W. Davis of Virginia Beta as the candidate for President by the Democratic party. In all his public and private life he has brought honor to himself and to the fraternity. The newspapers of the country have been unanimous in recognizing his high character and unusual ability. He represents all those finer things for which the fraternity stands, and whether or not he may be successful in the coming election, he will always stand as a member to whom Phi Psi's will point with pride. In addition to his many attainments in civic and political affairs, he has always been an active, loyal member of the fraternity, interested in all its undertakings, and particularly his own chapter.

—Shield of Phi Kappa Psi.

Undergraduates, make use of your alumni!

We hear lots of talk of indifferent alumni. Probably it is inherent in some alumni to be more or less indifferent toward things not more intimately concerned with themselves than their fraternities and their chapters, but certainly there are some who do not fall within that category and are willing to help their chapters whenever they can. This is not intended to be a screed on duties of undergraduates to alumni, alas, too often neglected, but rather we hope to point out the advisability of undergraduates taking greater advantage of their alumni's experience.

Work and family life make heavy demands on the time of many alumni, but the average alumnus is only too willing to be drafted for such service as his chapter may ask and he may be able to give. He is willing to advise and to work on house ownership propositions in most capacities; he is willing to cooperate in establishing most satisfactory methods of house operation; in fact, he will be more interested in his chapter if he is asked for his advice and is given some task, no matter how small, to perform.

We have in mind one chapter which has seemed to believe that undergraduate affairs should be more or less independent of alumni. Its board of trustees has been made up entirely of undergraduate members. These trustees, too often, have been somewhat inexperienced, have not been inclined to seek or heed alumni advice, and otherwise have been somewhat impetuous. One year this chapter was in bad condition financially because of unwise operation of the chapter house and chapter table, some members having been permitted to be unduly lax in settlement of their accounts. Another time the chapter was poorly housed because of ill-considered action which resulted in the sale of a much better house. These and other misfortunes would not, necessarily, have been avoided had alumni had more voice in the chapter's operation, but they might have been.

On the other hand are chapters which permit greater alumni authority, often with alumni having the majority vote on the board of trustees. These chapters are eminently successful. The advice of more experienced members may not have been the sole cause of these chapters' successes; alumni advice is not necessarily the panacea of all ills and preventative of all misfortunes, but certainly it helps.

Lambda Chi Alpha has chapters of both types, those which believe themselves good enough without their alumni and those which carefully cultivate alumni cooperation. The Fraternity will prosper as the former decrease and the latter increase in number. Think it over!

—From The Purple, Green and Gold of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Psi Upsilon at its recent convention laid preliminary plans for the celebration of the fraternity's centennial anniversary at Union in 1933. The fraternity has taken action to require all initiates after October 1 to become life subscribers to its magazine, the Diamond.

The following is quoted from the Sigma Pi Emerald and concerns the University of California in Los Angeles (formerly the Southern Branch of the University of California):

"In 1922 the present university had only the rating of a junior college, having only a two-year curriculum in the college of letters and science. In 1923 the third year was added, and in 1924 the fourth year and recognition as a full fledged university was bestowed upon the institution. This will be the first year that degrees will be given for work completed in the college of letters and science.

"From the above, the reason is obvious why more national fraternities are not represented on the Southern campus; it has been a policy of 'watchful waiting' for the most part in order that the status of the university be finally determined. Now that this matter has been cleared up, it is up to the rest of the national fraternities to get busy.

"The present attendance of the Southern Branch is four thousand. The present number of local fraternities is ten, each averaging thirty in its active membership. Figuring about two thousand men students on the campus, less than twenty per cent of the men actually 'make' some organization. There is plenty of room and a pressing need for more national fraternities.

"At present there are one national sorority and ten local sororities represented on the campus.

"The University of California in Los Angeles had its beginning in the old L. A. State Normal School, established by the state in 1912. It flourished as a teachers' college until September, 1919, when it was declared a branch of the University of California at Berkeley, and as such was accorded a two-year course. The reason for the establishment of the Southern Branch was to relieve the crowded condition in the northern institution. This was the only logical place to have an affiliated college, for the simple reason that sixty-five per cent of the enrollment at Berkeley came from the southern part of the state. The enrollment in 1919 was about eighteen hundred; today it is four thousand with every indication that by September it will rise to five thousand.

"The campus comprises about thirty acres, with twelve buildings arranged in a quadrangle. It is located in the northwestern part of the city and is accessible both by automobile and street car, being less than thirty minutes ride from the business district.

"More national fraternities are needed, and a splendid field is thrown open to all, and we who are here already extend a cordial invitation to join us."

"Among the most striking of a series of advertisements placed by a prominent electric company in a number of college publications is one the outstanding legend of which is: 'The ivy won't save any of us.' A young man is pictured falling from the wall of a college building as the ivy by means of which he has been climbing breaks. 'The ivy of tradition is a slender support,' the advertisement moralizes. 'A man or a team of a college that clings to it, harkening back to the glory of yesterday, is likely to be outstripped by some young but sturdy rival.'

"The analogy fits the case of the fraternity perfectly. Some of the groups that have made the greatest progress in the last few years have been those whose period of founding postdates our own by nearly half a century. There is a certain enthusiasm of youth that brooks no handicap and that on occasion puts to shame the sluggishness of senility. The same is true of chapters. The necessity of having to go through a period of petitioning would have a salutary effect upon a hundred chapters founded prior to 1870 in this and other fraternities.

"The moral of all of which, if one need be drawn, is that the laurels of the past avail little in the stern contest of the present and that the great care of all Phi Gamma Delta is not to let the inclinations of a ripe, old age atrophy our ideas. Otherwise, it will be said of us that, like the potato vine, the best part of us is under the ground."

—The Phi Gamma Delta.

"But?"

"No."

"Just?"

"No."

"Once?"

"No."

"Please?"

"No."

CONSUL COMMENT.

LEO T. WOLFORD, G.C.

The 1924 Convention was held on Labor Day instead of on Armistice Day, which was the previous custom. In doing so, we lost none of the spirit of peace and harmony, but I believe we did gain somewhat in adding to the spirit of labor. No Convention ever worked harder or in more business-like manner than the Convention at Columbus, which was held on Saturday and Monday, November 1st and 3d, 1924.

One feature of this Convention, which was new to us, should be mentioned, because it seemed to be a secret of getting our business done in a satisfactory and prompt manner. When we realized that many of the delegates would have to leave soon after noon on Monday, and that our time would be short to transact all the business which was before us, we decided to have the Convention Committee meet in open meetings according to a published schedule, so that any delegate had the right to appear before any Committee and be heard.

I suggest this plan of procedure should be followed. In the first place, it makes all of the work of the Convention absolutely open and above board, so that nothing can be accomplished in secret. I say this without any thought that such has been done in the past, but it is of course important to overcome any suspicion or possibility of suspicion that programmes are being worked out by any particular representatives at a Convention.

In the second place, and by far more important, it enables the Committee to have the views of all the delegates who happen to be interested in the work of any particular Committee. When we met on Monday, we were sure that the reports of the Committees represented the considered views, not only of the Committees, but of the Convention as a whole, and the result was that action on the Committees' report was greatly facilitated.

