

ALUMNI FUND ISSUE

THE QUILL AND SCROLL OF KAPPA DELTA RHO

AN EDUCATIONAL JOURNAL • NOVEMBER 1975

Parents of KDR members: Your son's magazine is sent to his home address while he is in college. We hope you enjoy reading the Quill and Scroll, but we would appreciate notification if he is no longer in school and is not living at home. Please send his permanent address to the boxed address on the back cover.

Editorial Forum

This column has been appearing less frequently over the past several years primarily because of the need to conserve space. Quite a few years ago the Board limited our size to no more than 16 pages per issue. Unfortunately there are many times when we do not have room for much we would like to print—but occasionally we have less than the amount necessary to fill 16 pages. The editing of a fraternal publication can be frustrating because of this feast-famine syndrome, and the complexities of printing add other hardships to a cost-conscious organization: to be able to print an economical form it is sometimes necessary to use filler material to avoid paying more for less. We were able to obtain a liberalizing of this stringent 16 page rule at this past summer's convention, so that now we may handle each issue as its news may demand, provided we stay within the same general number of pages per year. We have also been given the necessary leeway to try to keep costs to a minimum by experimenting with any area of production that appears to be promising.

Insofar as the above affects this issue, we happen to be at a low-spot in appropriate news . . . and by cutting our total size now, we have the capability of larger issues at a later time.

So if you find this issue to be less informative than past magazines, and less than what you have come to expect of the Quill & Scroll, please consider it as an exception from the rule, rather than a lessening of our standards. We rather hope, too, that the shock of a much reduced version of the publication will spur some needed action to place material in our hands by closing dates. Most of what you are reading was forwarded to our typesetter on October 1st—the published closing date for the November issue. The next issue will be February 1976, and all copy should be in our hands by the first of the new year. There is no excuse for the casual way late copy drifts in, and this is an ideal opportunity to close ranks and get back on schedule.

As a reminder, the usual coupons are missing from this truncated issue. Don't let this lull you into complacency. Please use coupons from previous issues to make whatever address changes are necessary, and to continue the admirable support given the Alumni Fund this past year, so that 1976 can again set records. □

"A retired secondary school teacher, I congratulate you on including John A. Falcone's address in the November, 1974, issue of the Quill and Scroll. I find it the work of an intelligent, scholarly and creative person."

Robert M. Waugh, Xi '27

"In the May, 1975, Quill & Scroll, Brother J. W. Van Gorkum wrote an informative piece on the workings of the Social Security System. His article addresses the mechanics of the system, primarily, rather than the sociological and financial effects on the individual contributor and the nation at large.

As with (many socially oriented) programs instituted by our government, there is rarely any discussion of whether the program has been successful in meeting its aims, whether it is morally and philosophically sound, or whether other alternatives might better serve its ends. We are presented with a fait accompli, and discussion is limited to the question of how quickly the program will grow. Critical comment is peremptorily dismissed with a condescending smile for the critic's naivete, or perhaps with a comment that he 'doesn't have a real appreciation of the problem' or 'would let them all starve.' Realizing that my comments will be met in most quarters by the standard smiles and ritual comments, I submit that Social Security has been an abject and expensive failure at meeting its ends. Moreover, it has had an adverse effect on many important aspects of our individual and social lives.

These are strong charges, I realize — especially against a program that we are encouraged to believe has almost universal public approval. It would be interesting to test the extent of this purported approval by making Social Security voluntary, but it is unlikely that the Establishment would allow such a democratic choice.

A clue to the reason advocates of mandatory Social Security would never permit voluntary participation was given in 1964 when Vice-President (then N.Y. Governor) Nelson Rockefeller responded to such a suggestion by declaring that if it were made voluntary the system would be 'bankrupted' by desertions from the plan. In other words, even strong supporters of Social Security recognize its unpopularity, and justify their support on the ground that they know how a citizen should spend his money far better than does the citizen who earned the money. I submit that they are mistaken in this belief and offer as proof the demonstrable fact that any individual who managed his financial affairs as poorly as 'they' in the government do would be bankrupt in six months!

Obviously, the full case against Social Security cannot be presented within the space constraint of the Quill & Scroll. However, let us disregard the debatable moral and sociological aspects of the program and concentrate solely on its financial viability. By considering just one obvious alternative to Social Security, we can expose the cruelty of its hoax on the American public.

Suppose a 20-year-old worker were to deposit in a savings account the amount Social Security is presently costing him. (But don't forget that this is only a fraction of what he will eventually be forced to pay.) Let's look at what his benefits would be, 45 years later at the S. S.-mandated retirement age.

Compare these figures with the retirement benefits from Social Security. Currently, the maximum payment to a man who became 65 in June, 1974, is $304.90 per month!

True, there are life insurance benefits contained in the S.S. package, but equivalent benefits could be assured by the purchase of decreasing term insurance until the savings account amounted to $50,000, at a cost which would decrease the monthly retirement benefit by only a few dollars.

