From the President

As I am sure you are aware, this past May marked a momentous occasion in the history of our great fraternity, Kappa Delta Rho turned 100 years old! And, at this year's National Convention and William's Leadership Academy, members of our Brotherhood gathered together in Baltimore, MD to formally celebrate this milestone.

I must admit, I have never seen an Ordo Banquet quite like this one! With the procession of flags highlighting each state to host our convention, the induction of our founding fathers into the Ordo Honoris, and the recognition of the many former staff, board members, and foundation trustees, it was a very moving experience. Those in attendance also had the privilege of hearing the remarks of our keynote speaker, former National Executive Secretary, Ferd Ensinger, Alpha '45 (Middlebury College). If you weren't in Baltimore this summer, then you really missed out on something special and I would like to take this opportunity to formally thank J.R. Rees, McClain Clotfelter, Brian Graham, Steve Biser, J.C. Lopez, Sue McFarland, Patrick Byrne, Anthony Gralewski, Timothy Hadley, Brian Stumm, Chris Gordon, Jim Buterbaugh, Jerry Stebbins, Bob Lynd, and David Clark for all of their hard work on the Fraternity's Centennial Celebration. You know how to plan a party!

When I returned to Clarion after convention, word spread across campus that I had been elected national president. For the most part, I received congratulations and well wishes from the members of the university and surrounding communities who found out, but the reaction of one of my colleagues caught me a little off guard. He said he thought it was great that I was national president, but he didn't understand why I was still involved with KDR after having been out of school for 10 years. I asked him if he is a member of a fraternity and he said that he was when he was in college. I looked him straight in the eyes and said, "You were Greek? What are you, dead?" Then he started mumbling something about how he is still a member and then quickly changed the subject.

After that conversation, I got to wondering, how many of our alumni say, "I was a KDR when I was in college." The thought that some of our initiated members may be walking around thinking, feeling, and talking that way really saddens me. I think that what my colleague really wanted to say to me was, "Come on Shawn, you're a grown man. You're married and you've got kids. Why in the world are you still involved with a college fraternity?" My answer to this question is simple. "Because I said I would." As initiated members of the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho, we have all given our word that we will continue to support our Fraternity until we enter the Chapter Eternal. It's hard to put into words the feelings I experienced at the formal opening of this year's convention meeting, when all of those Brothers in attendance, from an Alpha alumnus from 1945 to the newest initiated undergraduate members, stood up together and reaffirmed their oath of membership.

You see, membership in Kappa Delta Rho is not a static thing. It's not a distant memory of good times gone by. It's not something you "were." Even if you can't get to convention or back to your chapter, participate in the ritual and formally reaffirm your oath, if you know what Honor Super Omnia means, then Kappa Delta Rho is part of who you are. I was speaking to undergraduate members at this year's convention and I asked them a simple question, "What does Honor Super Omnia mean?" Almost in unison they shouted out "Honor Above All Things." I said "No, that's what it translates to from Latin to English. What does it mean?" The room fell silent. I'm still involved with KDR because, as an alumnus, I get more out of my membership now than I ever could have imagined I would when I was an undergraduate. Kappa Delta Rho has moved from a group I belong to part of who I am because I have given a great deal of thought to what Honor Super Omnia means, I have taken it to heart and I try to incorporate it into my daily life. To me, Honor Super Omnia means "Do the right thing." What does it mean to you?

Fraternally,

Shawn M. Hoke, Phi Alpha '95

From the Executive Director

It certainly has been a monumental year for Kappa Delta Rho. During our Centennial year many chapters hosted events commemorating 100 years of Kappa Delta Rho. The Centennial Celebration was highlighted this past August at our National Convention in Baltimore, MD. This was my seventh National Convention, and I've never seen so many people leave as excited as I did in Baltimore. The event was an overwhelming success with hundreds of KDRs spanning generations and chapters in attendance. The convention, however, would have fallen short of expectations if we did not leave with a plan of action for the future of Kappa Delta Rho heading into our next century. With a sense of urgency in place, the Board of Directors, National Staff, and many of our volunteers left the convention with a distinct direction to take the Fraternity into the future.

With this direction in mind, the Board of Directors is working on an action plan for Kappa Delta Rho. Although aggressive in nature, this plan sets a very positive course of action for the future of the Fraternity. Many of the items interrelate and will allow Kappa Delta Rho to continue to be well-respected and a leader in the fraternity movement. I would like to highlight and share some of the items the board and various committees have been charged to work on.

The Education Committee has been charged to develop a comprehensive membership development program that, in addition to teaching new members about the history and structure of the Fraternity, will stress the values of the Fraternity and challenge all members to develop personally and professionally as members of Kappa Delta Rho. In today's environment, member education should not conclude with new member education. Member education needs to continue throughout one's involvement in the Fraternity and continue to add value and supplement each member's college experience. The goal of the comprehensive membership development program is to aid our members in development and education and give our members a leg up in the professional environment and in life when they graduate from college. Further development in our members will allow not only our members to prosper, but Kappa Delta Rho to prosper in turn.

The Alumni Affairs Committee has been charged to re-evaluate our current alumni programming model and possibly change the kinds of events we hold, from dinners and receptions to more family-oriented and multigenerational events. Furthermore, the committee has been charged with developing city and regional alumni associations to provide our alumni with more social, service, and professional development opportunities. A good example of an existing regional alumni association is the New Jersey KDR Association. Members who live in the New Jersey area can find out more about the alumni association and their events at www.kdrnj.com. In this issue of the Quill & Scroll you will also find a survey to gauge your interest level in involvement in KDR. Please complete the survey and return it to the National Headquarters. When we were all initiated, we took a lifetime oath to Kappa Delta Rho. As a National Fraternity we are committed to finding new ways to reach out to our alumni and keep you involved and engaged in the Fraternity.

In an effort to continue to help our active chapters, the board has created two ad hoc committees to address different means to advise chapters. The first committee will be made up of current and former chapter advisors in an effort to find ways to recruit, retain, and train on-site advisors for all of our chapters. Chapter advisors are critical to the long-term success of a chapter. They provide a mature influence on students as well as bring more seasoned life experiences that most college students don't have. The committee will work to assess the needs of advisors and continue to develop training models for new and current advisors. Additionally, a committee is being formed to review the Regional Senators Program that was in place a number of years ago in hopes to re-establish the program and give our chapters support from the National Fraternity in their regions in addition to the support the National Staff provides during chapter visits. The more support and guidance our chapters have on all levels, the greater the chance of long-term sustained excellence in our chapters.