In the third place, the obvious result of this procedure was that we avoided any long drawn-out discussions on the floor, as all differences had for the most part been ironed out in the Committees.

There was one time, however, when we were somewhat fearful that we needed the spirit of Armistice Day more than the spirit of Labor Day. Brother Corbett had to intercede as referee of a bout on the floor of the Convention between Brothers Johnston and Willard. Nothing seriously resulted.

There were present at this Convention delegates from Vermont and California. In many respects we are taking on more and more the aspect of a truly national fraternity.

No better recommendation of our fraternity can be given than the reports of the Chapters giving their standing in their respective Universities. We have a remarkably high average standing, and this must not be lost sight of.

THE SUCCESSFUL UNIVERSITY TEACHES US, NOT HOW TO MAKE A LIVING, BUT HOW TO LIVE.

This issue is devoted to the 1924 National Convention and, like all such numbers in the past, the Quill and Scroll cannot overlook the opportunity to emphasize certain important matters pertaining to the convention or suggested by it.

First of all the Quill and Scroll recommends that all brothers read and thoroughly digest the minutes of the 1924 Convention.

Secondly, the same course is recommended for Consul's Comment.

THE CONVENTION

If you follow this advice and your heart beats do not increase, and your fraternal pride does not bubble up, and your desire to do something does not overcome that old inertia, well, then you are hopeless. The fault is not the fraternity's, it is yours entirely.

One cannot read of the past records of the various chapters without feeling pride in their accomplishments. One cannot read the reports of committees without feeling that some have done more than their share, and many, unmentioned in the records, have done nothing. One cannot read the minutes without feeling that Kappa Delta Rho is worth while and one cannot read them without resolving to do more in the future.

A step toward solid internal organization was made, or rather several steps, when three Proconsuls were elected to supervise and advise the three regional divisions created at the 1924 convention.

The real progress lies in the fact that three leaders were chosen as Proconsuls, men who will do more than their share in unifying and developing their respective territories. The Quill and Scroll will publish reports from them at various times and will endeavor to keep in close touch with all they do. Any brothers who can help with chapter or regional work should not be bashful. Read the minutes and find out what region you are in, then get busy.

The convention authorized the publication of a complete Kappa Delta Rho Directory in pocket edition size, and not to be one of the regular numbers of the Quill and Scroll. A copy of this directory is to be sent to every member of the fraternity, REMINDERS active, alumnus and honorary. The duty of the chapters and secretaries of the alumni chapters is to send in the names of all brothers who have been affiliated with their chapters, together with permanent addresses and classes. Some have already done this, most have not. This is just a reminder.

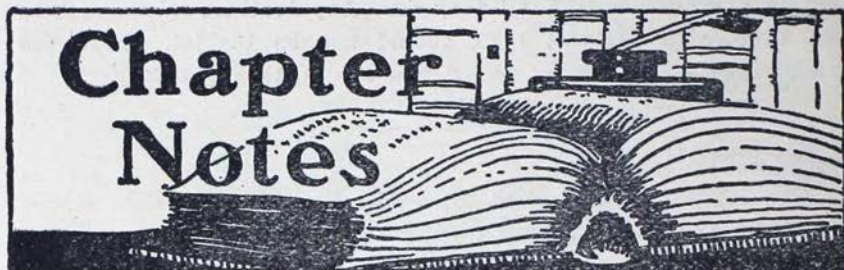

At the convention it was decided that all chapters should pay two dollars a year for an annual subscription to the Quill and Scroll for every honorary member of the chapter. The object was to interest the honorary members in the national organization and the fraternity's publication. Perhaps they may even come across with a contribution now and then. To date one chapter has lived up to the promise of its delegates. This is another reminder.

The Quill and Scroll was allowed an increased appropriation for 1924-25. This is a reminder that undergraduates and alumni may contribute material for their fraternity publication, but they seldom do so. If the fraternity is to grow, the Quill and Scroll must grow. It requires the work of more than a few.

The next convention will be held in November, 1925, at the Alpha Chapter. Middlebury, Vt. The exact dates will be announced in the next issue. Alpha is making elaborate preparations for the greatest convention in the history of the fraternity. This is a reminder that the remainder of the brothers must make preparations also. Now is the time for Alumni to begin plans for attending the 1925 convention. It takes a ten year load off the shoulders of the old alumnus and makes him wonder why he has buried himself for so many years. Plan to attend!

ALPHA.

Toward the middle of September the Middlebury K.D.R.'s. started to browse from the summer range and by the eighteenth the round up was complete and the Alpha boys were once again corralled in the pastures of old Middlebury. There were a few missing: McProud, Chipman, Freddie Smith, and Tod Tucker. McProud is wielding the birch rod in Indiana but will be back next year, Chipman plans to be with us for next semester. Smith has been laid up with sceptic poisoning and has had a narrow escape. His leg is not yet completely well but his letters are as bright as a new penny. Tod Tucker has not yet completely recuperated from his sickness of last spring but hopes to be with us in February. All told the flock numbers twenty-six which gives us the largest fraternity enrollment in Middlebury. The spirit of the fellows is excellent as was evidenced by their unanimous response to fixing up the house. The place has been completely redecorated and no one regrets either the money or the effort they have put into it. Three house parties have been held so far this year and they all went for a million.

Getting off to an early start, three Kappa Delts clambered aboard the ship of executives in college affairs within the first two weeks of college. Shorty Long was elected president of the Senior class at its first meeting and two days later Tink Huntington brought the presidency of the Sophomore class down to the house. At the first meeting of the Undergraduate Association, Hal Philips '26 was declared assistant manager of track on the first ballot.

George Jaggard '25 succeeds Doc Cook, as Editor of The Saxonian, the college literary magazine. George is the third K.D.R. to head this magazine in the four years that it has been holding forth.

Mac Anderson '25, after a heavy season last spring as manager of the track team, is lending his argumentative powers to the debating team.

Jack Britnell '25 is assistant manager of the College Book Store. Every afternoon he may be seen wending his way around the cross country course.

Shorty Long '25, heads the Social Committee of the Undergraduate Association and will take care of the Outing Team this winter as its manager. He is also a member of the Student Council, Athletic Council and the Interfraternity Council.

Art Connor '25 and Ozzy Creaser '27 are both out for cross country.

Johnny Johnson '26 is kept on his toes fixing up basketball supplies, for he is assistant manager of that sport.

Fritz Herrington '26, is president of the French Club and a member of the Glee Club.

Our delegates to the National Convention speak very highly of the cordial reception and entertainment accorded them by the brothers of Kappa.

BETA.

The first thing a brother asks when he steps into the house is, "How did rushing go?" This year we can all answer with one accord, "Swell." It really was great. Most all of you alumni sent in a raft of good names, and the men here in the house were not asleep. The rushing committee, headed by Whit Tousdale in its new form, worked like a Packard Straight Eight, and brought us so many good men that they nearly killed the rest of the house in making them decide which men to throw out, for we could not possibly take a third of all the men that we liked. After the dust settled down we found ourselves the proud owners of the following twelve men:

1927.

Charles Mahlon Gladstone, Downsville, N. Y.

Harry Barclay Love, Ithaca, N. Y.

1928.

Edwin Southworth Bartlett, Jr., Highland Park, Mich.

Earnest Edward Bliss, Bath, N. Y.

