One of the many pretty scenes which you will see if you attend the next Convention in June,

Plan early to attend the next Convention at Beta Chapter June 25, 26 and 27. Beta Chapter will celebrate its silver anniversary in connection with the convention on June 25. Bring your wife along.

Post-College Extracurricular Activities

By Orrin G. Judd, Delta '26

1. BIG BROTHERS

EXTRACURRICULAR activities do not end with the college course.

The real world offers just as wide a variety of avocations to occupy a man's thoughts and energies in the hours outside office or workroom as college ever did for the hours outside of classroom. Athletics continues to attract both players and spectators. Social activities, even for folks outside the Social Register, may range from bridge clubs to fraternal orders. Politics calls for the participation of ambitious young men. Religious, civic and philanthropic organizations of all sorts compete for the spare-time help of the young man with a sense of responsibility to the world at large. Even during the period which must be given over to specialized education for the chosen job, the wideawake college graduate will wish to begin playing a rôle in some of these fields.

No type of activity has a greater right to demand the help of college men than those that lie in the field of social service. As the most highly trained men in the community, with an education invariably paid for in part by tax money or endowment gifts, they owe an especial debt to society. Theirs is a duty to lend the aid of their talents to projects that seek to raise the general standards of the communityreligious, moral, economic, or political. Moreover, no other type of activity can yield greater satisfaction, in the feeling of being worth while to the world, and in enrichment of life and The volunteer workers associations. and directing boards of the civic, religious, and charitable associations of any great city include its most progressive, intelligent and warm-hearted residents.

Many of my own most interesting acquaintances in my few years of work since I finished law school have been people I have met in church federations, boys' clubs, or mission boards.

In this article, the first in a series which the editor plans, I wish to tell of one particularly interesting extracurricular activity.

Outstanding among spare-time services, from point of view of quickly tangible results and immediate value to society, I consider the Big Brother Movement. The Movement has one clear aim—to salvage young lives, and thereby reduce the shocking amount of criminality; it offers definite personal responsibility, with unlimited hopes of accomplishment.

Anyone alive to the human tragedy that haunts our cities knows how many boys are doomed to spend their lives in and out of prisons as alternate parasites on and guests of society, unless a friendly hand guides them into happier Realizing that the majority of criminals today are under twenty-one when they are first apprehended, and that prisons and reform schools have both failed dismally in providing any cure for criminal inclinations, the Big Brother Movement has introduced a new technic. Big Brothers undertake to give personal care to boys who have once slipped, and to help readjust them to the rules of society.

For example, a boy of fourteen, arrainged for stealing machinery from a neighborhood factory, at the instigation of an older lad, in order to sell it to a junk dealer for a fraction of its real value, was given a suspended sentence by the court, released in the custody of the Big Brothers, and assigned by their secretary to the care of a young man in my church. He saw that the boy got a respectable suit of clothes, helped his family to understand the boy's problems, arranged to separate him from the companions who led him into theft-substituting activity in a boys' group at the parish house, and kept weekly tabs on him to see how he was progressing.

Such is a more or less typical case. Guided by a report of the executive secretary, which indicates the boy's family background and education, and shows that there is some hope of rehabilitation, the "big brother" has a heart-to-heart chat with his new ward, visits his home, makes friends with him, and does whatever may seem necessary to help readjust him to life in society. Medical care may be arranged. may be examined and fitted with glasses. The boy may be introduced to a nearby church, and enrolled in a Sunday school class. Healthful recreation is provided by the organization, and physical defects are corrected, through gym facilities provided by the Y. M. C. A. in winter and by attendance at a camp in the summer.

The boy will be guided in his school work, with a view to some vocation, and eventually will be helped to find a job. In extreme cases, it may be necessary to move the whole family to a different part of town, to avoid bad influences that have the boy in their grip. Even so simple a thing as a visit to his big brother's office may give the boy a new vision of the business world and of what lies ahead, and may appeal both to his ambition and his sense of order in a way that preachery cannot do.

In short, the "big brother" does just what a real big brother would be expected to do for a youngster in his own family. He follows up personally—as few probation officers could do even if their case-loads permitted it—just as long as there is any continuing need for guidance. Afterward, friendship may continue through life.

The real secret of the Big Brothers lies not so much in technic as in an atmosphere of friendly interest, which enriches both the Big Brother and his little ward.

The success of the Big Brother method is proved by reliable figures. For instance, the number of recorded cases of recidivising approximates only 5 percent of all who have been under big brother care, while records of the best children's courts and reformatories show that more than 80 percent of those who pass through them are arrested again for crime.

But the story can be better told in the lives of those who have been helped, and in the satisfaction which big brothers find in the results of their work with the most thrilling material known, young human lives. This is illustrated in the experience of another member of the fraternity, who is an active Big Brother, who told me recently of an assignment of his, a young Italian boy from the tenements, who had been ar-

The College Mill---and What Comes Out

By Dr. Dixon Ryan Fox, President of Union College

DURING the first three decades of this century a larger and larger proportion of young Americans stormed into college and through. Perhaps stormed is not a happy phrase, because they were invited in and lifted through, and colleges took great pride in their increasing lists.

Now it is patently absurd to think that the capacity for learning had increased among the American people so suddenly and so much as the swelling attendance might seem to indicate.

The most generous interpretation would maintain that a greatly increased number of able youth now had the financial means to enable them to withdraw during all or a large part of their time for four years from economic labor—means furnished, of course, by hopeful parents.

Colleges, doing their best, could not grow deep culture upon thin soil; in many, many cases their diplomas have falsely certified their product as educated men and women. It has been difficult to distinguish their alumni from fairly intelligent people who were not.

It must be remarked too that a large part of the college offering concerned itself with implementing men and women to make a prosperous income rather than to cultivate richer personalities.

Not less deplorable, until recently, was the scheme which allowed the college student, flitting back and forth across a so-called cultural curriculum, to glance at this and that and something else and never take hold of any given human interest with sufficient firmness to make it a continuing part of himself through life. Such a student left college with little more than his diploma.