In addition to working with our chapters on recruitment, finances, and chapter operations during visitations, the National Staff has been charged with developing a Chapter Assessment Program to act as a benchmark and guide to our chapters as to expectations for chapters of the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho. This program will be based on a similar program developed by Brother Matt Lenno, Alpha Beta '95 (University of Delaware) and will provide goals and standards for chapters to reach in all facets of chapter operations. These include, but aren't limited to, academics, member education and programming, recruitment, chapter finances, social service, campus involvement, community involvement, alumni relations, risk management, ritual, and values. By giving our chapters stated expectations of Kappa Delta Rho chapters, it allows our chapters to have a guide to use in setting their goals and activities.

Finally, in a more esoteric initiative, an ad hoc committee has been formed to create a document entitled the "Precepts of Kappa Delta Rho." This document will act as a supplement to Credo, which was written by George Shaw, Alpha '10 (Middlebury College). The purpose of the Precepts of Kappa Delta Rho will be to provide a public document that reinforces the values of

Kappa Delta Rho as stated in our ritual. This document will allow the world to know what Kappa Delta Rho stands for and what it means to be a member of the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho. Along with our motto Honor Super Omnia and our ritual, the precepts can act as a guiding light to our members across generations – as well as all active chapters and new members.

These items are only a part of the action plan that the Board of Directors is working on. Although it is an aggressive plan, I personally believe it is manageable and will help guide Kappa Delta Rho into our second century while building on a successful past and allow us to be even more prosperous in the future. It's an exciting and eventful time to be a member of Kappa Delta Rho — let's build on this excitement and charge into our second century!

NEW NATIONAL FRATERNITY STAFF

attended Robert Morris University where he majored in sport management. He pledged Kappa Delta Rho the first semester of his freshman year in 2001. During his time as an undergraduate he served many positions including consul. He was active in many groups on campus including IFC, the Sport Management Association and was a member of the Order of Omega. Steve also was awarded the RMU Greek Man of the Year as well as the KDR Senior of the Year in 2005. In his spare time Steve enjoys photography and watching sports.

LEADERSHIP CONSULTANT J.C. LOPEZ attended Edinboro University of Pennsylvania where he majored in applied media arts concentrating in graphic design. He became a member of Kappa Delta Rho, Kappa Beta Chapter, in the fall 2001. As an undergraduate member he served in various officer positions such as consul, junior tribune, praetor and inter-fraternity representative. Some of his campus involvement included positions as vice president of homecoming, and vice president of recruitment on Edinboro's Inter-Fraternity Council, member of Order of Omega, New Student Orientation leader, Hispanic Summer Leadership Program facilitator, Latino Student Organization member, and Edinboro University Homecoming King. After his experience as a leadership consultant for the National Office he is planning on continuing his education, attending graduate school for student affairs in higher education or marketing.

Phi Beta Chapter, College of William and Mary

Building on the Successes of the Past

WILLIAM AND MARY'S undergraduate population stands at 5,500 students, with most fraternities tending to draw from the same pool of individuals. As such, we have needed a way to distinguish ourselves from other fraternities. Most rushees are acquainted with the achievements of our chapter and our Brothers on campus, but we have always found that giving prospective members an opportunity to meet brothers as individuals was our best option. "We've really worked to get rushees to become friends of individual brothers, who then introduced them to the chapter as a whole," states Patrick Walsh '07, senior tribune. "Our goal for recruitment is to have every Brother find and recruit one person whom he would like as a little Brother. By recruiting in this way, each prospective member has someone who is both a friend and a sponsor before the pledge period even begins." These strategies have allowed us over the past few years to transform our chapter from a small cadre of about 25 brothers into our current Brotherhood of more than twice that size.

What exactly is it that distinguishes us from other fraternities at William and Mary? Perhaps our alumnus Brian Ahnmark, '03, put it best, "When you look at William and Mary's sparse campus searching for diversity, where do you find it? Here, at KDR. Where else can an ardent Calvinist and an iconoclastic atheist sit down, argue furiously for two hours about their views, then smile and shake hands as Brothers?" Or, to borrow the simple words of neonate Ryan Bonnette, '08, "I just felt comfortable the very first time I came to KDR." That atmosphere of comfort and safety, often commented upon by rushees and guests, is engendered by all our Brothers. It comes from the attitude of respect and courtesy that we extend to each other as Brothers and to everyone else as guests and friends.

Certainly the successes of our past and our hope for the future do not rest entirely upon intangibles. The manner in which we interact with our campus and

WE ALL KNOW the old expression about what to do when life gives you lemons. The men of Zeta Chapter know it a little better than most. In just one year, with the support of their alumni volunteers, they overcame tremendous obstacles to get their chapter back on track and thriving.

Following a fight with another fraternity during Homecoming Weekend 2004, Zeta Chapter was placed on provisional status. Thirty members of the chapter were officially placed on alumni status, meaning they were forbidden to participate actively with the undergraduate chapter. With a little more than 20 active members remaining, most of them freshmen and sophomores, the chapter banded together under the leadership of Consul Joe Flynn, '07, and set a plan in motion to rebuild and revitalize.

Below are just a few of their achievements over the past year:

- Reorganized the Executive Board and chapter leadership to set and enforce new standards for all members; held a summer retreat for leadership to conduct planning for the academic year.

greater community has always been one of our chapter's strengths. Three years ago, several of our members were pushing to increase our visibility on campus. This was accomplished by directing our time toward philanthropy and the service of others, in the form of supporting Up 'Til Dawn (UTD), an organization that coordinates the fundraising efforts of various groups on campus to benefit St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Our determination in the first year of participation led to UTD recognizing our chapter for raising the most money of any group on campus. The very nature of the UTD fundraising activities gave brothers an avenue for social interaction and an opportunity to better make our presence better known. Additionally, two Brothers applied for and received positions on the UTD executive board affording new opportunities for directorial experience.

In another recent example of the philanthropic spirit within our chapter, several of our service-oriented brothers wanted to help the Hurricane Relief Fund and did so by resurrecting the almost extinct KDRdiGras party. By throwing a Mardi Gras-themed party with beads distributed at the front door, we received more than $360 in donations from guests and hosted a safe and enjoyable party.

Our presence on campus is not only limited to philanthropy. In recent years, the chapter has become heavily involved with the Council for Fraternity Affairs (CFA). This has allowed the chapter to craft Greek policy, interact with the College's administration, and lead the Greek community. Currently, two brothers sit on the council's Executive Board holding the positions of PR chairman and judicial chairman.

A great deal of credit for our successes belongs to those who have come before us. "Our alumni have been an incredible boon to our house," says Proprietor Michael Canestrari, '06. "Their first great contribution was the strong foundation of our young chapter, which they laid while they were undergraduates. The second is their incredible interest and willingness to help the house with everything from advice to physical labor. In certain ways our alumni have not changed since they were brothers—they still have all the drive and willingness to help that they did as undergraduates, only now they have more experience and better means to contribute."