Alvin Rich Carpenter, Binghamton, N. Y.

Fredrick Ferriss, Madison, N. J.

Vernon Scheidell Howland, Callicoon, N. Y.

Alfred Vincent Lehmann, Buffalo, N. Y.

Kenneth Joseph Mason, Buffalo, N. Y.

Alvin Henery Meade, Harford, Pa.

Richard Collins Rea, New Philadelphia, Ohio.

Robert James Wilkes, Binghamton, N. Y.

Alumni if you keep coming across as you did this year—well, I do not know what will happen.

We gave the frosh a dance on October 31, so that they would have one pleasure to look back on as they were going through the ordeals. Initiation started the following Sunday—lasted all week, ending with informal and formal initiation on November 7 and 8. It is a shame that all of you could not be here. Whit "did himself noble" and gave us all that could be hoped for in a banquet. Hump Humphrey's program was excellent. He had Tip Porter '17 as toastmaster; Prof. G. S. Moler gave the Invocation. Jim Kay welcomed the initiates and Al Lehmann gave the response. Bill Myers '15 told us a little about the money side of the house, and suggested a plan by which we might raise the money necessary to buy a new lot on which to build our new house. Speed Race '21 gave all of us good suggestions in the way we should attack our problems. Tubby Seelbach, Shorty Taylor, Charles Warren, and Andy Schroder gave us some good entertainment. The evening was closed by a splendid talk by our toastmaster. I am going to get Tip to write out his speech and send it in to the Quill and Scroll for the next issue. You will enjoy it.

Tiny Hill has the honor of being the first football man that Beta has ever had. Tiny plays right tackle, and if all the men played as well as he does, Cornell would not have to watch her opponents throw their hats over the goal at the end of first two real games. Shrimp Little is a regular cheerleader and always gets a good response from the stands. He has the best voice in the bunch, so always reads the scores of the other games during the half. Don Drumtra and Trum Lacey are in the Glee Club. Tick Ingersoll is assistant manager of the University Orchestra, with Tubby Seelbach and Ted Larsen in the organization. Johnny Johnson, Sandy Walkley, Milf Howard, Andy Schroeder, and Scotty Gladstone are on the wrestling squad. Jim Kay, Wes Pietz, Ray Thomas, and Whit Trousdale are on the track squad. Besides being a good track man, Whit is president of the C.U.C.A., is on the debate team, a member of the Owls, manager of the advisory committee for freshmen, Arts college athletic director, and holds countless small jobs on the hill. None of us can see how he does so much so well. Ron Albee, Les Sheldon, and Wink Winkler are on the basketball squad. Carl Eberhard is making good on the Annuals competition. Harry Love is fighting hard for a place on the Sun Board. The rest of us are trying to do our bit in one little way or other.

The frosh, while they are getting acclimated, are out for track, and are running cross country. Several of them are coming in nice shape in their events.

Dean Mann of the College of Agriculture at Cornell has been chosen by the International Education Board to establish an organization for the promotion of agricultural science and education through an international exchange. He was granted a two year leave of absence by the university trustees and sailed for Europe on August 16 to assume the duties of his new mission.

President Livingston Farrand, in announcing Brother Mann's appointment, describes his work as follows:

"The International Education Board is beginning a world-wide service to sound agricultural development through the international exchange of knowledge and experience. The exchange will be accomplished at the outset by provision for selected persons engaged in agricultural science and education and in highly important public services to agriculture, to spend time in study and investigation in countries other than our own.

"The International Education Board is beginning its work in Europe and America. It has asked Dean Mann to go to Europe to set up the organization and establish the initial undertakings. This will involve contact with all the governments and the scientific institutions and societies engaged in agriculture in the several states of Europe.

"It is expected that the organization work will require two years. Headquarters will be established in Paris or Rome, although most of the time will be spent in travel and consultation with scientists and officials in the several countries of Europe and in this country."

C. C. Torrence (Deke) from Delta has come to our college to study a little medicine. He and Jim Kay are having a great time together as they are both taking the same work. I wish that we could have more transfers, for it gives each chapter a better opportunity of learning what the other chapters are doing, each thereby mutually improving.

Pete Powell and Larry Corbett are back again. Pete is up at the Ag. campus instructing and working for his M.A. in Agricultural economics. Larry is back in Ag. too, but his work takes him to the vegetable gardening department. They both eat here at the house quite often so we see a lot of them. While I am on the subject of last year's Alumni I guess I might as well finish it up. Buck Clarkson is in Chicago working for his father. Cy Coneby, Jack Ensor and Fred Uhl are working in Pittsburg with Rip Van Sickle for the Westinghouse Electrical Co. Cy, Fred and Jack took a trip out West in a Dodge before they started work, from all reports they had a great time. Chuck Rodwell is working for his M.A. too. He and two Alpha Zeta men bought a Dodge and worked their way across the country making observations on farming conditions and methods. At present Chuck is in Dee Oregon working in an apple orchard. He does not expect to get back to Ithaca much before Christmas. Sid Saunders is working for the Penn. Electric Power Co. He is doing what he has always wanted to do, that is work in a basic industry. Sid says that he is learning a lot and is having some very interesting experiences around Allentown, Pa.

Lynn Wilson still has a long road ahead of him. He is down in New York at the medical college. Bugs Ackerly '22 and Bob Felter '20 are also down there studying medicine. They seem to be taking very good care of him for we hear that Lynn has pledged Nu Sigma Nu, an honorary medical fraternity that elected Bob Felter its president last year.

Amongst the older Alumni, we have a little piece of gossip here and there to spread. Walt Flumerfelt '23 was married to Helen. They are living in Chicago. Walt is working for Roudier Chemical Co., which makes basic products for perfumery. You all know of course that Bob Hamilton '23 married Ruth Cook last June. They live in Rochester. Bob is working for the G.L.F.

GAMMA.

Gamma looks forward to another very successful year. At this point we wish to extend our best wishes to all the other chapters and hope this year will bring them the best in everything. Like us, you have probably lost brothers who were very dear to you and whom it will take some time to get used to being without, but we find it helping to think of them as merely taking a vacation from us and that they will return. Am sure that they feel that way and count our house their home.

Eleven members are missing from our ranks this year. Brother Ralph Beaver is teaching mathematics in Owego, N. Y. Herb Bentley is teaching in Schenectady, N. Y. Jimmie Carrolan has failed thus far to let us know where he is. Charlie Cole is at home in Carmel, N. Y. Frenchie is Principal of the Junior High School at Plattsburg, N. Y. Bob MacCubbin is working in Buffalo. Pop Nelson is taking his Masters Degree at Cornell. Put is principal of a Grammar School at Chappaqua, N. Y. Ed Sherley is Principal of the High School at Argyle, N. Y. Almer Snyder is teaching again this year in Albany High. Claude Sturdevant is teaching at Carmel, N. Y.

We have back with us this year three brothers. Harold R. Elliott '18 came back for his Masters degree. Jack Johnson came back to finish his degree after two years as principal of a grammar school in Schenectady. Harry Rude is back after a year as principal of a grammar school in Northport, L. I.

At present we have twelve pledges as follows:

J. Rolland Stevenson '26, Cold Springs, N. Y.

Dewitt Zeh '27, Albany, N. Y.