It should be remembered that the figures in the chart are based on a very conservative 6% interest. The current 8-plus % interest offered by any Savings & Loan would greatly boost the return, and all such de-

1975 Scholarship Awards

James E. Hertling, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, announced the 1975 recipients of the two Five-Hundred Dollar Scholarships awarded each year to our undergraduate brothers, during the off-year convention of 1975.

The engineering scholarship, which is funded by the Stuart J. Myers Foundation, was awarded to Brother William D. Munch, Beta, '76. Brother Munch is enrolled in Chemical Engineering at Cornell University and has an accumulated grade point average through his junior year of 3.71. Bill has been active within the chapter as well as on campus. He has held several offices in Beta Chapter. During his sophomore year he made a data processing system, which aids the Chapter Treasurer by computing and printing the house bills each month. This has saved the Treasurer about eight to ten hours a month. Bill is also active in the chapter's intramural hockey and baseball teams.

He has been a member of the Cornell Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers for the past two years and last year served as Vice-President and this year is serving as President. He has also received an award from the A.I.Ch.E. for being the number one chemical engineer during his freshman and sophomore years.

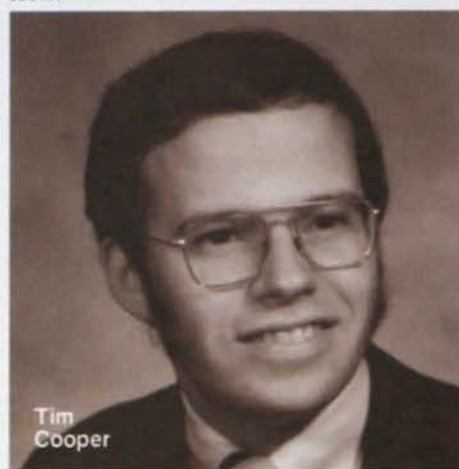

He has been on the Dean's List every semester since enrolling at Cornell and has been nominated for membership in Tau Beta Pi, National Engineering Honorary Society.

Scholastic accomplishment has not prevented him from being active on campus. For the past three semesters he has been a member of Cornell's Big Red Marching Band and has played in the Cornell Wind Ensemble. He has played in the Pep Band at hockey games as well as playing a baritone saxophone in the newly formed Jazz Band. He is also a member of Beta Rho Beta band honorary.

For the past two summers he has worked for Kodak in Rochester as a Chemical Engineer. He plans to continue with Kodak after graduation.

The Kappa Delta Rho Scholarship, which is awarded each year by the National, went to Timothy T. Cooper, Rho, '75. Tim was in the School of Arts and Science, majoring in Economics. He served Rho Chapter as Treasurer during his sophomore and junior years and also acted as song leader, which he says was "quite enjoyable".

He was on the Dean's List all eight semesters and attained a 3.96 accumulated grade point average for his four years at Lafayette College. During his junior year he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. As a freshman he was awarded the "Outstanding Cadet Award" by the ROTC Department. In his sophomore year he received the "Outstanding Military History Student Award" from the R.O.T.C. Department. During his senior year he acted as technical assistant in the Economics Department.

His scholastic achievements also did not deter his extra curricular activities. He served on the Student Government of Lafayette College for two years and was a feature writer for The Lafayette (student newspaper) for three years. He was also an approved tutor for the Economics Department.

He was accepted by the Harvard Law School for the 1975-76 term. In the future he plans to practice law with emphasis in the field of labor relations.

The Committee received many other applications from the brothers for these scholarships and regret they only had two to award. We are proud of both Bill and Tim and wish them well in the years ahead. □

Alumni Worldwide

Dr. Walter E. Burnham

Nu '27 has been named a Paul Harris Fellow by Rotary International. Dr. Burnham is the associate director of international services and foreign students counselor at Indiana University. He has been active in coordinating Rotary's international interests with foreign students for 20 years.

Donald G. Claypool

Omega '55 Twenty years after starting his career as a beginning teacher, and thirteen years after assuming the principalship of North East High School, Donald G. Claypool has completed a very intensive course of study with Nova University of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and June 23rd was awarded his Doctor of Education Degree by the University Board of Trustees.

A. Bertram Davis

Delta '18 and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on July 3rd with a family luncheon at The Glockenspiel, near Kutztown, Pa. They were married at Kuling, a resort in Central China where both were engaged in educational missionary work. The closing of mission schools in Central China, during the first wave of Communist troubles in that country forced their return to the United States in 1927. He went into newspaper work, and since retirement in 1968 has been doing free-lance writing for Christian publications.

Richard H. Gass

Xi '51 has been appointed to the Town Planning Board of Hubbardston, Mass.

Terry Lee Gorsuch

Nu '64 has been appointed Cleveland, Ohio manager for Kawneer Company, Wall-Window Division. He had previously been an architectural sales representative for the concern, joining them in 1966.