Communication above all else is key to insuring strong alumni participation. In addition to traditional E-mail, mail, and meetings we have an alumni-moderated Yahoo group and even a recently created alumni group on www.thefacebook.com. For some of our most successful programs, such as our annual Career Roundtable and our new Alumni/Brother Mentoring Program, alumni immediately start galvanizing each other once the particulars of the event are set. We have come to count heavily on our alumni and they have always delivered.

Our policy and the seed of our greatest successes have always been to give brothers free range to explore and initiate projects that interest them. As former Consul BJ Gaessner, '02, once said, "If you have an idea, bring it up to the Brotherhood. If it seems like a worthwhile endeavor, we'll help you obtain your goal. Don't limit your achievements by limiting yourself." Based off Brother initiative and our past successes, the chapter hopes to continue its work in the field of philanthropy, Greek leadership, and success in the field of recruitment, and in so doing challenge ourselves to be better.

- Recruited 28 new members from fall 2004 to fall 2005.
- Achieved 3.0 cumulative brotherhood GPA for the previous two semesters.
- Organized the chapter's first-ever Community Day, an innovative project that included house tours and meet-and-greets for community members; the project received accolades from Penn State's Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life.
- Raised $150K for THON, Penn State's major philanthropy event, placing fifth overall among fraternities; and added a new community service project through the local YMCA that partners active brothers with elementary school students for an after-school recreational program.
- Opened lines of communication with the National Headquarters, local alumni, and Penn State University Interfraternity Council through weekly and monthly meetings.

- Received no point violations with the borough during the past year.

During the past year, Zeta alumni have rallied around the chapter, offering support, guidance, and motivation. At Homecoming 2005, the Alumni Board announced the public launch of a capital fundraising project to complete major renovations to their house. Alumni from '50s through the '90s complimented the actives on the condition of the house, their demeanor and their tremendous accomplishments.

A highlight at this year's Homecoming was the restoration of the stained glass windows that distinguish KDR from other fraternity houses at Penn State. They looked exceptionally bright, thanks to the sunny afternoon. If the past year is any indication, Zeta's future will be even brighter.

THE 95TH NATIONAL CONVENTION

Racing into Kappa Delta Rho's Second Century

July 20-23, 2006

Hyatt Regency Indianapolis
Indianapolis, IN

The 2006 Kappa Delta Rho National Convention and Williams Leadership Academy returns to the crossroads of America in Indianapolis, IN. The Indianapolis downtown area holds many activities and events that guests, families, and Brothers can enjoy while attending the National Convention. There are more than 700 KDR alumni in the Indianapolis area, so come catch up with old friends and meet new ones as KDR races into its second century. Highlights of the event include the Elmon Williams Undergraduate and Alumni Leadership Academy, a local area alumni event, the National Convention Business Meeting, and the Ordo Honoris Banquet. For more information contact the National Headquarters at (800) 536-5371 or go to www.kdr.com

INDIANAPOLIS AREA ALUMNI EVENT

On Wednesday evening, September 14, 2005, KDR hosted an alumni event for the Indianapolis area alumni. More than 40 brothers and guests enjoyed refreshments, great conversation, and an update on KDR and the Greek System in general. Several brothers who had not seen each other in nearly forty years were reacquainted.

Brother Ken Beckley, Nu '62, CEO of the Indiana University Alumni Association, was the keynote speaker. Ken spoke about trends in the Greek system in general and how they were reflected at Indiana in particular. He shared good insights on his experiences in KDR and how they have impacted him throughout his life.

All in attendance agreed it was an enjoyable evening and agreed they look forward to another event next year.

Kappa Delta Rho's William's Leadership Academy and National Convention will take place in Indianapolis July 19-23, 2006. An alumni event will be held on Friday evening, July 21.

Dick Gilette, Nu '49 and Hap Dragoo, Nu '49 enjoy the Indianapolis area alumni event in September.

100 YEARS of KAPPA DELTA RHO

The celebration continued this summer in honor of 100 years of Kappa Delta Rho National Fraternity at the world-renowned Inner Harbor neighborhood of Baltimore, MD, during August 4–7 at our 94th National Convention and Elmon Williams Leadership Academy.

Excitement was upon all as undergraduates and alumni began to arrive and fill the Wyndham Hotel. With letters welcoming our Fraternity from President George W. Bush and Governor Ehrlich of Maryland, the roughly 250 attendees were ready to participate with pride.

Academy Facilitators: Bradley, Stebbins, Willis, Zapata, Tartaro, Rammel, Kapell, Whitcoe, and Lenno.

Kappa Delta Rho's National President, Joshua Smith, Alpha Beta '93 (University of Delaware) welcomed the array of undergraduate delegates who represented their chapter and announced the commencement of the Leadership Academy. During the academy, undergraduate delegates took part in varying lectures by presenters, were introduced to fraternity and leadership topics, and had roundtable discussions. Among the keynote speakers were NIC Board of Director Rick Barnes who presented "Leading with Your Letters" and "Drink Think" as well as TKE alumnus Brian Bates of the Laurus Group who presented "Marketing 101: How to be Successful in Recruitment" and "What Alumni Want to Know", along with Ed King's presentation of "The Secret Thoughts of Ritual." Kappa Delta Rho Leadership Consultants A. McClain Clotfelter, Epsilon '04 (Franklin College) and Brian Graham, Epsilon '04 (Franklin College), worked with undergraduate delegates on a "KDR Ritual Workshop" and how to maintain proper communication with the National Office. Shawn Hoke, Phi Alpha '95 (Clarion University) also gave a presentation on how to correct apathy within the organization.

Throughout the academy and in between presentations, the undergraduate attendees were divided into smaller groups to converse on the topics that were covered by the presenters allowing for open discussions including important topics relating to Kappa Delta Rho, and leadership in all organizations. A well-rounded group of nine facilitators composed of Jon Kapell, Eta Beta '95 (West Chester University); Gerald Stebbins, Phi Alpha '88 (Clarion University); Wm. Scott Bradley, Zeta Beta '99 (Tarleton State University); Douglas M. Rammel, Pi Alpha '90 (University of Toledo); Peter Tartaro, Lambda Beta '00 (James Madison University); Ben Willis, Zeta Beta '99 (Tarleton State University); Matthew Lenno, Alpha Beta '95 (University of Delaware); Jorge Zapata, Zeta Beta '98 (Tarleton State University), and Chris Whitcoe, Alpha Beta '96 (University of Delaware) all provided excellent leadership as alumni facilitators. As facilitators, they were able to guide their groups on topics and initiate discussions, their contribution to the leadership academy was invaluable.

Alumni members and chapter advisors were also given the chance to attend and participate in Alumni and Advisor Programming during the convention. The seminar covered a variety of topics such as Housing Management, Recruiting Alumni Volunteers, Roles of Advisors, and Alumni Corporation Financial management. The day of topics helped to establish ways to continue the lifelong brotherhood and involvement of alumni and advisors.