My point is that the average bachelor of arts did not know enough about any branch of the great human inquiry to follow it, or rather to have it follow him through life. He was thus like anybody else. Today it is hard to sit in a Pullman smoker, listen to the talk of five men, and guess which ones have been through college. College has been through some of them, no doubt, but what did it leave?

If they went to college because it was "the thing," or to make profitable contacts for later business, or to get a quantitative prerequisite for serious professional training, perhaps they got what they sought. But they did not get learning as men have got religion; they did not get the habit of reflective thinking, of intellectual industry, that may bring the highest satisfactions of this life.

I have a hope that the students of the college of which I am an administrative member will not find such a life necessary or tolerable, to say nothing of being attractive. I hope that as they graduate they will resolve to make their lives a testimony of what the college has stood for in times past and is supposed to stand for. Actually this is the best alumni service—living illustration of the cultural power of a college.

It may be that such alumni will not sell as many goods and that they cannot make as handsome personal contributions to the alumni gift fund as those who took the other plan of life. But

3 Mt. Vernon Street, Melrose, Mass., Sept. 13, 1937.

Dear Brother Ortner:

Even at this late date I wish to congratulate you for your exceptionally fine June issue of the QUILL AND SCROLL. I believe it to be the best issue I have read since becoming a member of the Fraternity.

The Alumni page is specially interesting and I hope it will be continued as we all like to read of the doings of the old grads. Perhaps some are living or working in our vicinity.

As I am a Tau Chapter member I hope that some day a campus picture of Carnegie Tech could be printed on the cover.

I am looking forward to future issues of the Quill and Scroll with interest.

Fraternally yours,

rested for stealing. The boy was discouraged by the poverty of his large family and seemed quite hopeless and hard. Yet the big brother had eventually seen the boy respond to a chance to learn something worth while, grasp his opportunities better than more favored youngsters, and make good in a job which enables him now to help support his whole family.

Most of the boys with whom big brothers deal are referred to them by the courts. Ideally, treatment should not be delayed until the courts have been called in, but the stream that runs through the courts is so large that it taxes all the resources available. Preventive work must be deferred while the pressing needs for correction work are met.

The need for big brothers outruns the supply. If more could be recruited, an attempt might be made to deal with underprivileged boys, potential criminals, before they have started a career of crime. Evidence that habitual truants are the most prolific source of crime points one way to this even more useful service. The possible benefits to society, and rewards to earnest effort, are unlimited.

College graduates are still a small minority of the population, belonging in the main to the groups now favored by heredity, culture, and economic power. They owe to the nation, and to those less favored, the benefit of the leadership that they have been trained to give. Service to society is the modern way of giving meaning to the old phrase, "noblesse oblige." I suggest the Big Brother Movement as a field of service in keeping with the ideals of Kappa Delta Rho, and certain to keep the interest of the man who embarks in they will attract respect for the influence which helped produce them, and respect will attract benefactions from those who have wealth and wish to invest it wisely and productively. In the long run that college will profit whose alumni naturally, sincerely, and eloquently show the result of a deep cultural experience.

Here's the Explanation

Sororities that call themselves "fraternities" have always seemed to us like women who insist on wearing men's clothes. At last we have the reason for their doing so, reprinted herewith from the Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine:

Like Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Pi has never been a sorority. Alpha Pi's pledges are given an interesting explanation of the reason why they are joining not a sorority but a fraternity. They are taught that the word "fraternity" was derived not from "frater," a Latin word, but from "phrater," which is bona fide Greek. "Phrater" in Greece meant a member of a "phratra," which was a tribe, a group of blood relatives which could be composed either of men or of women. From this word the Latin "frater" may have been derived, with its narrower meaning of "brother," and its application to men alone. But the word from which "fraternity" comes is wider in scope.

"Sorority," derived from the Latin "soror" or "sister" is a recent growth, invented by a Syracuse professor for Gamma Phi Beta, and later adopted by several other women's groups as a distinctive name. However, while it has been accepted into the language as part of our currency of speech, its Roman roots are far younger than the Greek ones of "fraternity." Hence as the first Greek letter society for women, Kappa Alpha Theta may logically prefer a Greek name. We join Alpha Pi in gratitude to the founders of Phi Beta Kappa, the first Greek-letter fraternity for their gracious choice of a word which women as well as men may use to describe their fellowship.

—К ∆ Р—

"IT is becoming more and more apparent that fraternities must fit into the picture on college campuses where they are located with a clearer purpose than some have had in the past. Those chapters and those fraternities which do not serve a purposeful aim in the educational system are heading for rough waters. Those which provide laboratories for the broad development of individual personalities will have a lasting opportunity in the college world. Let every chapter of Phi Kappa Tau ever keep as its main objective, service to the college community in which it finds itself."—Harley W. Chandler.

ALUMNI of Phi Sigma Kappa are directing a systematic campaign to raise a $50,000 endowment fund through bequests.

-K ∆ P-

Through segregation of $25 of the fee paid by each initiate the Theta Chi national endowment fund has increased from $30,000 in 1929 to $150,000 at the present time. In Phi Kappa Tau $12 of the initiation fee is placed in the endowment fund.

When one is able to maintain a balanced mental attitude, he cannot help being happier for it. That much can easily be demonstrated. One has only to try this simple experiment: Resolve to begin looking only for the best in the people you meet; that, come what may, you are going to maintain intelligent optimism. If you succeed in doing that, you will find yourself a happier individual—and others may find you a more congenial one.—Exchange.

Paddle Is Out

Members of Alpha Delta Chapter at Purdue are pleased to announce that they have abolished the use of the Around the Corner paddle in pledge training. In place of the torture method for building character they have inaugurated a system of additional house work for the violators of pledge rules. In its short existence this plan has proved far superior to the old method of physical punishment.-The Rattle of Theta Chi.