Clarence Nephew '28, Albany, N. Y.

Richard Jensen '28, North Troy, N. Y.

Harry Briggs '28, Nassau, N. Y.

Gilbert Ganong '28, Carmell, N. Y.

Francis Griffin '28, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.

Harold Crounce '28, Albany, N. Y.

Erwin Allen '28, Cazenovia, N. Y.

Howard Goff, '28, Altamont, N. Y.

Ralph Stanley '28, Franklin, N. Y.

Alex Bryant '28, Athens, N. Y.

The Committee for the summer session reports a very favorable summer for the house. Twenty-two men lived at the house and through the good managership of brothers Roberts, Juckett and Briggs, it was made a paying proposition as well as making a number of improvements about the place.

Ed Crane '25 and Herb Campbell '26 report an unusually good time and an exceptionally profitable meeting at the convention at Columbus last summer.

Our pledges have already made a showing that we are very proud of and which promises great things for K.D.R. during their years here. Clarence Nephew was elected President of the Freshman class and Erwin Allen, Vice-President. Harry Briggs has been elected a reporter on the College News and four or five others are good prospects for the varsity teams.

Great efforts are being made by the committee to make the fall dance a big success. The affair will be held shortly after the Thanksgiving recess. It was voted to hold the dance at the Aurania Club because our house would be somewhat crowded with the forty couples we expect to be present.

Harold P. French '24 and Ed Shereley '24 were in the city October 30, while attending the New York State Teacher's Convention at Troy.

Robert C. R. MacFarlane was united in marriage on the 25th of June to Miss Henrietta Warth, of Monticello, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane are now at home at 92 Highland avenue, Monticello, N. Y.

William Earle Sutherland '19 married Miss Dorothy Baker of Albany on June 26. Brother Sutherland had been an instructor in Physics in the Albany High School for a number of years and is back again this year.

Wedding bells have also sounded for Almer Snyder who married Miss Pauline Peterson of Jamestown, N. Y., on May 10. Brother Snyder has resumed his teaching at Albany High again this year.

The week-end of November 1 brought a small reunion at the house. Brothers French '24 from Plattsburg, Shirley '24 from Argyl, and Cumstock ex'27 from Glenmont were with us.

Brother Maurice Shorty Hathorne was up for the teachers convention at Troy, October 30.

DELTA.

The opening of the new school year finds the brothers of Delta optimistic and ambitious. Prospects are bright for a good year and we intend to make the best of it.

Delta is unfortunate in losing, by transfer to Princeton, Bros. W. Staub and C. McPherson of the class of '26, and brother Trantum '25 who is in Cornell Med. this year. This leaves us with 24 active members.

As a result of the regular rushing season eight Freshmen have been pledged. They are:

A. S. Brown, Springville, N. Y.

A. O. Burgess, Illion, N. Y.

G. Gilfillion, Ridgewood, N. J.

J. Graham, Moosic, Pa.

C. D. Gritman, Brooklyn.

C. L. Hulst, Bath, N. Y.

J. S. Suffern, Corning, N. Y.

R. H. Whitman, Bainbridge, N. Y.

Delta again won the scholarship cup. This makes the seventh consecutive time.

In campus life we are by no means inactive. Every man is engaged in some campus activity or activities. Bob Graham has won new honors this year, secretary of the Senior class and Pi Delta Epsilon. Judd '26 has also rated new honors, Assoc. Editor of the Maroon, secretary of the Junior class, member of the Corthians, and Junior Prom Committee. Rice '26 made the varsity Debate squad and Lane '27 made Masque and Triangle. Sheets '26 made Assoc. Editor of the Maroon.

Judd is also the mainstay of the Colgate cross country team. He has been the first Colgate man to cross the line in every meet this year. Streeter '27 and Young '27 are on the varsity football squad.

Every Sophomore is scrubbing. Lane is scrubbing Maroon Broad and Sal Mugundi; Wright, soccer and Willow Path; Streeter, basketball; Konkle, business board of the Sal; Rogers, editorial board of Sal; Young, Maroon board; Staub, Maroon board; Ball, manager of cross country; Len Allen, manager of musical clubs and editorial board of the Sal.

The Freshmen are also begining to scrub various offices. Suffern placed second in the low hurdles in the underclass meet and Brown placed first in the high jump.

The men that we lost by graduation last year are located as follows:

Crippen, Rochester Theological Seminary, Rochester, N. Y.

Franklin, East Rochester High School, Rochester, N. Y.

Green, Sherwood Sporting Goods Co., New York City.

Perron, Boston Y. M. C. A., Boston, Mass.

Jagger, Hotel Business, North Hampton, L. I.

Rose, Hamilton High School, Hamilton, N. Y.

Steyaart, Johns Hopkins Medical College, Baltimore, Md.

Taylor, Law Office in Detroit, Mich.

Torrance, Cornell Medical College, Ithaca, N. Y.

Traver, Rochester Theological Seminary, Rochester, N. Y.

EPSILON.

With the opening of the school year of 1924-25, Epsilon chapter finds itself owning its own home for the first time in the history of the local chapter. The house was purchased just before the beginning of school by the Kappa Delta Rho Builling Association, which was organized last spring by actives, alumni, and honorary members.

Pledging occupied some of our spare time during the summer, and most all of our time the first week of school, and the result is that we have one of the largest group of pledges we have had for some time. Our new pledges are: Frank Braman, Mitchell; William Bruce, Stuttgart, Arkansas; Floyd Buntin, Kirklin; Lewis Hart, Bridgeport, Illinois; Foster Hilligoss, Rushville; Arvil Keesling, Center Grove; Clyde Reintjes, Linton; Buel Robinson, Kirklin; Oren Stowers, Kirklin; Melvin Weedon, Bridgeport, Ill.; Ralph Willey, Franklin, and Elmon Williams, Whiteland.

The second week of school we initiated three of last year's pledges, and one honorary member. The three who became actives are: Carl Winters '27, Linton; Glen Utterback '27, Franklin, and Paul Payne '26, Kirklin. The honorary member is Fletcher Boyd, Superintendent of the Indiana Masonic Home at Franklin.

With the opening of the football season, Kappa Delta Rho has again been well represented upon the gridiron. Raymond Rohrbach, last year's captain and acting captain this year, is again playing at center. The graduation of Buck this year will mean quite a loss to the Franklin team. Brother Payne is again playing end, and Brothers Tudor, Shepherd, and Pledges Salisbury, Wilson, and Bruce are also playing with the varsity. Pledges Buntin, Hart, Robinson, Reintjes, Weedon and Stowers are members of the rhinie squad. Pledge Reintjes has been elected assistant yell leader by the student council.

This year's political campaign in Indiana has been of especial interest to the local chapter because of the fact that Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood, an honorary member, was candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction on the Republican ticket, and Brother Gerald Quick was president of the local college Republican Club, which was very active in support of Dr. Sherwood.

A number of our alumni have visited us since the opening of the school year over week ends, and others were back for Homecoming. Among our visitors have been Stanley Strohl '22, who is coach at Greensburg High School; Brothers Hugo Gale '21, and Emerson Jarvis '24, both of whom are teaching at Bluffton; Bro. Jennings Sanders, and Brother Kenneth Rudd ex'24, who is attending Indiana University this year.