On August 4, attendees had the opportunity to hear Kappa Delta Rho Foundation President Thomas McComb, Nu '59 (Indiana University) and Director of Development William J. Paris, Eta '87 (University of Illinois) unveil the Centennial Recognition Program (CRP) — a campaign for the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation and the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho, Inc. The program will financially support the educational, leadership, and character development programs undertaken by the National Fraternity. For more information visit www.kdrfoundation.org

On Friday, August 5, the Casino Night/Alumni Event went extremely well. Alumni and family members enjoyed games and hors d'oeuvres with the opportunity to share stories with new friends and catch up with old ones. With Casino Night, some great prizes were given out to top "money" winners at events such as Texas Hold 'Em and Roulette.

Saturday began with the annual business meeting of the National Fraternity. Reports were given regarding to Fraternity's activities from 2004-2005 as well as goals for the 2005-2006 school year.

During the Kappa Delta Rho Scholarship Luncheon, more than $50,000 in scholarships were presented, a collection and donation of toys were made for Johns Hopkins Children's Center to representative Kristen Knok who graciously accepted the more than 200 presents that were brought by attendees. The toys will be used for birthday gifts as well as for weekly bingo prizes at the hospital. It was a great way for KDR Kids to make an impact on Baltimore, MD.

As the convention began to come to an end, one event was left — the highly anticipated Centennial Ordo Honoris Banquet. Each female attendee was escorted with a red rose by a group of select undergraduate members, while each brother was given a commemorative slate replica of our original coat of arms resembling the Ratti Stone. The opening ceremony began with the traditional flag procession. Ferd B. Ensinger, Alpha '45 (Middlebury College), former national executive secretary, and distinguished alumnus was our keynote speaker for the evening. His riveting speech stressed motivation, fight, understanding, and encouragement. He reflected on KDR's distinguished and celebrated history and charged all members to continue the traditions that made KDR great, and focus on the values of KDR to enrich the lives of our members.

During the Ordo Honoris Banquet, chapters and individuals were recognized for their achievements during the 2004-2005 school year. Sherri Hall was awarded the Outstanding Chapter Advisor Award. Matt Ham from the Eta Chapter at the University of Illinois was the recipient of the Outstanding Pledge Award. Steve Biser from the Eta Alpha Chapter at Robert Morris University was awarded the Outstanding Senior Award. The Eta Beta and Phi Beta Chapters at West Chester University and the College of William and Mary, respectively, were recipients of an O.D. Roberts Award for Chapter Improvement. The Epsilon Chapter at Franklin College received the Grand Consul's Award given to the National Chapter of the Year.

The highest honor Kappa Delta Rho awards a member is induction into the Ordo Honoris, the Order of Honor. This year our ten founders were inducted into the Ordo Honoris as the Omega Class. Ten shadow boxes representing each founder along with a biography of their accomplished lives and hard work were unveiled during the ceremony. The Omega Class consisted of:

Thomas H. Bartley, Alpha '07
John Beecher, Alpha '09
Irving T. Coates, Alpha '08
Pierce W. Darrow, Alpha '11
Benjamin E. Farr, Alpha '08
George E. Kimball, Alpha '06
Gideon R. Norton, Alpha '09
Gino A. Ratti, Alpha '07
Chester M. Walch, Alpha '08
Roy D. Wood, Alpha '08

The evening concluded by recognizing a century's worth of dedicated volunteers and staff members, without whom, Kappa Delta Rho would not have reached the 100 year milestone. Each current or former fraternity director, fraternity staff member, and foundation trustee who was in attendance was recognized with a commemorative medal of service. Additionally, commemorative plaques were unveiled with each former director, trustee, or staff member's name and years of service to Kappa Delta Rho. These plaques will be on permanent display at the Fraternity's National Headquarters.

- Eta Chapter, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

OUTSTANDING ADVISOR Sherri Hall, Epsilon Chapter advisor, Franklin College

Early in the 2004-2005 academic year, the recipient of this award assumed the responsibilities of chapter advisor, taking over for Lori Neff. Sherri Hall attends nearly every weekly chapter meeting, providing the membership with valuable information and guidance. She is very active outside of chapter meetings, supporting the chapter at philanthropic events and even intra-chapter sporting events. Most importantly, she has become active in the individual lives of the chapter members, providing academic guidance and taking a personal interest in the lives and passions of chapter members. The chapter has benefited greatly from her service. She has continued the standard of strong leadership that her predecessor had established, and her guidance has helped the chapter to maintain its success.

OUTSTANDING PLEDGE Matthew Ham, Eta Chapter, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

The recipient of the outstanding pledge award pledged in the fall of 2004 and was active from the time he accepted his bid. While serving as the serenade chairman of his pledge class, he orchestrated what is claimed to be one of the greatest serenades in his chapter's history. He coordinated efforts to have Brothers participate in a local fundraising walk for the National Association for the Mentally Ill, and was part of a chapter team in Relay for Life that raised over one thousand dollars for cancer research and relief. He is a member of the campus republicans, the economics club, and the caucus for conservative action, just to name a few. During his pledging semester, he achieved a GPA of 3.24 on a 4-point scale while studying for a political science degree.

OUTSTANDING SENIOR Stephen J. Biser, Eta Alpha Chapter, Robert Morris University

Brotherhood is something in which the recipient of this award truly believes and is something he tried to spread throughout his chapter. He promoted the Greek system within different organizations at his university as well as within his own chapter. He assumed the office of Consul during the worst financial status in his chapter's history. Since then, he helped his chapter to reduce its debt by approximately $7,000. Without his constant guidance, his university could have lost the Kappa Delta Rho chapter. Upon graduation, Brother Biser began working for the National Fraternity as a leadership consultant.

O.D. ROBERTS AWARDS FOR CHAPTER IMPROVEMENT

Phi Beta Chapter, College of William and Mary

The Phi Beta Chapter definitely bettered itself over the 2004-2005 academic year, it should be noted though that this chapter has shown steady, significant improvement over the past few years. The achievements of this chapter both in the past year and in previous years are many and varied. The chapter's successes are probably best described by the College's Greek coordinator: "The Kappa Delta Rho chapter at the College of William and Mary has been a remarkable anchor within the fraternity and sorority community. In all areas they continue to show progress, growth, and a commitment toward continued excellence. They demonstrate effective chapter operations and involved and engaged officers who participate actively in the overall community. They have grown remarkably in membership numbers in the past few years — but while growing in size have lost none of the attributes of the close-knit and connected Brotherhood in which they take so much pride. They are most well known amongst their interfraternal brothers and sisters on campus for their campus involvement and can always be counted on for the most active participation possible in any community philanthropic event. As the campus advisor, the men of the chapter are a complete delight to work with for their commitment to be men of integrity, their commitment to improve their chapter, and the support of the overall Greek community on campus"

Eta Beta Chapter, West Chester University

The Eta Beta Chapter showed great improvement over the 2004-2005 academic year. After facing risk management, financial, and disciplinary issues over the course of the past couple of years, the Eta Beta chapter turned the corner. It improved communication with its alumni with a redesigned webpage and by publishing a chapter newsletter for the first time in a number of years. The chapter reopened the lines of communication with the National Headquarters and worked to revamp chapter operations and community service programs. Finally the chapter, while facing financial difficulties decreased its debt to the National Fraternity by over $1,000.