If I may say so, I really want to address your attention to the fact that if a fraternity has a mission in the world it is in the creation and cultivation of loyalties—the lesser loyalties and the greater loyalties-in an ascending scale, loyalty to the fraternity, loyalty to the college, loyalty to the state, loyalty to the nation, and, perhaps the highest of all, lovalty to one's self .- NEWTON D. Around the corner I have a friend, In this great city that has no end; Yet days go by and weeks rush on, And before I know it a year is gone, And I never see my old friend's face, For life is a swift and terrible race. Dr. Francis W. Shepardson

THERE was no man better known in the interfraternity circles than Francis W. Shepardson whose sudden death this summer ended a varied career in promotion of scholarship and improving the Fraternity system. He was for years president of Beta Theta Pi and his influence has been great in the Interfraternity Conference which he has served since its founding in 1909 when he was the first secretary of the conference. In the words of his own song to his Fraternity, Son of the Stars, "Thy memory will shine eternally."

New York Alumni Work for Closer Relation Between Alumni and Chapters

At the monthly meeting of the New York Alumni on April 27 with over thirty present, newsy letters from the various chapters were read by some alumnus of the chapter. They were enthusiastically received and enjoyed by all and many of the suggestions have already been acted upon. This sort of cooperation between alumni and undergraduates will have its beneficial effects in a short time, and redound to the credit of our Fraternity.

Another forward step by the New York Alumni is in assisting our members in securing employment or in changing employment where dissatisfied. They have already started a movement in that direction and have received several offers for work. With the Chicago Alumni Association Employment Bureau operating better all the time and the New York group operating, it might be an objective of all the City Alumni Associations, to set up some organization along this line, to help our younger members get started on the right foot.

Tau and Beta Houses Robbed

THE Tau Chapter House was robbed last spring and old faithful "Dusty," the Chow dog, never even made a bark but when the police came to investigate, old "Dusty" could be heard all over the neighborhood so Consul George Lenz decided to sell "Dusty." Several watches, money and other valuables were taken.

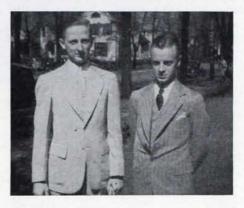

On October 1, the night before the Colgate-Cornell football game, when most of the boys were quite flush, the Beta house was robbed and several hundred dollars in cash and valuables stolen. Beside the Beta house several other nearby fraternity houses were robbed on the same night. The Beta boys must be sound sleepers for the rooms right next to the dormitory on third floor were ransacked while they slept on.

Mu Celebrates Founder's Day

Mu's Founder's Day celebration, held in Ann Arbor May 15-16, was easily one of the best in history. Events included a mixed dinner at the chapter house Saturday night, with an attendance of around sixty; an informal dance; an outdoor breakfast; an alumniactives baseball game (the actives won, 13-6); the annual spring business meeting; and the annual Founder's Day banquet.

All discussions at the meeting indicated that both the active chapter and the alumni association had made real progress during the past year. Particularly encouraging was the fact that the house, for the first time in several years, was quite certain to finish the current year "in the black." Most of the credit for this improved showing should go to Finance Committee Chairman Ben DeGraff, '28. Principal among the discussions at the meeting was one relating to alumni notes; a committee headed by Millard Pryor, '25, is now investigating possible changes in the present set-up.

President J. T. Steinko, '33; Treasurer G. R. Innes, '32E; and Finance Chairman B. A. DeGraff, '28, were reelected to the same offices for 1937-38. L. S. Veenstra, '33E, and Martin M. Holben, '34E, were elected secretary and vice-president, respectively.

Millard Pryor acted as toastmaster at the banquet, which featured a short report by each man present on what he had done since graduation.

REGARDLESS of the game, the reunion between Delta and Beta at time of Colgate-Cornell game, was a huge success, the one celebrating victory, and the other drowning sorrow. Here's to more good fellowship between our chapters!

OFFICERS

RUSHING

After only a week and a half, it is rather early to make any predictions about rushing, but progress so far has been very good. At present we have four pledges with large numbers of rushees in the house every night.

The pledges are: Jack Mapes, Monticello, New York; Edward Saunders, Yonkers, New York; John Beatty, Warwick, New York; Raymond Hubbard, White Plains, New York.

DEPARTURES

Report on those members who are not back at school this year either because of graduation or because of personal reasons:

George Crowther is at present employed as an instructor in the New York State College of Agriculture, East Buffalo Street, Ithaca, New York.

Leon McNair, 4H Extension work, Windsor, New York.

the sophomore class; Alfred Trehanon, president of interfraternity council; Otto J. Howe, member of directory board and of the State College Press Bureau. Warren Densmore and John O'Brien were selected as members of Myskania the Senior Honorary Society. Jack Ryan and Charles Gaylord were made members of the finance board, Brother Gaylord is also advertising manager of the State College News.

ELECTIONS

The brothers who will steer Gamma's ship through the storms of the coming year are Alfred Trehanon, Consul; John O'Brien, Senior Tribune; Cornelius Fogarty, Junior Tribune; Joseph Muggleton, Praetor; Robert Hertwig, Quaestor; Joseph McKeon, Pontifex; Walter Simmons, Centurion; John Shearer, Custodian; Otto J. Howe, Propraetor; and Karl Bohrer, House Manager.

REDECORATING

During the summer session the chapter house was painted white and repaired on the outside, new fixtures were installed on the first floor of the house and the living room was redecorated. New plumbing equipment including a new shower, two new basins, and inlaid linoleum were installed in the bathroom. The house also has a new furnace to turn away the habitual cold of Albany winters. House Manager Karl Bohrer, is purchasing all food wholesale instead of retail and has filled our chapter house, which will accommodate twenty-two, to capacity.

RUSHING

Gamma's rushing season got under way with a very successful interfraternity smoker. Gamma has had two private smokers and a victrola party for the incoming freshmen of State College.