ZETA.

The K.D.R. boys arrived in State College this fall, apparently glad to get back into the harness again, and ready to take up and swing the old lead pipe. A count of noses revealed the fact that twenty-six brothers returned to school this year: Ten Seniors, eleven Juniors, and five Sophomores.

To date our pledges are: Stanley Harkins '27; Don Hendrix '27; Bill Feldman '28; Joe Hill '28; Forrest Moyer '28; Roger Shirey '28; Barney Spangler '28.

Though the intensive rushing is over, we are still giving Freshmen the O.O. We hope to have you meet our pledges on Alumni Day on November eighth.

Four of our members did not return to school this year. They are Art Dennis, Kenny Lloyd, Del Sours, and Harold Pollock. They are missed around the house. However, we hope to have one or two of them here next semester. In the interim, let's keep in touch by means of our correspondence.

The Kappa Delta Rho Convention was held at Columbus, Ohio, August 29 to September 1. Brothers Reg Fink and Herb Jones were delegates from Zeta, and they reported having had a splendid time. The convention was very much of a success. One of the most important changes made was that concerning the ritual. The old ritual is to be used for initiation this year instead of the new ritual used last year. Billie Williams was reelected G.P.

Our football team has not been organized yet, although a football has been purchased and kicked around a bit. Tennis is still in full swing, and basketball dope is beginning to make itself heard around the house. We hope to do a lot this year with our basketball material.

The editor was very much in doubt as to whether he should include all marriage notices in this issue, or whether he should run a special issue to take care of them. The fact that this is Leap Year may and may not have something to do with the number of weddings. We of Zeta extend our heartiest congratulations to all the newly-weds. Here's to a long and happy married life.

Early in the summer Dick Webster was married to Miss Alma Fellows of Newburgh, New York. They are now residing in Brooklyn.

In July Pinky Moser and Miss Helen Notestine were married at the bride's home in Harrisburg. Some of you may recall that Miss Notestine is Bob Notestine's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Moser are living in Harrisburg.

In September Miss Adeline Miller and Nelson Hibshman were married in Lewistown, Pa. Nels and his "radio" are now inseparable.

Mr. and Mrs. Lightner announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jessica Lightner, to Mr. Raymond Schaanstine, Wednesday, October 1, 1924, Williamsport, Pa.

Along this same line we hear that Ernie Hill has purchased a site for a house in Beachview. Considering that we cannot be far from right in expecting an announcement from him soon.

While we are around Philadelphia we wish to state that Emil Huber is now a teacher and athletic coach at Glen Nor High School. Glen Nor is a suburb of Philadelphia.

E. K. Smith was a visitor at the house on October 4. Smitty is well known to all of the new men, due to his numerous and frequent visits.

Mrs. E. D. W. Moeslein dropped in to see us during the week of September 31. She expressed her admiration for the interior decorations on the first floor. That is proof that we are not "putting it on" when we tell how well the house looks.

Have you heard the new addition to our orchestra? Eddie Dale is learning to play a cornet.

Bates Houser motored from Altoona to State College, Saturday, October 18 to see the football game with Gettysburg. On the same day several Gettysburg men, who had hiked from Gettysburg to State College, were entertained at the house.

Bill Grassmeyer is reported to be somewhere in the Middle West. We will publish more definite information when he takes a notion to write us.

This year the house is represented in the College Band by Jimmie Greene '25, Dewey Edwards '26, Gus Fink '26, and Stan Harkins '27. Pledge Shirey is trying out for the band.

For those who are not acquainted with the fact, Pledge Don Hendrix is a licensed radio operator and assists at our local station.

We announce with pleasure that two of the boys were honored at the recent Scholarship Day Exercises. Paul Hughes '25 was pledged to Phi Kappa Phi the honorary scholarship fraternity and Whitney Frankenberry '27 was awarded a medal for general scholarship.

We now quote from "The Fortnightly Survey" of Eta: "Eta has been glad to have as her guests a number of brothers from other chapters during the past few weeks. Among them has been Brother Paul Hughes, Zeta. Penna. State College, who was here attending the national convention of Eta Kappa Nu, professional engineering fraternity."

This year the house is represented in the Glee Club by Jimmie Greene '25, L. O. Willis '25, and Reg Fink '26. Brother Fink is the violin soloist.

ETA.

With the beginning of the new year Eta is glad to announce the pledging of Herbert E. Berthold '27, Aurora; Edward Herzog '28, Chicago; Lathrop Mack '27, Michigan City, Indiana; James D. McKinlay '28, Chicago; Opha Pohl '28, Aurora; Charles H. Davis '28, Fairfield.

Eighteen alumni were back with us for Homecoming, the eighteenth of October. Those visiting us were John R. Benson '22, Richard B. Best '21, Irwin S. Brown ex'25, Valdemar Christiansen '24, Edward B. DeCrow ex'26, Oscar L. Doud '22, William M. Edens '24, Seth W. Flanders '24, P. W. Greeley '23, C. C. Herrmann '20, Arthur G. Higgs '23, J. H. Kaney '21, W. W. Kelsey '21, James F. Mack ex'25, Ralph D. Pearman '24, Guy O. Smith ex'26, H. R. Trenkle '23, J. E. Yates '24.

November the first, Dad's Day, we entertained twelve Dads. We believe that all whom we entertained this year will be back for more and hope to see more Dads visiting the house, not only Dads Day, but throughout the year. The fathers of Brothers Miles, Harrison, Smuts, Young, Cryer, Pike, Davis, Trenkle, Weston, Miller, Pledges Pohl, Davis, and McKinlay were our guests.

On Sunday night, November second, two neophytes were initiated into the bonds of the fraternity. Every one gathers in welcoming Kenneth C. Lunak '27, of West Chicago and Clifford E. Wilson '27, of Lewistown into our bonds.

Eta's scholastic average for the last semester of last year continued to rise, and from fifth place which we held the previous semester we arose to that of third place. We are especially proud of this fact when we consider that there are over fifty national fraternities on the Illinois campus. John Queenan '27, was high man in the house with all A's but one.

It seems that Cupid has been unusually busy over the summer and has taken a liking to the brothers. We congratulate Brother Doud '22, whose marriage to Miss Margaret Thompson has been announced. We also offer congratulations to Brother Ollie Bensen '22, in his marriage to Miss Nettie Nyberg. Wallie Christiansen '24, and Tick Murvin '26, have both openly announced their engagements. Good luck to both of them.

Kenneth D. Carpenter '26, has come forth with his expected achievements of the year with his appointment to the Illinois Union Election and Traditions Committee, the Junior Prom Committee, the board of directors of the Illini Chamber of Commerce, and of Chairman of the Homecoming Accommodation Committee.

Joe Smuts '25, was the General Chairman of Dad's Day.

John Queenan '26, has been appointed to the Sophomore Cotillion Committee. Eta should be able to have a large representation at the class dances this year. Queenan has also been elected to the position of Centurion to fill the vacancy caused by Oscar Belton '26, withdrawal from school.

Eta has been carrying on in the Concert Band. Randle L. Dipell '25, having been elected Band President and is playing first soloist's chair in the clarinet section. Brother Davis and Pledge Davis are also members of the clarinet section of the Concert Band.