GRAND CONSUL AWARD Epsilon Chapter, Franklin College

Our chapter of the year epitomizes living by the values of Kappa Delta Rho and serves as a model for its entire campus and Kappa Delta Rho by placing honor above all things. The chapter excelled in all facets of operations including recruitment, scholarship, service, and campus involvement. This excellence is highlighted by the fact that it either won or placed in no fewer than seven categories of chapter awards.

Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Rho Society (Middlebury College)

The fall of 2005 has been a lively and productive semester in Middlebury. Having been invigorated by the experience of hosting a centennial celebration last spring, KDR members went about the business of improving and strengthening the chapter with enthusiasm and vigor. After being faced with new social regulations imposed on us by the state of Vermont, social events run with ease through improved organization and dedication. Homecoming brought a welcome tide of alumni from all over the country. From John Hanlon's patented behind the back slam serve, to Eric Rygg and Mary Gerrie's tardy departure, a good time was had by all.

This fall has also brought the chapter a strong and dedicated pledge class. As they approach the half way point of the pledge process, the members can already see and appreciate the positive impact they will have on the future of KDR. To any and all Alpha Chapter Alumni who are reading this: visit soon!

Beta Chapter (Cornell University)

It's already been a busy semester for the Beta Chapter. August marked the unveiling of a newly renovated kitchen, designed and constructed by two active Brothers. In September, after Hurricane Katrina took its toll on the Gulf Coast, the chapter mobilized quickly to raise funds for the Red Cross relief efforts by selling Livestrong-style rubber bracelets on campus. Meanwhile, the chapter pulled off a stunning victory in Cornell University's Greek Week competition. Later that month, the chapter took on a single pledge for the semester. Cornell University enforces deferred recruitment, and the chapter's recruitment list for the spring semester has many bright and capable men with great potential to become KDR gentlemen. Homecoming was a very exciting time, as the chapter welcomed many returning alumni and watched Cornell dismantle Georgetown 57-7. The chapter continues to grow as a strong, dynamic Brotherhood.

Epsilon Chapter (Franklin College)

After being highly decorated at last year's campus Greek Awards ceremony and this summer's National Convention, the Epsilon Chapter began the school year with a great deal of momentum. In spite of some adverse circumstances, the chapter has continued to grow and advance. In September, formal recruitment brought the addition of six exceptional new men. As always, Homecoming was a week filled with excitement and Brotherhood. Paired with Zeta Tau Alpha, a lively Kappa Delta Rho made a strong showing in the annual spirit competitions and was victorious in the house decorating contest. Moreover, for the first time, the chapter put on a pancake breakfast before the Homecoming football game, raising nearly $200 for the Franklin Boys and Girls Club. The chapter is looking forward to a strong close to the fall semester, a fruitful retreat in January, and the initiation of new Brothers in February.

CHAPTER NEWS

Zeta Chapter

(Penn State University)

The Zeta Chapter has made many positive strides towards success over the past 10 months. Most notably, the Brotherhood thought up an innovative new event called KDR Community Day. It is an all day event in which the entire community, both Greeks and non-Greeks alike are invited to the chapter house for a BBQ, car wash, and tour of the house. This first annual event also featured a dunk tank where you could "dunk a brother". Donation cans were placed around the house as well for anyone who wanted to make a donation to the Hurricane Katrina relief. Although heavy rains put a damper on the event, the Brotherhood is excited to continue the tradition next semester. Other recent achievements of the chapter include being ranked ninth out of more than 50 Fraternities in Intramural sports, raising over $150,000 for children with cancer, and maintaining an overall chapter GPA of 3.0.

Eta Chapter (University of Illinois)

The Eta Chapter is proceeding to go about business as usual, quite well. The chapter has 15 new members this fall. Each one of them looks to have a bright and brilliant future in this chapter. There is more potential in this pledge class than has been seen in the recent history of the chapter. Official recruitment being done, the chapter has moved into a nice blend of activities. The social calendar has started and is one of the best thanks to the efforts of Nick Sotor, Joe Roth, Dave Sexauer and many others. Intramurals are nearing playoffs and once again the flag football and soccer teams stand ready to challenge for titles in their respective divisions. Thank to the members of both teams for bringing much pride to the Fraternity. Homecoming was a huge success this fall, thanks to the centennial and efforts of the dedicated alumni board. More alumni attended this year than the last three combined. Thanks to Bill Paris and Ted Childress especially for making Homecoming successful. The chapter looks to return to the top five chapters scholastically on the University of Illinois campus after a year's absence. The competition between all more than fifty chapters is stiff but the chapter will improve its standing yet again. A future project is the re-founding of a few Midwest chapters that have been inactive for some time. With help already coming from the National Headquarters, KDR is trying to build off of our success to spread Kappa Delta Rho to schools where men of our character attend.

Theta Chapter (Purdue University)

The Theta Chapter is working to improve in many new areas including better alumni relations and improved philanthropies. To that end, the chapter began a phone drive last month for Purdue's Grand Prix race, and began a Canned Food Drive which the chapter is coordinating with their local neighborhood and other sororities and fraternities. The chapter added nine pledges to a house of sixteen, with no graduating seniors. In addition to the chapter's immediate successes, preparations are being made to increase stability and ensure the chapter's long-term success.

Iota Chapter (Bucknell University)

The Iota Chapter has recently completed a successful recruitment campaign, adding 20 new members. This continues a trend of excellent recruitment in the chapter after receiving a recruitment award at this year's National Convention. The chapter has already hosted one of its community service and philanthropy events this semester, the Chili Cook-off. This year the chapter raised $1,200 for the Red Cross to benefit the victims of Hurricane Katrina and is planning a bowl-a-thon for Camp Victory, a local camp for terminally ill children. This year the chapter has spent a lot of time renovating the exterior of their house, including a new deck and a massive landscaping renovation.