POSITIONS

PLEDGES

Gamma is very proud to announce the pledging of two honorary members. Derk V. Tieszen, A.M. at the University of Colorado, came to State College in 1931 and is an instructor of chemistry. Earl Bennett South, Ph.D. at Ohio State, is assistant professor of education. Doctor South came to State College in 1927 and is a member of the American Association of University Professors, and a member of the American Psychological Association. He has just finished writing a book entitled "An Index of Periodical Literature on Testing."

ATHLETICS

DICK HANCOCK, co-captain of the varsity cross-country team, is busy preparing to lead the Colgate harriers into an ambitious schedule. Don Collins, three sport freshman athlete of last year is cavorting with Andy Kerr's Red Raiding gridiron aggregation and though he lacks the experience to make the first string combine he will probably see considerable service during the season.

Intramural Manager Wild Bill Conn has his touch football charges set for the season's inaugural. Sidney Adams, ace backfield star is expected to be a big threat with his passing finesse. George Corts and Burley Smith are being counted on to play a big part in the success of the K. D. R. team.

Our old nemesis, the Phi Gams are to be our first opponents in the A football league. Last spring they nosed the Delta softball contingent out in a playoff for the league crown. Previous to that defeat they beat out a very polished K. D. R. basketball five for the championship in the interfraternity competition.

RUSHING

Due to the new plan installed at Colgate University this year, deferred rushing will prevent the pledging of any freshmen until after Easter. However, Delta has added to her fine sophomore delegation, Robert Weaver of Chevy Chase, Maryland.

SOCIAL

Beta Chapter showed Delta the finest kind of a time over the Colgate-Cornell football week-end. Though the Raiders came out on the short end of a topheavy score the wonderful hospitality and delicious meals made for a most enjoyable week-end.

Fall house party dates have been set for November 12 and 13. As yet no definite plans have been made for the festivities.

ACTIVITIES

Sid Adams is busy acting as valet for the Maroon gridders having been elected assistant manager of the football team. Don McLagan, Sig Stewart, Phil Vogel, Sid Adams, Bud Donahue and Bud Arnsdorf are all digging up the news for the Maroon. Johnnie Muller is feature editor of the paper besides holding down on staff job on the yearbook, The Salmagundi. Dick Hancock and Sid Adams have taken up their duties as Senators in the Student Senate. John Westergaard is busy preparing for the coming skiing season. He has taken over his duties as secretary of the Eastern Intercollegiate Skiing Association.

Jack Hughes, Al Vedder and Johnny Carey are all playing in the band.

MISCELLANEOUS

A new driveway has been put in and has done much to improve the appearance of the chapter house. A newly reseeded front lawn is giving promise of developing into a fine greensward.

Toby, our graduated St. Bernard, has been compensated for by the recent acquisition of two pointers and a kitten.

ANNIVERSARY

It was ten years ago this month that Delta won the university scholarship top ranking for the tenth consecutive time.

Epsilon

Franklin College

INITIATION

Boyn Gill of Edinburg, Indiana, was initiated into the active chapter, Sunday, October 3, in a ceremony that was held in the chapter house.

PLEDGING

ACTIVITIES

The chapter started its social season with a smoker held at the chapter house, September 21. Many alumni were present, and the pledges and members of the chapter had as their guests many prospective pledges. We are planning a pledge dance to be held in the near future.

HOUSE

The third floor of our house was made, during the summer, into a dormitory. The second floor was converted into spacious study rooms. We are quite proud of the new dormitory and declare it to be a fine place to sleep both in winter and summer.

OFFICERS

John Spencer, Franklin, Indiana, was elected to the position of Quaestor in place of Max Hardin, also of Franklin, who will be inactive this year.

SPORTS

The college intramural sport season, under the direction of Paul Aiken, Consul '38, has started with softball. Harold Aiken, chapter intramural manager has a strong team ready to play for Epsilon.

Zeta

Penn. State College

RUSHING

ZETA ended another successful rushing season by pledging sixteen new men. Much credit for this fine work goes to Donald W. Wright, our rushing chairman.

ALUMNI

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors, a new office of Executive Secretary was created. The duties of the office include management of property, inspection of the chapter house, building up a permanent alumni file and records, and helping to establish a budget for the active chapter.

Zeta is planning a big Alumni Homecoming Week-end on October 9. Many of the graduate brothers are expected and, following the custom of the Penn State fraternities, the chapter house will have appropriate decorations welcoming the alumni.

POLITICS

The political standing of the house on the Penn State campus at the present time is very high. This is principally due to our Consul, John Moeller, who was recently elected President of Interfraternity Council. Our other political representatives are Brothers Donald Wright and Ed Landen. The freshman class is represented by Erik Moeller and Leo Russell.

ACTIVITIES

Brothers Dale Boyer and Hoit Drake are out for lacrosse and Brother Jack Reilly is working as a manager for the team. Brother Colin Robbie is out for managership of football.

Intramural football season is soon to open and our team is warming up. From the appearance of the team in action we have high hopes of a very successful season.

SOCIAL

The date of Zeta's pledge dance has been set for October 22 and the leading dance band of the campus has been engaged.

House party will be held on November 12 and 13 and from the number of favors ordered, it is certain to be another big success.

OFFICERS

Board of Directors: President, D. L. Edwards; vice-president, R. B. Hosler; secretary, E. T. Kitchen; treasurer, G. W. Eby, E. G. Hill, J. S. Moeller.

ALUMNI

Eta INITIATION

University of Illinois

Initiation of Robert N. Fryer '40, Elmhurst and Oliver W. Masterson '40, St. Charles, made an auspicious beginning for Eta's new school year. Congratulations to these new brothers who attained membership on September 15.

PLEDGING

Under a preferential system, fourteen men selected Kappa Delta Rho's pledge button as their first choice. They are: George Armbrust '40, Chicago; Jack Deegan '41, Chicago; Joe Galaher '40, Chicago; Grover Haines '40, Elmhurst; Henry Hoje '41, Chicago; Swan Johnson '40, Chicago; Charles Russell '41, Glen Ellyn; George Sheppach '40, Joliet; Ellsworth Shaw '41, Homewood; John Shipman '41, Glen Ellyn; James Smith '41, Highland Park; John Stanton '41, Belvidere; Wilbur Tanis '41, Chicago; and Warren Tuttle '41, Harrisburg.