At the close of last year Theoren J. Murvin '26, was appointed local advertising manager of the Student Illini. Max A. Weston '26, was appointed City News Editor, and this year Russell H. Miles '25, has been made the Acting Editor.

Russell H. Miles '25, was Publicity Chairman for Homecoming.

Theoren J. Murvin '26, has been pledged Band of X, the Commerce College professional fraternity. He has also been initiated into Sachem, the honorary Junior society, in recognition of his activities on the campus.

Francis E. Bettendorf '26, is the Collection Manager of the Commerce College Magazine, the Enterprizer.

Brother Queenan and Pledge Mack were members of the Dad's Day Information Committee.

Robert L. McMahan '27, was appointed to the Homecoming Registration Committee.

Collin W. McIlhenny '26, and Max A. Weston '26, were members of the Homecoming Accommodations Committee, of which Brother Carpenter was Chairman.

John D. Scholfield '22, dropped in and visited the boys for a day early in October.

Among our other visitors were Paul Hughes of Zeta, who was a delegate to Eta Nu Kappa Convention being held here the week of October 25. Brother Keesling of Epsilon, dropped in for a day while attending a teachers' convention here. Brother Sparks, of Theta, spent the day with us while visiting the Michigan-Illinois football game.

With but one game between a tie for first place in our playground baseball division in Intra-Mural sports the prospect for a successful year in athletics begins very favorably. We have won four games by easy margins, lost one, and have one to play. Water basketball play begins in a few days and our team has begun to practice for that sport. The basketball outlook is very encouraging. Nine men of last year's team are still with us, and three good prospects among the freshman class will make these old men fight for positions. At the fall handicap track meet Pledge Berthold tied for second place in the high jump, while Pledge Pohl placed fourth in the low hurdles. With the old material left when the Intra Mural Track meet comes around Eta should be up among the leaders when figuring the score begins.

Russell H. Miles '25, has been appointed Chairman of the Jam-boree for the High School Press Association's Convention.

As these notes are being sent into the Quill and Scroll there comes the news of Collin W. McIlhenny's engagement to Miss Anita Foster of Littleton.

THETA.

A recent count revealed that Theta Chapter now has thirty-nine active members and pledges. Almost all of these men take lunch at the chapter house. As a pleasant result, the noon lunch is a trading post for an infinite number of ideas—original or otherwise. On the whole, the crowd is quite merry, and the petty campus grievances seem to be forgotten at this house. The boys seem to make the occasion one of real recreation, and there's none among us that's objecting!

We feel that it will be of interest to the alumni to know just who our pledges are at the present time, so we submit for your approval the names and qualifications of our new men.

P. L. Zimmerman—"Zimmie" hails from Dayton, Ohio. He's taking Ag., and judging from the way he has been tearing up the varsity football line in practice, he will soon be wearing a "28" sweater and a large golden "P" next year.

J. E. Holt—"Jed" comes from the town of Fairfield, Ill., long since made notorious by Bro. Willard. He is taking C.E. He is a good social man, and is outstanding in three lines of sport—football, baseball and track.

Brooks Holley, C. E. '28—"Bricks" comes from Toledo, Ohio, and can nobly bear an introduction as Burton's brother.

O. E. Heithecker, M. E. '28—Yes, he is a brother of Raymond, but is decidedly longer. Ora is well known on the campus, and he seems to have the knack of pulling down good grades.

C. W. Maxton, Sci. '28—Max is from Dayton, too, and he has a good baseball pitching record behind him. To be sure, he is out for the varsity with the ambition to replace Bro. Jawn Campbell.

Besides the five '28 men, we have G. S. Fachinger '27, carried over from last semester. He was introduced last year.

On October 21, at 9:30 P. M., pledges P. H. Scott, P. E. Smiley, N. K. Skomp, M. M. Latimer, A. M. Wiggins, K. M. Winslow, L. H. Vogel, W. T. Corbin and W. O. Osborn were initiated into our brotherhood. After the initiation a light lunch was served, and each of the new brothers made a short talk. We are proud of these new men, and we know from our previous associations with them that they will prove to be true brothers.

Richard W. Glendenning sent an announcement to the effect that he is the father of a boy. Congratulations, Dick, and here's wishing for many happy returns of the day.

Jawn Campbell received numerous congratulations this summer when Jawn Junior arrived. Here's hoping he takes good care of his right arm till 'long about 1944.

Brother Chas. A. Perkins received word October 6th that he was father of a ten-pound boy who bears the name of Frank Carter. Master Perkins is the namesake of his Uncle Frank (Bro. F. K.) and Brother Sid Carter. Isn't it the most natural thing in the world to call Ash "Paw" Perkins? The boys all thought so.

Everybody was surprised and incidentally they took part in a regular session when Luke Swartz sprung a visit upon us the week-end of the pledge dance. He certainly looks fine, and he's coming back to school next year.

Bro. Eli Myers and his friend, Miss Richardson, were here in time to enjoy the pledge dance also. Bro. Myers is also coming back to school next fall.

Bro. Keesling, of Franklin College, dropped in upon us a few weeks ago. He formed acquaintance easily and seemed to enjoy his visit overnight with our bunch.

Although K.D.R. lost out in the semi-final game to the Phi Kappas, she played a close game. The last inning was played in darkness and it was difficult for both teams to see. In the last round the Phi Kappas shoved in two runs to overcome our 5 to 4 lead, thus ending the game 6 to 5. Throughout the entire season much enthusiasm and interest was shown by our team. Brother Vogel and pledges Maxton, Heithecker, and Holt are all new additions to the team this year, and much of K.D.R.'s success is due to these men. The following gives each game and the results. Out of ten games played we won eight:

K.D.R., 0; S.A.E., 3.
 K.D.R., 8; Phi Kappa Psi, 0.
 K.D.R., 8; Phi Gamma Delts, 3.
 K.D.R., 5; Lambda Chi Alpha, 1.
 K.D.R., 8; S.P.E., 3.
 K.D.R., 10; Phi Kappa Tau, 1.
 Forfeited by Star and Crescent.
 K.D.R., 2; Sigma Nu, 0.

Elimination Rounds.

K.D.R., 2; Triangles, 0.
 K.D.R., 5; Phi Kappa, 6 (semi-finals).

Brother Osbon recently brought honors to the house when he came in wearing the pledge ribbons of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary E.E. His scholastic record is one to be envied, and he certainly deserves this honor in reward for his hard work. Nice goin', Ossie!

The next name to be engraved upon the scholarship trophy is that of William S. Park. He proved to be the best all-around frosh last year. You alumni know what this means, so we extend your congratulations.

The pledging and initiation of Bro. A. M. Wiggins has taken place since school has started. Bro. Wiggins comes from Pennsylvania with a sincere desire to go through our university in two years, and all indications show that his ambitions will be realized. Wiggins is employed by the Purdue Memorial Union, and has recently been promoted to the position of floor manager. We are extremely fortunate in having Mr. Wiggins as our brother.

At present the varsity wrestling squad seems to be monopolized by K.D.R. Brothers Latimer, 175 lbs.; Abie Myers, 125 lbs., and Winslow, 115 lbs., are working out daily and all of them seem to be almost certain of a regular berth on the team. Pin 'em down, Kappa Delts.