Lambda Chapter (University of California at Berkeley)

University of California Berkeley is known to be one of the more liberal schools in the United States. In such an environment, the university has given the students the right to form their own groups that are officially recognized by the University of California. Some of these groups include the Hurricane Katrina Coalition and Hawaii Club. As part of the university, the Brothers of the Lambda Chapter are involved in a wide variety of such clubs, and contribute a great deal of time to community and academic involvement. Some of the engineering majors in the house are part of the Industrial Engineering Honors Society, Institute of Industrial Engineers, Electrical Engineering and Computer Science Honors Society. Four brothers are involved in the military, and are part of the Navy Reserve, Army Reserve, and Marine Corps Reserve. Two of them are part of the Reserve Officer Training Corps on campus (Army and Navy). Some Brothers are part of the Campus Police (UCPD) and work as Campus Safety Officers, which involve patrolling and escorting people throughout the night. Numerous Brothers are part of the ASUC - The Associated Students of the University of California. Essentially, ASUC is student government. One of the Brothers is the Berkeley Academic Affairs Vice President. Some Brothers are also involved in crew, as well as the Asian Business Association.

The chapter benefits from such a diverse involvement from each of her members. Everyone always has something different to bring to the table, and that is what makes the Lambda Chapter unique.

"It were not best that we should all think alike; it is difference of opinion that makes horse races."

-Mark Twain

This semester the chapter put up a haunted house for the Berkeley Middle School children. Morphing the house into a set of dark and creepy tunnels was definitely a bonding experience. Nothing is more fulfilling than having to scare the living daylight out of an unsuspecting nine year-old and seeing their expression in the process. Only then do you know that your haunted house is truly doing its job.

CHAPTER NEWS

Nu Chapter (Indiana University)

Nu Chapter is at a pivotal point where its very survival rests on the actions of 11 Brothers. Many Brothers will be graduating in the forthcoming year making it critical that the chapter have a strong recruitment. After an unexpectedly dissatisfying formal recruitment, the future of Nu looked grim. When hope was a luxury that appeared unaffordable, a 'do or die' mentality gave rise to one of the strongest executive boards Nu Chapter recently seen. Nu has reformed previously poor and inefficient planning with new and improved standards for committee meetings, recruitment, and pledge education. As it stands, Nu will likely replace every graduating senior with an underclassman ready to make his mark as a Brother of Kappa Delta Rho. A newly reformed Alumni Corporation has been focusing its efforts on providing a house for Nu Chapter, which will possibly boost membership and campus recognition beyond what Nu has seen in years. Among many events this semester, Nu has done service at the Indianapolis Marathon, hosted the Brothers of the Eta Chapter in the IU Homecoming game against Illinois, and has plans to do service for a local philanthropy Toys-For-Tots. There will also be a winter-formal for Brothers and alumni held in early December. For additional information on Nu Chapter and its events, go to the newly renovated website at www.indiana.edu/~kdrho.

Psi Chapter (Lycoming College)

The Brothers have been extremely busy during the fall semester with high levels of motivation. They have been focused on recruitment but have also begun pin-pointing community service and philanthropy as their designated area of specialization. Having participated in multiple events and assisted other organizations such as Helping Hands, Central Susquehanna Health Walk, and at Ronald McDonald House. During Lycoming Colleges "Hall Crawl," the Brotherhood hosted a KDR-Auction with dates for the highest bidder, who also won an "I Heart KDR" t-shirt. This Homecoming many alumni attended a BBQ during the football game and after by the quad. It was good to reconnect with alumni members and help establish new ones. The Brothers of the Psi Chapter also won the Homecoming dodgeball championship out competing all campus organizations, and showing their competitive edge. During the pep rally, the annual Mr. & Miss Lycoming competition took place where the chapter won by outstanding audience approval. The chapter is also excited to announce its new Faculty Advisor Andrew Kilpatrick, and looks forward to the upcoming semester.

Rho Chapter (Lafayette College)

The Rho Chapter sent four Brothers to the National Convention this summer and each Brother felt it was a valuable educational experience. The chapter took home four awards from convention that include a second place in Intramural Sports, third place in Outstanding Newsletter, first place in Outstanding Philanthropics, as well as an award for Outstanding Recruitment. The Rho Chapter welcomed 19 new brothers into the fraternity for the fall semester. These new brothers represent and will strive to uphold the principals of Kappa Delta Rho.

The chapter recently had a very successful homecoming weekend, welcoming back around 50 brothers. The chapter is always happy to have alumni return to campus. A large group of alumni to return is expected to return for the Lafayette Lehigh football game.

Tau Chapter (Carnegie Mellon University)

The Tau Chapter continues to shine after a highly successful fall recruitment of 12 new pledges. The chapter recently organized and ran a highly successful Katrina Relief Soccer Tournament. This success is nothing new to the chapter, which took home a total of seven trophies during the spring in the campus' three highly competitive interfraternity events: Buggy, Greek Sing, and Booth, winning first place in the latter two. With an ever-increasing membership and a highly victorious year behind them, the chapter looks forward to continued accomplishment in the eyes of the Carnegie Mellon community.

Alpha Alpha Chapter (Lock Haven University)

Things have been going well for the Alpha Alpha Chapter this semester. The chapter had a successful Homecoming weekend with a high turnout of alumni. They have implemented an intense recruitment policy and things are looking up for the spring semester. The chapter scheduled a work weekend with the alumni on the weekend of November 12. It is also working numerous fundraisers to combat the current debt to the National Fraternity. The chapter has also completed more than 30 hours of community service with two more events planned, and has also created the gentlemanly scholar award to honor lost brother Matthew Van Pelt.

Eta Alpha Chapter (Robert Morris University)

The Eta Alpha Chapter is extremely excited about the start of this year and overall status of the Fraternity. Some of the projects that were completed include raising money for the ONE organization by selling bracelets, charity poker tournament that benefited the Miracle Baseball League for Disabled Children, hosted a Juice "Flip Cup" for Alcohol Awareness Week, among many others. The Brothers also completed more than 150 hours of community service by volunteering at such places as the "Run Like Hell" Marathon, Mariner Health Senior Citizen Home, tutoring children at a local school, plus many more. Despite spending a lot of time off campus assisting the community, Eta Alpha was able to win the Intramural Softball Championship with a perfect 9-0 record. The Defenders of the Orange and Blue also finished second in Dodge Ball and Team Handball. With regards to rushing, the chapter was able to start the pledge process with seven potential gentlemen. The first weekend of October brought the biggest alumni turnout for Homecoming in Eta Alpha history. The Brothers are continuing to push forward with great expectations in the coming months.

Pi Alpha Chapter (University of Toledo)

The Pi Alpha Chapter has been very busy this past semester. In early August, Pi Alpha officially formed an Alumni Corporation, and this October it held its first major event. In celebration of Homecoming festivities the corporation sponsored an Alumni Brotherhood Cookout before the annual homecoming football game. The actives really enjoyed bonding and networking with the alumni, and it was really nice to see some familiar faces. The chapter has also been very active in planning philanthropies, one in particular at the Sunset Home for the Elderly, where spending time with residents gave the chapter a sense of pride in the outlying Toledo community. The chapter is also proud to report that all of the Brothers are involved in at least one or more outside campus organizations. The Brothers look forward to planning our upcoming fundraiser "Candlelight under the Stars with your favorite KDRs," and continue to uphold the fraternal motto...Honor Super Omnia.