Congratulations for these new pledges also, especially John Stanton, playing bassoon in the concert band and orchestra already, and Charles Russell, setting his course on the Illio business staff.

SOCIAL

Under the supervision and snappy calling of "Georgia" Bill Dunn '39, the gang ran off a Big Apple shuffle the night of September 25—to the melodies of the new combination radio-vic that hasn't arrived from St. Louis as vet (October 7). In spite of the makeshift, however, everyone had a swell time learnin' how to truck, and Suzie-Q just like the boys from Dixie. Next on the program was (by the time this sees print) a session of swing-time honoring the new plebes. Matt Matthews led the rhythm and Brother Dunn presided once more to polish up on the finer points of the Big Apple, while faculty guests looked on.

Homecoming this year, with Michigan October 30, will have to go a long way to compare to the football session with Notre Dame. A number of guests were on hand, including Kermit Pennington '36 and Boo Boo Buell '37.

Dads Day festivities take place November 20 this year with Chicago the (we hope) victim. A polo game in the morning will start the day, and after a post-game banquet at the chapter house the brothers and pledges will entertain dads with anything and everything the campus has to offer.

SENIORS

Eta'37, members swept down on Chicago, with only Bob Partlow leaving the vicinity to seek success. Ex-prexy, and ex-union-prexy "Pratt" went to Bridgeport, Connecticut to work in the statistical department of General Electric. John "Father" Hynd is with Carson Pirie Scott in Chicago, getting set to take the road as salesman. "Janz" Jensen is taking care of accounts for Montgomery Ward in the Windy City, while "Killer" John Vernon labors as underwriter for Guardian Mutual Life. Don Hoy, who passed the Illinois Bar last spring has things well in hand at the City National Bank where he slaves in the trust department. Boo Boo Buell is in a lab at Swift and Company—finding a use for the squeal, C. R.?

ACTIVITIES

Harry Hynd '38, smashed the campus political situation wide open by organizing and successfully managing a party to oppose what had been for three years an unopposed political machine. Congratulations on a fine job "Har." Intramural season began what will prove one of its best years under Brother Hynd's direction as senior manager. Hynd also acts as head of the Athletic Council and president of the Band of X, commerce honorary. All of this contributed to Brother "Har's" election to Mawanda, senior activity honorary, last spring.

Frank Cronican '39, as a Junior Cabinet member in the Union, will take charge of Union Week. His fine work won Cron an election to Sachem, junior men's activity honorary, last spring.

George Tesar '40, is getting into high with his Illio work this year as a member of the sophomore business staff.

Bob Aurand '39, and George Olson '39, are out every afternoon practicing with Illini baseball aspirants. They're just getting warmed up like the rest, but next spring they'll get down to serious business and show Coach Roettger their best.

Butch Ball '39, Bill Dunn '39, and Bill Locke '38, are taking care of the military angle this fall. Their boots take them over to retreat every Friday afternoon, while Arch Abney '39, and Pledge Stanton '41, cut loose in the marching band.

INTRAMURAL

With the season just getting under way, Eta lammed out a victory in her first game. There's plenty of pep on the diamond, and with the ability thus far exhibited, the ten should mop up the softball division. We've got height for the basketball floor too, so you'll be hearing from us on that point before many weeks.

MISCELLANEOUS

Maybe it's an event for the social calendar, but any way you look at it, Don Prillaman '33, and the Mrs. were mighty proud to announce the birth of Susan Nell on September 22. Congratulations mother and dad!

Much of the success of rush week was probably due to work completed the previous week. With twenty-two men back to help, copper screening was put in all around downstairs, all outside woodwork was painted, floors of seven study rooms were completely refinished, and the house given a general cleaning. Some of the boys even went so far as to add a dash of color to study rooms with shades of buff, brown, green and blue making flashy displays. New furnishings included twenty-four matresses, six occasional chairs, floor and table lamps, Hoovers, and-oh yes, that combination job which is still in the Zenith factory no doubt. With luck we may be able to put on a party about next Christmas-at least before Easter.

ALUMNI

Chuck Partlow '33, writes of a trip to the Ozarks. Chuck is at 428 West 72nd Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Dick King '34, who was sea radio operator for two years is now located at Y. M. C. A., 13 State Street, Schenectady, New York, with the General Electric Company.

Pat Lewis '30, who passed the Bar examination last year now has a new connection as patent attorney for a foreign patent firm.

E. C. Eberspacher '30, has purchased a newspaper and printing office located at Shelbyville, Illinois.

J. Warner Woods '32, is with the Electric Auto-Lite Co., Toledo, Ohio, doing advertising work.

Ted '29, and Marty Wiese advise their new boy, now seven months old, is named Craig Edwin.

Bob Wiese '35, is located at 1107 Hull Terrace, Evanston, Illinois.

Theta

Purdue University

ACTIVITIES

BROTHER SUESSE is now a member of Catalyst, a chemical engineering club.

Brother Rowland is an active member of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity.

Brother Peck is a member of Skull and Crescent, honorary sophomore fra-

Brother Culbert, Pledge Poto, and Pledge Rensenhouse are out for Union work.

Pledge Yankowski is working as one of the intermural managers in the athletic department.

Pledge Krzewinski is out for freshman baseball and football.

Brother Newhouse is concertmaster of the Purdue Concert Orchestra and is in the Union show.

OFFICERS

INITIATION

Robert G. Rice, Milwaukee, Wisconson, was initiated into our brotherhood on September 20, 1937. We are sure the brothers of Kappa Delta Rho join us in congratulating Brother Rice.

PLEDGING

ALUMNI

Brother Vysa dropped in and told the fellows hello the week before Homecoming. We are sorry that Brother Vysa couldn't come back for the big dance.