Brother Del Kintz, followed by the whole K.D.R. fraternity, staged a rush on the Family theater a few weeks ago. The crowd was in rushing trim and they executed Delly's every command. Bro. Kintz made it possible for every member to enter, and everyone enjoyed himself. Congratulations were in order, too, because Bro. Del has lost his pin.

The pledges were given their annual welcome by a dance in their honor Friday night, October 17. The dance was at Lincoln Lodge, and the music was furnished by the White Star Orchestra. The crisp autumn air instilled pep in the veins of all present, and the result was a glorious time.

Society Notes.

Brother Large remained at home Monday night and studied.
 Which sentence is correct?

Johnny Willard will make an A in Military, or Johnny Willard shall make an A in Military.

Moon Mullins (to rescue):

"Neither—Johnny Willard done made a C in Military."

Advice to Future K.D.R. Men.

Always sign up your birthday anniversary during the summer vacation. The congratulations of "Ole Liz" are rather (?) warm. How about it, Al?

IOTA.

Thursday evening, September 11, twenty of the active men had returned to Lewisburg to open the house and clear the decks for "rushing action" for Bucknell fraternities observe no rushing rules. Due to the improvements of the previous year the house is in good condition.

The registration of freshmen this semester is the largest in the history of the University; about 350 men and 125 women, and we were able to be more selective in our pledging and also to take time. The result is that we have a fine group of pledge men, we know, for we have been close to all of them for six weeks and they are the type of men with whom we enjoy living. Iota takes great pleasure in announcing:

Leo A. Weisenfluh '26, Old Forge, Pa.
 Fred R. Snodgrass '26, Muncy, Pa.
 Norman L. Bloemer '27, Pitman, N. J.
 Donald E. Wagner '27, Lewistown, Pa.
 Karl C. Albig '28, Wildwood, N. J.
 Marlin S. Cargill '28, Lewistown, Pa.
 Clifford H. Drum '28, Berwick, Pa.
 Ralph H. Feick '28, Reading, Pa.
 Howard M. Jones '28, Lebanon, Pa.
 Fred B. Kemery '28, Johnstown, Pa.
 Wallace J. LaCoe '28, Clarks Summit, Pa.
 Hubert W. Lane '28, Hillside, N. J.
 William Marley '28, Johnstown, Pa.
 Bernhard A. Priemer '28, Englewood, N. J.
 Paul R. Seibert '28, McEwensville, Pa.

Without a doubt the biggest day in the history of the town of Lewisburg and of Bucknell was October 18, 1924. Home Coming Day, Stadium Opening and Dedication, Lafayette. The latter is the only word we have any hesitation to mention, but they can play the game and they had to do that too. We were pleased to entertain a number of our older alumni as well as those of more recent years. During Saturday afternoon and Sunday our house and lawn resembled a summer hotel, over Labor Day.

The Bucknell Memorial Stadium, for which the ground was broken March 17, 1924 and completed in 112 actual working days, has a permanent seating capacity of 18,000. It is so constructed that at a later time the seating may be greatly enlarged and the gymnasium built at the end of the great U. We are happy to have gotten into the movies, on the screen rather than by forcing the door, once anyhow.

Twice this semester we have tripped the light fantastic. October 3 we entertained our pledges and the girls from the Womens College and again October 17 our annual Homecoming Day Dance.

Iota is pleased to announce the initiation of four pledges this semester into Kappa Delta Rho. They have advanced standing, Junior and Sophomore.

Fred R. Snodgrass '26, M.E.

Leo A. Weisenfluh '26, A.B.

Morman L. Bloemer '27, E.E.

Donald E. Wagner '27, E.E.

Again Kappa Delta Rho has gained the highest scholar rating in the university, among the mens fraternities, 82.6. Such records had not been kept until 1915 and since that time this group has been first.

On the campus this semester we have our full share of activities.

Bill Evans '25 was elected President of the Athletic Association.

Joe Gardner '25 is manager of both the Band and the Mens Glee Club. The Band made a fine showing the eighteenth. All band men are looking forward to Altoona, Navy and Philadelphia. Gardner, Geist, Albig, and Kemery play in the band and Gardner, George, Jones sing in the Glee Club.

Bab Boone '25 is President of the Y.M.C.A. and Carpenter '27 is on the cabinet.

Wilcox '25 is President of the Pre-Medical Society. Just now this society is having a series of lectures by Dr. Pike, of the Danville State Hospital, on Mental Medicine.

Red Miles '26 was appointed associate editor of L'Agenda, the year book and Sam Jones '26 is on the staff.

Ace Eaton is our only representative on the football squad.

We should have a good basketball team this year with Mosser and Evans from last year and Marley, Jones, Drum, Wagner, Cargill and Devitt.

Mosser, Beidleman, Albig, Kemery and Weisenfluh make merry with their instruments and make us think we also have an orchestra in the house, sometimes.

Marley and Albig have births on the frosh football team and Wagner and Bloemer are out with the Sophs.

We have two Presidents and three Treasurers and one Secretary in the Engineering Societies.

Art Zimmerman '24 who lost his pin last June, rather he might as well as have lost it for he will never get it back on his shirt, is in Schenectady with the General Electric.

Hank Elliott, Gob Fleming, and Ken Budd are assisting the Bell Telephone keep their lines clear, or they will be this winter.

Pete Kinyoun with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation in Buffalo visited his brothers here Homecoming Day.

Bus Hopler, married and living in Brooklyn, occupies a desk of the General Electric Co. there.

Indigo Stanton and wife visited us Homecoming Day. Indigo, an electrical engineer in college, is now a lumberjack for his father.

Kishbaugh, Steventon, and Bob Machamer are teaching school.

Tom Jones is a frequent visitor as is Andy Gehret '23.

This year we are well represented of the faculty and instructorial staff. Prof. Rockwell, Bros. Griffith, Halligan, and Lowry, while Bro. Hall is on leave of absence at Columbia. Stevens, Wilcox, Bean, and Miles are assistants in the different departments.

KAPPA.

Frat dances have been few and far between this year on account of the building of the addition on the house. The first house dance was November 15, the night after the Michigan game.

Scums Alexander, Chodd, Cummins, Berry, Moore, Moores, Lumley, Houseman, Tripp and Schilling received the "grand razz" from November 3 to 8. The formal initiation was November 9. In addition to the above men, Prof. Lumley was initiated. We are all glad to have at last secured a suitable faculty man.

Both Tubby Butler and Pus Ritter are out of the house this quarter. With both of these illustrious members out, the house has been almost strangely quiet and orderly this quarter. Pus is now a Benedict but the only deducable reason for Tubby's desertion is that staying at Greenfield at this time of the year is less work than four or five hours of law and a trip to Keith's every afternoon.

Bud Baker and Davy Swormstedt did not return this year. Respective feminine attractions are the only assignable reasons.

Johnny Bevan is in medicine now. He studies as much in a week as he used to in a quarter while his dates are in inverse proportion.

Hap Huston and Bob Robinson are working hard for wrestling berths. Hap is a 158 pounder, while Bob is a 115 pounder.

Alumni—Be sure to drop in and see the new addition and new furniture. The door is always open.

Ditto for other K.D.R's.