Upsilon Alpha Chapter (St. Louis University)

The fall semester is going great for Upsilon Alpha Chapter. Brothers came into the school year in need of a good recruitment. After a week of fun events and many new faces the chapter came home with six strong pledges. The chapter is actively trying to increase its service to the community by getting involved in the Campus Kitchen project and recently participated in SLU's "Make a Difference Day." Continuing the tradition of strong alumni involvement, Alumni Weekend kicked off with a Cardinal's game followed the next day by the annual alumni golf tournament. During this weekend the chapter and Alumni Corporation participated in a photo shoot for St. Louis University because of the Alumni's generous donation of $10,000 to the SLU Arena Fund. For supporting the school's endeavor, Upsilon Alpha Chapter will receive a paver stone in the main entrance of the new arena. Chapter members would like to thank the Alumni Corporation for their support and dedication.

Epsilon Beta Chapter (Old Dominion University)

This has been a very accomplishing and exciting semester for the Epsilon Beta Chapter. After numerous recruitment events KDR was proud to pin four potential brothers. Everyone enjoyed his pledging experience and is anxious to be initiated as Brothers of Kappa Delta Rho. Homecoming was an exhilarating week for KDR. The chapter teamed up with Alpha Xi Delta, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Gamma Rho to create a float for the parade, hoping to make the best float in the parade and show their monarch pride. That week included a fundraising event for KDR, be a "Car Bash." The event took place at Kauffman Mall on November 15. The money will be used for Relay for Life taking place next semester. Another fundraising event KDR has participated in is working at Coldstone Creamery. Brothers helped make ice cream dishes and hand out flyers at the door. The event was a huge success and the Brothers look forward to working there again. KDR has been quite busy this semester in regards to community service. The Brothers have volunteered in Adopt a Spot, Adopt a Street, and at CHKD. Also, KDR is trying to give as much back to the community as it can. Finally, KDR is planning an Alumni Barbeque and also a Family Barbeque next semester. These two events will show the alumni of KDR how their chapter is doing and how much they have accomplished. The Family Barbeque is for the family of all the Brothers to come down to campus and meet all the Brothers and enjoy a lunch together. This event was done last year and was a huge success. Brothers look forward to a rewarding and busy spring 2006 semester and are pleased with all that has been done this semester.

Zeta Beta Chapter (Tarleton State University)

This semester is going very well for the Zeta Beta Chapter. When fall recruitment rolled around, the chapter was reluctant to try for a large pledge class due to the last two fall semesters of 24 and 25 pledges. However, recruiting was exceptional. More than half of the active chapter is involved in organizations other than KDR, which boosted KDR's dominance and image to the incoming recruitment class. When the week was over KDR came out with a record at TSU with bidding 32 and receiving 31 new pledges out of a 91-person recruitment class. Zeta Beta is now the largest male student organization on a campus with 125 organizations. This fall semester has proved to be a large step forward for Kappa Delta Rho and the chapter.

Also, during Homecoming week Brothers participated in all the traditions as usual, but this year they extended their winning record in one particular event. At Tarleton a Silver Bugle Hunt stems from a rivalry, KDR has found the bugle eight of the last ten years. In 2002 the team that found the bugle was called "Not KDR."

Eta Beta Chapter (West Chester University)

The Eta Beta Chapter has been very active this semester. After having its advisor of 17 years retire, Brothers started planning an appreciation reception for him. It was held at a local ballroom with 113 Brothers/alumni attending the event. It was a great time shared and the first ever organized alumni/active event in the past 10 years. Since the dinner alumni relations improved and this has brought a greater Brotherhood for all to share. In the past year, the chapter achieved many of its established goals by accepting the Outstanding Chapter Improvement Award at the National Convention and a soccer championship on campus. This semester a few new events have been created to add to countless annual events the chapter holds, including a new philanthropic event, a dunk tank to raise money for the local Big Brothers Big Sisters program. The chapter was recognized on the front page of the local newspaper for it.

Kappa Beta Chapter (Edinboro University of Pennsylvania)

At Edinboro the Brothers of the Kappa Beta chapter left off at a great point last year. Having worked feverishly on recruitment over the past months the chapter has attained sizeable and quality new member classes which are eager to become proud members of Kappa Delta Rho. It hopes that the consul's role as a Summer Orientation Leader will spark interest with potential new members for the spring semester. At Homecoming the chapter's running mate was the ladies of Zeta Tau Alpha which was a great partnership as our theme was Mr. & Ms. Pac Man. A three-year tradition continued of ranking among the top two men for Homecoming King, this year placing first runner-up in the closest race in Edinboro's Homecoming history. Brothers have also been staying busy on campus volunteering time working the Chris Cagle and Josh Gracin concert and participating in R.A.K.E. (Random Acts of Kindness) throughout the town of Edinboro. In auctioning three members during Greek Life's Annual Date-Auction, benefiting Make-A-Wish Foundation. Not only has the chapter been active on campus, but it has also been fundraising at Cedar Point as part of the Scream Team during Halloween and has more fundraisers planned throughout fall and into the spring. Brothers are eagerly awaiting the upcoming spring semester with recruitment, community service, philanthropy and Greek Week where they hope to claim the "Greek God" title for a third consecutive year. Overall, accomplishing goals and striving to continue to establish the B remains high. In fact, November also marked the chapter's 15th year at Edinboro University and the chapter is proud to continue the tradition of Brotherhood.

Mu Beta Chapter (Syracuse University)

This year the Mu Beta chapter of high spirits as a new Dean of Greek Life ushers in a new era at Syracuse. A new recruitment system should allow for an even more successful year for Mu Beta. In academics, the chapter's combined GPA was second out of all the IFC fraternities in Syracuse. Alumni relations continue to improve at Mu Beta as a large number of recent graduates are planning to attend and are gradually increasing interaction with the active chapter. Mu Beta has also successfully run its third annual KDR Barnyard Games philanthropy, raising money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. This coming fall, the chapter is moving into a new residence and looks forward to the change.

Sigma Beta Chapter (North Carolina - Greensboro)

The fall semester has been a busy one for the chapter at UNCG. The Brothers have participated in many community service and charitable events. Such events include raising money for the Greensboro Sertoma Club and participating in their annual golf tournament. Brothers also made time to help out the local Goodwill on the weekends, recently gave up one Saturday to help build a house with the Habitat for Humanity, and look forward to helping out with Greek Treats, which is an annual campus event where children from different communities come to paint pumpkins for Halloween. The chapter has participated in all the fall intramural sports offered by UNCG and have had strong standings in flag football and outdoor soccer. Brothers spent Homecoming catching up with alumni. New members are embracing the values of Kappa Delta Rho and are showing that they will become valuable Brothers. The overall morale and brotherhood in the chapter is at an all time high and it plans on continuing with all the hard work.