Bob Jeffries was in after the Butler game and said that he would be back for the Homecoming dance.

Larry Vogel stopped at the house several times this summer.

Otto Hunziker and Bill Alexander were down for the Butler game. We believe that the Alpha Chi house is one of the big reasons for Ott's and Bill's interest in Purdue.

Roy Anderson '37, goes to work this fall for the Sisalkraft Corp.

Otto Hunziker '37, is working for Continental Can Co. in Chicago.

Al Lutgens '37, is in Dayton, Ohio, working for Frigidaire.

Bill Alexander '37, took an extended trip to Washington, D. C., after Summer School. He is expecting a job in Virginia which by some chance is near Washington.

John Wild '37, is working for Automatic Electric Co. in Chicago, Illinois.

Mike Gniewosh '37, is at United Steel in Gary.

Don Scott '37, is at Allis Chalmers, West Allis, Milwaukee, working for his bread and butter.

C. D. Sloan '37, is working for Westinghouse at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Bob Blaney '37, is in Evansville, Indiana, working for Bell Telephone Company.

We have not heard from Bill Claus '37, but we believe that he is in Maryland.

SOCIAL

We had our fall dance on the night of the Purdue-Carnegie football game. Everybody enjoyed the dance music of Bud Bryant. We were glad to see so many of the alumni back. Social Chairman Slone is to be complimented on the fine dance.

SCHOLASTIC

Theta has greatly improved her scholastic standing in the last year. Last year we were sixth the first semester and twelfth the second semester out of thirty-eight fraternities. This fine showing was due to Brother John Wild, who had an index of 6.25 for the first semester. This year we have Pledge Lisius, who was distinguished last year, to keep our average up.

—K Δ P—

Kappa Ohio State University

RUSHING

Kappa's rushing season has been fairly successful so far, and we are sure, before the rushing season is over, our pledge chapter will be among Kappa's largest for many years.

SOCIAL

On the week-end of the Ohio State-Purdue football game, October 1 and 2, our chapter accepted an invitation from the Delta Sigma Pi, professional Commerce fraternity, to a smoker on Friday evening and a dance on Saturday evening at their chapter house. A very hilarious and enjoyable week-end was had by all. Kappa will in the near future, return their invitation.

NEW HOME

The boys at Kappa have been rather busy lately, straightening up our new home located at 98 14th Avenue. Our new house is considerably larger and better equipped than the other one. The purchase of new furniture and rugs has certainly made the new home a very attractive place. We boys here at Kappa are quite pleased with the new surroundings and are extending an extra special invitation to anyone to be sure and drop out to see us and our new home anytime they are passing through Columbus.

We regret the loss of our faculty advisor, Max C. Weaver '36. Brother Weaver has received an appointment with the Internal Revenue Department and is located at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Richard A. Christian '38, is not back with us this year. Brother Christian was united in marriage last June to Miss Margaret Boyd of Columbus, Ohio. The happy couple are now residing at Canton, Ohio where Brother Christian is employed as salesman for the Canton Supply Company.

-К Δ Р-

Lambda University of California RUSHING

Lambda Chapter has been spending a good deal of time on rushing this semester due to the fact that we lost quite a large number of fellows at the end of last semester. At present we have six pledges and some very good prospects for several more very soon. All of the present pledges are living in the house and are very promising men. Bob McPhillamey is majoring in economics and is quite a debater. Les Ley is a commerce major and an all around athlete, having been in football, basketball, baseball, and track in Santa Cruz High School. Bob Williams is the only engineer among the pledges and was chosen by the pledges to their head man. Ken Kuney is from Tulare and is majoring in commerce. Ted Foster is also from Santa Cruz and is a premedical student. Jack Kelley from Dinuba is an economics student. All these fellows have what it takes and are sure to be an asset to the house.

SOCIAL

We started our social events this semester with a fireside dance at the house. The radio and a new supply of records were used to furnish music for the dancing.

On October 2, the members were feted to a dance at the house given by the pledges. The pledges decorated the house to look like a Harlem night club, with streamers, balloons, caricatures of members and guests, etc. Everybody came in the loudest and gaudiest clothes they could find in accordance with the Harlem theme. It was a very fine dance and the pledges deserve to be complimented on doing such a fine job.

The house enjoyed a lively picnic held in the hills of Berkeley. The picnic was to celebrate the winning of a keg of beer by the house for being the first house on the campus to have a 100 percent membership in the A. S. U. C. This makes the fourth consecutive year that the prize has been won by K. D. R. We played baseball and football until about one o'clock, then we ate and consumed our winnings. Everyone had plenty to eat and drink and went home anticipating the time when we would have another picnic.

INTRAMURAL

K. D. R. has entered in touch football, tennis, and tackle football already this semester. We have played several touch games but were defeated on our last game. We are ready to play our first game of tackle. Having a lot of good men it is possible we can reach the finals easily. We have played only one tennis match as vet so it is difficult to predict what will happen in this sport.

ALUMNI

Three of the members who graduated last fall are working in the Bay area and are living in the house. Bernhard is working in San Francisco. He has a good position with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Russell is now working in the Oakland office of the East Bay Water District. He spent the summer working for the same company but worked out of Lodi. Merle Garing has gotten a start with a new company which manufactures and sells portable forms for concrete. As it is a new company, Brother Garing has a very good opportunity of becoming a partner in the company.

MEMBERSHIP

OFFICERS

GRADUATES

Merle Garing is living at the house. Paul Bernhard is living at the house and is working for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Eugene Berkencamp is working for the government forestry service in Sequoia National Park.

* Inactive members.

Mu

University of Michigan

PLEDGING

Rushing draws to a close and Mu seems assured of a dozen fine new pledges. In addition to Harry Benford, the pledge of last year, we have Bob Edwards, a transfer student from Colgate and a pledge of the Delta Chapter there. These two pledges will be initiated this fall.