Our band men and managers are all back at their old posts. Joe Gill and Don Wittermann playing and Sheeney Hudson and George Alexander doing the dirty work. Gus Hall is struttin' his stuff in old time form or even better. Incidentally Joe is also on the faculty of the Columbus Institute of Music as a clarinet teacher. Yea! Squeaks and squawcks!

Halitosis Hank Houseman found it harder to keep his face straight during probation week than to study. Sounds impossible, doesn't it?

The following men have been pledged this year:

Allen Schumard, Milford, O.
 Harold Wilson, Marion, O.
 Lesley Callahan, Marion, O.
 James McDonald, Pittsburg, Pa.
 Joseph Saitu, Columbus, O.
 Myron Moyer, Waynesfield, O.
 Richard Maxim, Columbus, O.

She used to sit upon his lap,
 As happy as could be,
 But now it makes her seasick,
 He has water on his knee.

LAMBDA.

Seven new men were initiated into Lambda Chapter of Kappa Delta Rho September 19-21. Activities were started with an informal pledge dance on Friday, the nineteenth. An Oriental effect was created by means of decorations, programs, and refreshments.

On Saturday evening the neophytes were put through an ordeal of rough stuff. The solemn part of initiation began Sunday morning when the brothers attended the First Baptist Church of Berkeley in a body. Dean Elliott of the University then spoke to us at an informal luncheon. He stressed the better influence of good fraternities.

The ritual was portrayed in the evening by the chapter officers, after which an informal banquet was held. The men initiated were: Don Baldwin '27, Brodie Hildreth '27, Herb Hughes '27, Newt Morris '27, Bill Parry '27, Bud Vaughn '27, and Joe Steinhart '28.

Art Thorsen shouted, "California, Here I Come," and arrived on the campus on registration day after a tour of Europe with the "World Famous University of California Glee Club." Art's stories of the Parisites, etc., is one of the most popular indoor sports at the house.

As usual we are well represented in Glee Club activities. Brothers Smale, Thorsen, Paxson, Herberger, Rowland, Dunsmore, and Hughes are on the Club's membership list. Brothers Smale, Thorsen, and Hughes have made several week end trips with the songsters this semester.

Al Larsen and Joe Steinhart are on the freshman managerial staff of the Daily Californian.

Gene Corbin made a sophomore appointment on the sophomore managerial staff of the Pelican, campus humorbus (?) publication. Art Herberger continues to contribute many cartoons to "Pelly."

Lambda Chapter will entertain at an informal dance November 21, the night before our big game with Stanford. Immediately after the game an informal banquet will be held at the house in honor of alumni in town for the big struggle.

Chapter exponents of the National Pastime were eliminated in the first round of the inter-fraternity baseball tournament by the Kappa Nu delegation.

Bill Gould's pitching ability resulted in his being signed by the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast League.

Our Alumni Association holds weekly luncheons at "Gus' Place" on Post Street in San Francisco. These luncheons are held every Tuesday at noon.

Lambda Chapter started a new house custom at our last dance. The effect carried out was Oriental in nature. In accordance with this scheme a blank page from our history book was decorated with artistic Oriental figures by Art Herberger, house architect and foremost exponent of things artistic. During intermissions this sheet was signed by the brothers and their guests. The autographed page will be kept along with records of other house activities.

When the chimes ring out in the house living-room we cannot help but remember the class of '24. The active members owe an expression of appreciation to the last senior class for the clock and the photograph of our late brother, Dr. Whitten.

Merritt Rowland, Herb Hughes, and Newt Morris are on the staff of the Commercial, the College of Commerce magazine.

Bert Googins is on the sophomore managerial staff of the Blue and Gold, campus annual.

Art Thorsen was appointed on a committee for the Junior Prom and will play a part in the Junior Farce.

Gene Corbin was on the decoration committee for the Sophomore Hop.

Art Herberger and Bill Parry have been on several committees for dances at the new campus Masonic Club House. Bill is among the cast for "In Walked Jimmy," a Masonic Club dramatic production.

Tom Mixter and Turner Moncure were elected into Delta Sigma Pi, national commerce professional society.

Howard Elms made Delta Epsilon, foreign trade professional organization.

Dick Dickinson played tackle on the senior class football aggregation in the inter-class series.

The house is now represented in all men's debating societies. Bud Vaughn made Centuriata, Howdy Elms is in Senate, and Gardner Johnson is a member of Congress.

Turner Moncure was appointed a member of the Rally Committee. His selection is appreciated by the brothers as a result of his own efforts, and as a recognition of the house by the campus.

We are no longer the newest national fraternity at the University of California. Beta Kappa, Phi Pi Phi, and Theta Nu Epsilon have installed chapters here.

Appreciation of one's own good qualities is not always a virtue. Nevertheless, the house is proud in the knowledge that University authorities feel we are doing a good work. It is gratifying to have men like Deans Hildebrand and Elliott tell us frankly that they believe the house is doing good work, and is practicing those principles for which the fraternity stands.

Our plea is that the good work may go on. It is our desire that Kappa Delta Rho may always stand with those fraternities which are pointed out as having a constructive influence.

CHICAGO ALUMNI CHAPTER.

Annual Fall Banquet.

Kappa Deltas from several chapters assembled at the Central Y. M. C. A., Saturday, September 13, for the Annual Banquet. Twenty-eight men, representing Alpha, Epsilon, Eta and Theta chapters grouped themselves around the banquet tables for the feed.

Brother B. S. Garvey, Jr., Eta '21 surprised the boys by walking in on us at the beginning of the affair. He had just returned from serving a three year professorship in Wouchang University at Wouchang, China. No small amount of hand shaking and applause greeted Brother Ben!

Brother Hermann, skilled and able toastmaster, kindled the spark of enthusiasm which later grew into a blaze of good feeling and fellowship, in the form of informal talks and college stories. Brother Todd spoke of the founders of our organization. Brother Hermann mentioned Eta's participation in college activities at Illinois; and Brother Doud spoke of the Chicago Alumni Association's achievements.

After the dinner and business meeting several of the boys departed for their wives and sweethearts, later to enjoy themselves at the Illini Dance which was given at the Drake Hotel by the Chicago Illini Club.

Election of Officers.

Brother C. C. Hermann, Eta '20, formerly head of the Transportation Department of the University of Illinois, was elected President. Brother W. E. Flumerfelt, Beta '23 was unanimously elected Vice-President. For the office of Secretary-Treasurer, Bro. O. L. Doud, Eta '22, was reelected.

Wahlie Christiansen, Eta '24, is now employed by the Bowman Dairy Company. Wahlie doesn't drive a milk wagon!! He works in the executive offices.

We don't know where or when, but we do know that Brother J. H. Benson, Eta '22, recently became a married man.

The Secretary-Treasurer also finds himself in the same class. In this case the place was Chicago, the time was in June, and the bride was Miss Margaret Thompson of Paper City, Illinois.

—O. L. Doud, Eta '22, Secretary.

LOW VISIBILITY.

Simpkins considered himself a humorist. He sent a selection of his original jokes to the editor of a newspaper and confidently awaited a remittance. His excitement ran high when he received a letter, obviously from the newspaper office.

He opened it with feverish haste. There was no check, just a small note as follows:

"Dear Sir: Your jokes received. Some we have seen before; some we have not seen yet."