Psi Beta Chapter (East Stroudsburg University)

This semester was a turning point for this small chapter of Kappa Delta Rho. The Brothers collectively decided to focus on community service, recruitment, and get noticed on campus. So far, this semester has been very active with such community service events as Campus Move In, Special Olympics, and the Lupus Loop charity run. Homecoming went well with a large turnout of Psi Beta alumni attending the first ever campus Homecoming tailgate. The chapter also won the Homecoming Banner competition with a nice cash prize always a plus. With the semester half way over Brothers are still staying active with such events as Halloween Trick or Treat for local elementary students and an all Greek Thanksgiving food drive.

Alpha Gamma Chapter (University of Detroit Mercy)

After a strong spring semester, Alpha Gamma has the momentum to make this year one of the best. Winning Greek Week for the third time in four years, Alpha Gamma stole the show in the Air Band event, with a performance of Wizard of Oz. Staying strong in intramurals, the Brothers already won the volleyball championship and were selected to play in a statewide flag football tournament. Keeping service and brotherhood in mind, the chapter recorded more than 460 hours of service last year, winning the national award for social service. This year is no different, with numerous brotherhood and service projects planned, including building a haunted house for inner-city Detroit children, working at Super Bowl events, and paintball and Whirlyball brotherhood events.

CNU Provisional Chapter (Christopher Newport University)

Christopher Newport University Provisional Chapter of KDR we has been making great leaps toward the goal of getting chartered. Recently it accepted six new members, Cody Zimmerman, Ryan Plavnieks, Matt Ward (who recently returned from duty in Iraq), Collin Clark, Ryan Curran, and Justin Gray. All these individuals are outstanding young men, and the chapter is fortunate to have them. The chapter recently returned from its camping retreat, where it further solidified its bonds to each other. Look forward to hearing many great things about the CNU chapter as it makes a name for Kappa Delta Rho and the campus.

From the Foundation President

Brothers,

Your Fraternity and Foundation have recently come off a very successful 100th Anniversary celebration in Baltimore, MD. To stop and realize that Kappa Delta Rho is 100 years young is truly remarkable. We now embark upon our second century of Honor Super Omnia and look forward to molding countless hundreds of future KDR's into community, national, and world leaders.

In our first 100 years we struggled as a national organization and envied our fraternity peers who seemed to have so much more in terms of resources than KDR. At the same time, however, we had truly great men and a leading reputation in the fraternity world. And, that reputation continues to this day. As important as it is, however, reputation alone is not enough in this day and age, as resources are an extreme part of the equation.

This was recognized by a group of dedicated KDRs in the early 80's and in 1984 the KDR Foundation was begun. Since then, we have worked extremely hard to create scholarships and financially assist the Fraternity with its many educational and leadership programs. Today, the Foundation is able to make grants to the Fraternity of more than 15 percent of its annual budget, but there still remains an annual shortfall in its overall operations. We simply have to do more!

In this, our Centennial year and at the Convention, the Foundation launched an aggressive and visionary program to endow permanently our existing programs, to expand into new program areas, and to offer support services not previously available. This campaign is known as the CENTENNIAL RECOGNITION PROGRAM and many of you have already been contacted by mail and telephone. Our goal is to raise $2,500,000 over the next five years which should create an endowment stipend of $90,000 - $100,000 annually for the Fraternity.

All Brothers will be asked to consider their pledge of support over the next five years toward the success of this program and all who pledge at least $500 will be permanently memorialized on a Centennial Recognition Wall that will hang in the National Headquarters. Our goal by the end of this year, December 31, is $1,000,000 and I'm proud to announce that we've already reached almost $700,000. You can go on line to kdrfoundation.org/crp to see those Brothers who have already pledged and make your own pledge at the same time.

The time has come, Brothers. We can either continue talking about what we want to do as an organization or we can take bold steps to turn vision into reality. May we count on your support?

Fraternally,

KDR Foundation

FOUNDER'S SOCIETY

THE FOUNDER'S SOCIETY recognizes those Brothers or friends who generously give $1,000 or more to the Foundation each year. While every gift matters and is appreciated, the leadership offered by the dedicated members of the Founder's Society dramatically impact the Foundation's support of the Fraternity's programs each year.

There are four recognition levels within the Founders Society:

Benefactor $1,000 - $2,499)

Philanthropist ($2500 - $4999)

Patron ($5,000 - $9,999)

Grand Patron ($10,000 and up)

These faithful donors are ensuring that our great traditions and friendships thrive well into KDR's new century. They are not simply names on paper. These individuals are the heartbeat of our living organization. If your name appears below, thank you!

Donations are sorted by graduation year.
For a listing by chapter, please refer to the list on page 20.

HERITAGE SOCIETY

Planned Giving Society of the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation

The Heritage Society recognizes those Brothers and friends who have advised the Foundation that they have generously included the Foundation in their estate plans.

Many of us give back each year to KDR through the Annual Fund. We take pleasure in the fact that we know that with our support the next generation of young men in our chapters are learning from the experience we cherish.

Most of us do not stop to think, what if I were gone? Would I want to leave one last gift to support the programs and organization that meant so much to me? Often times we do this for our church or school but do not stop to think that we can also include the KDR Foundation in our estate plans.

That is what the Heritage Society is all about. It is our way to recognize and THANK those dedicated Brothers who were willing or able to include the Foundation in their estate plans. There are many ways to include the KDR Foundation in your plans:

- Name the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation as a beneficiary on a life insurance policy or IRA.
- Include the Foundation in your will: A provision such as, "I leave the sum of $xxxxxx.00, or %XX of my estate, to the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation located in Greensburg, PA, for its general educational purposes"
- Include the Foundation as a beneficiary of a trust.

You can accomplish important goals in a legacy gift:

- Endow your annual gift so it continues after you are gone. As an example, if you give $500 a year to the annual fund, an estate gift of $10,000 will insure that gift continues in perpetuity.
- Endow a named scholarship for your chapter or for a specific area of study, such as engineering, architecture, medicine. The minimum to endow a named scholarship is $20,000.

ONE BROTHER'S LEGACY . . . WILL CHANGE LIVES FOREVER

Brother Loran "Stub" Stewart, Sigma '32, died in January. Next August he will send seven undergraduates to the William's Leadership Academy. He will do that every year . . . forever.

Brother Stewart was a farsighted businessman and philanthropist. When he included the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation as a beneficiary of his Charitable Trust he left a $50,000 endowment, the income from which provides support for the Fraternity's educational programs. That income is enough to cover the cost of seven undergraduates attending the Elmon Williams' Leadership Academy.