DEPARTURES

John Bell, one of last year's initiates, spent the summer studying at the University of Nebraska and liked it so well that he is continuing his work there this year. We hope he remembers that the best medical school is here in Ann Arbor.

Frank Haight, another initiate of last year and Mu's former spark plug, has now become a tradition. He spent the summer working and traveling in the Rocky Mountains and in Western Canada. This year he is enrolled at the University of Iowa where he is continuing his studies in the political and social sciences.

ALUMNI

In August Phil Mathewson was married to Miss Jean McCouth of Hart, Michigan, and is now living at Lyndon Center, Vermont. Phil spent one year with us here, and left behind many friends. We feel confident that he will be a success in the field of education, and are looking forward to his sending some fine Kappa Delta Rho material to the various campuses.

Conrad E. Holben, former consul of Mu Chapter and a recent graduate of the engineering school here, was married this September to Miss Gladys Parkinson of Detroit. He is now with the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company at Akron, Ohio.

John S. Badger, former consul of Mu Chapter, has a position in a large department store in Cleveland. He is now sporting a new car, having lost "The Venerable Jitney."

Robert DeMund has a position with the Royalty Indemnity Company in Detroit, and is studying at law school on the side.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Social activities at Mu Chapter start with a Radio-Bridge Dance on October 16, the day of the Minnesota game. The big affair of the fall season will be the pledge formal to be given on the week-end of the chapter's homecoming and of the Chicago game on November 6.

Nu

Indiana University

INITIATION

THE ANNUAL Pledge Dance of Nu Chapter was held on November 6. Gene Kellam of Epsilon Chapter and his band furnished the music. Decorations reflecting the autumnal spirit were designed by the dance committee under the leadership of John Ling, social chairman.

The brothers at Nu are eagerly looking forward to the Indiana-Purdue game. We expect a large group of the boys from Theta Chapter to be down for the game, and we can promise that we will be able to show them a good time.

INITIATION

An initiation was held on the evening of October 5 for Sheldon Sanderson, Union Mills, Indiana; Robert Cheak, Attica, Indiana; James Neighbours, Wabash, Indiana; and Bruce Noyes, Watertown, Massachusetts. An initiation banquet was held immediately following the ceremony.

PLEDGES

So many of the active members of Nu came back to school this semester that it was only necessary to pledge three men. These were: Max Garrison, Frankfort, Indiana; Bill Allen, Hillsboro, Indiana; and Reed Giese, Gary, Indiana.

INTRAMURALS

Under the capable and efficient management of our intramural manager Brother Hamlike, Nu has made great strides toward several intramural trophies. The golf and tennis teams have given a good account of themselves, and as this copy is being written the football team hasn't lost a game.

ALUMNI

John Neal '26, has just accepted a position as editor and general manager of the Murray, Kentucky, Ledger. Brother Neal has been advertising manager of the Bloomington, Indiana, Evening World ever since his graduation.

Gordon Spellman '35, was recently married to Miss Jean Barr, Delta Delta Delta.

Mayer Maloney '36, is now representing a life insurance company in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Clifford J. Myers '36, is now working in Chicago.

Pi

Gettysburg College

PLEDGING

DURING a ten-day rushing season, Kappa Delta Rho pledge pins were placed on ten eager freshmen, proving the boys of Pi Chapter to be good salesmen. Brother John D. Alexander '39, did a fine bit of work in the capacity of rushing chairman and deserves our hearty congratulations.

Three pledges, Robert L. Cook, Foster F. Flegeal, and Samuel S. Shoemaker swell the ever-growing group of Harrisburg boys while Louis C. Griggs and L. Stanley Whitson hail from Cumberland, Maryland. Other pledges include Frank A. Mauger, Malvern, Pennsylvania; Walter H. Mirschel, Hempstead, New Jersey; Wayne C. Neuhaus, Glen Rock, Pennsylvania; Robert E. Swope, Collingswood, New

SENIOR SPONSORS

Brothers James M. Smith '38, and Musser D. White '38, received the distinguishing honor of being chosen as senior sponsors for the incoming freshmen during freshman week which opened September 13 and continued until the formal opening of the college on October 18. A sponsorship is one of the highest honors to which a senior can aspire and we join in extending our heartiest congratulations.

WEDDING BELLS

Cupid seems to have taken some of our recently graduated alumni by storm during the summer months. The Rev. Brother Paul H. Smith '34, married Miss Kathryn Picking of York on June 15. Brother Smith is pastor of the Luthern Church in Lineboro, Maryland, where the newly-weds reside. He is also a graduate of Gettysburg Theological Seminary in the class of 1937.

The marriage of Brother Harry E. Wenrich '35 to Miss Frances Ledain of Harrisburg on June 23 was followed a week later by that of Brother Russel W. Heiges '35 and Miss Janette Huber of Harrisburg on July 3. Brother Wenrich is coach of football and basketball at Circleville (West Virginia) High School where he teaches. Brother Heiges is an industrial chemist with the Armstrong Linoleum Company of Lancaster.

The fourth Pi alumnus to enter the marital bonds was Brother Russel M. Houghton '34, who married Miss Virginia Mitchell of Gettysburg. Brother Houghton is an industrial chemist with the Catylin Company of Metuchen, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS

Improvements made to the chapter house during the summer months included the painting of the exterior of the house and the laying of linoleum in the study rooms on second floor.

ALUMNI

Brother A. E. Armitage '14, was recently re-elected to the office of mayor of Collingswood, New Jersey, to serve another four-year term.

Brother George F. Harkins '37, has enrolled at the Gettysburg Theological Seminary to prepare for the ministry.

Brother Bernard Rehmeyer '37, is vice-president of the Summit Lumber Company in New Freedom, Pennsylvania.

Brother E. Earl Albig '37, is connected with a newspaper establishment in West Newton, Pennsylvania.—WM. L. WALKER.

Sigma Oregon State College

ACTIVITIES

Away our West where the sun sinks into the distant hills, Sigma is looking forward to another banner year. Despite the severe blow to our expectations for a new house, the morale of the house has reached a new high and we refuse to be stopped. Woe unto those who stand in our way. Very definite plans are being made to carry out our remodeling program next summer as we have members and pledges hanging out of windows and strung from the rafters.