Robert Kramer

Theta '70 received a certificate of recognition for outstanding service to the college community from the Student Association of Western New England College, Springfield, Mass. Bob joined the faculty there in 1973 as an instructor of data processing and statistics.

Raymond M. Krehel

Delta '49 was honored with the highest award Colgate Alumni could present, the Alumni Award for Distinguished Service at the 1975 Reunion. He returned to his Alma Mater in 1960 after stints with N.Y. Telephone and Esso Standard Oil, and 7 years as controller and business manager at Nason College in Maine. In 1960 he became Colgate controller and in 1964 was named treasurer and business manager. He became a vice president in 1968. In addition to his heavy load at the University he is currently serving as president of the Community Memorial Hospital board of directors and is a director of the Oneida Valley National Bank and of Hospital Plan, Inc. of Utica.

Prof. Bernard W. Miller

Nu '31, a professor of kinesiology at the University of California Los Angeles campus, was granted the Distinguished Service Award of the International Relations Council of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The award reads . . . "for significant achievement in international affairs which has brought distinction and special recognition to physical education."

Missing Membership

In the course of any group's existence members unavoidably become detached from the main body. This can be due to disinterest, accident, or death . . . or other causes. We will be printing a listing in this and upcoming issues of those currently missing. If you know where any of these men are, please write the Executive Secretary at our Indianapolis address. Names are listed with last known address, where available.

Delta '32 has been elected an alumni trustee of Colgate University and will be serving for six years on the University Board of Trustees.

"Maury" Ronayne

Xi '51 has moved to the post of Chief, Documentation & Procedures Division, Office of Facilitation, Office of the Secretary, U.S. Department of Transportation, Washington, D.C. Most recently, he was with the Defense Communications Agency in the Pentagon, and before then in 1971-74 with NATO in Brussels, Belgium. Ronayne currently serves as national president of the Federal Professional Associational Association. He also lectures in management subjects for Central Michigan University and Northern Virginia Community College.

Dr. Daniel L. Van Leuvan

Gamma '35 was recently honored as an Outstanding Educator by the administration of Nichols College, Dudley, Mass., where he serves as Professor of Psychology and Education and Chairman of the Department of Social Sciences. Dr. Van Leuvan, who received his doctorate from Columbia University, retired in 1969 after thirty-four years of high school teaching and administrative service in New York State. In 1970, he accepted his position at Nichols College, where he is currently completing his fortieth year in the education field. Dr. Van Leuvan was Consul of Gamma Chapter in 1934-35. □ posits are fully insured.

Remember, also, that these benefits would have no strings attached (whether you continued working or not, whether you were married, etc.) and couldn't be reduced or cut off by some future Congress, as S.S. benefits could be.

Also, unlike S.S. 'benefits', this money would be continuously available to the saver to use as he chose: to pay a child's tuition, cover an emergency, invest in a business, pay for a round-the-world tour, or whatever.

Furthermore, that money in a savings account would be working to improve the national economy. The bank would loan it out to people to create new jobs, build new homes, and produce more products.

Social Security was badly conceived at its inception. Its dollar cost to American workers has been exorbitant, and its philosophical and moral cost to the nation has been incalculable. In this time when we have begun to question and challenge long-standing beliefs and institutions, I offer Social Security as a candidate ripe for such a searching evaluation."

Ronald Albee

Beta '26 of Roscoe New York, on January 26, 1975.

Jesse K. Chichester

Beta '28, on August 15, 1975. After graduation he went into teaching, and soon was principal of Central School in Wyandanch, Long Island. In the mid-thirties he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage which left him with paralysis of one side and a severe speech problem. After several years he had improved enough to accept a job as a tool and supply clerk in a small factory. He continued until he retired a few years ago.

Robert H. Wyatt

Nu '26 passed away July 24, 1975 in Methodist Hospital where he had been admitted for tests for chest pains. He was executive director of the Indiana State Teachers' Association for 32 years before retiring in 1971 and more recently was president of the Indiana Retired Teachers Association. He rose from a one-room schoolhouse teacher to his controversial position where he was regarded as one of the most influential Indiana lobbyists of modern times, building the ISTA into one of the most powerful organizations in the state. He was known as a "teacher's teacher" dedicated to improving classroom conditions, salaries and the quality of education. He was instrumental in helping pass the Elementary and Secondary Education Act authorizing Federal aid to Education; the National Education Act and various vocational education measures.

Randle L. Dippell

Court Finds a President Liable for Illegal Chapter Activities

The president of a fraternity chapter at a school in Ohio recently appeared in County Court charged with discharging fireworks as head of the fraternity since police were unable to identify the specific members responsible. The chapter president was found innocent of the specific charge of discharging fireworks, but guilty of criminal liability as head of the organization. Testimony revealed the president, along with presidents of other fraternities, had been warned by both the police and a representative from the dean of men's office. The president said he didn't know who discharged the fireworks. He was fined $200 and costs which were suspended on condition no further violations took place within the next month. □