Our rushing program was very successful and culminated with the pledging of eleven very fine boys: Russel Harris, Salem; Jasper Hills, Pleasantville; Wilbur Hoops, Cottage Grove; William Larson, Baker; John McBeth, Forest Grove; Norman Thorson, Cottage Grove; Tom Stretcher, Hillsboro; and Kenneth Turner, Wheeler, all of the class of '41; Robert Tulley, Portland, class of '40; Jay Hughes and Morris Robertson, class of '39. With these men added to our roster we are sure to be up with the best of them in the years to come.

With Lenn Pierson swinging his "mailed fist" over the manager's desk of The Beaver, Oregon State yearbook, Kappa Delta Rho again leads in an important activity. Brother Pierson looks forward to producing a bigger and better Beaver than ever before put out.

Bob Walker, house prexy, also did his share in keeping the Kappa Delta Rho flag at the top of the mast by taking the junior class presidency by a comfortable margin. With Bob at the helm the junior class should go places this year.

Imrie Conn boosted both the flag and pole a couple of feet higher by pulling a sit-down strike at the desk of the advertising manager of the Barometer, Oregon State daily, until they gave him the job to get rid of him. He really is doing a fine job and more power to him.

William Larson, one of our new pledges puffed and blew and puffed his way into the first band on his initial try.

ALUMNI

Tennessee Moore, Sigma '36, took the long deep plunge into the sea of matrimony Sunday evening, September 26, with Alice Reed, Oregon State '37. The best of luck to you, Tennessee.

Another of our alums, Mel Breese, Sigma '36, is also contemplating the fatal dive. He is engaged to Betty Beaty, Oregon State '37, with the big day as yet unknown.

Howard Collins, Sigma '37, is working for the State Board of Forestry. He still burns up the wires every time he gets in town and the big "kid" is quite proud of his new badge which he claims is much "prettier" than the United States Forest Service badge that some of the boys sported this summer.

William Marshall, Sigma '37, is working out of the county agent's office in Eugene, Oregon. He sports a new car and three pretty secretaries, but he refuses to introduce the latter.

Thomas Caldwell, Sigma '37, is county agent at large with headquarters in his suitcase; however, he is located in Prineville at the moment.

Robert Rinehart, Sigma '37, has enrolled at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland, Oregon, following in the footsteps of his father.

Roland Schmitt, Sigma '37, is roaming around loose somewhere in California, address unknown.

Oh yes, Tom Ornsdorff, Sigma '26, is the proud father of a bouncing baby daughter. We have not as yet tendered our advice as regards a name but will take care of it in the near future.

ATHLETICS

With Woodrow Damarell at the wheel our intramural sports program now gets under way with the touch football season started. We have a well organized team and have been listed by the dopesters as the league's dark horse. However, we expect to come out in the open as the league champ. We also have several first class basketball players back in Brick Holstrom, Herb Wymore, and Hal Mackin as well as several very good players from the pledge ranks in Jap Hills, Jay Hughes, and Morris Robertson, around who we expect to build an exceptional team.

We are looking to Jack Kelly, Sigma's prize fisticuffer and all-college lightweight champion, to add to his laurels this year.

Dick Blasen made the freshman golf team last spring and Howard Carlson was outstanding in the hurdles on the Rook track squad while Bill Semler and Glen Ireland threw their way to a set of numerals on the Rook baseball team.

According to "Slats" Gill, genial Oregon State baseball mentor, he has a real find in Bernie Orell, Sigma '39. Brother Orell showed outstanding ability as first string catcher on the varsity squad and earned a letter in that sport.

Throughout the season, Brother Orell's fine generalship as a receiver and hitter bolstered the Orange attack in many a tight spot.

Dick Sutherland, Sigma '38, is continuing his remarkably fine play at end on the Orange varsity for his third straight year of intercollegiate football. We are looking for great things from him the coming season and know he will live up to advance notices.

SOCIAL

Our social program is getting under way with October 16 set as the date for our fall house dance. It is to be a semi-formal affair and undoubtedly will be a huge success under the capable direction of Fritz Smith, social chairman. There will also be a sport dance given by the pledges November 20.

GENERAL

We are fortunate in having as our guest, Phil White from the Lambda Chapter at the University of California at Berkeley.

Tau Carnegie Institute of Technology

Work is being carried on to establish an active K. D. R. and D. M. Alumni. We are sending word to all the K. D. R.'s and D. M.'s living in the Pittsburgh district of a meeting to be held Sunday, October 17 at the Tau Chapter house. Starting with a nucleus of men from Tau of K. D. R. and from the local chapter Delta Mu, it is our purpose to form a permanent and active Pittsburgh Alumni Association for fellowship after graduation. Brothers

Westover, Emery, Reilly, Moore, and Lenz are very much interested in creating a live wire alumni organization in Pittsburgh. A year 'round program of social events is planned for the benefit of alumni and active brothers. Brother Ed Reilly is building a new house in Pittsburgh, and his address is Box 149-D, R. D. No. 8, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Brother McRoberts has quit school teaching, and is now doing seismographic work with a Houston, Texas, oil company. Brother Hoffman is now working with the Boeing Aircraft Company, Seattle, Washington. Brother Moiles comes in a few weekends from Philadelphia where he and Brother Ditzler are employed at Leeds and Northrup. Brothers Tom Westover at Allis Chalmers, Jim Reynolds at National Tube, Robert Bonn of Iota at Acme Appliance are living at Tau Chapter house. Brother Lenz is working for the Union Drawn Steel Company, Massillon, Ohio. Brother Moore of 192 Sheridan Avenue, Bellevue, Pennsylvania, is the proud father of a baby girl. We would appreciate it very much if our alumni would keep us informed of their changes of address. Just drop us a card, please.

The active chapter officers for this year are: Consul, Brother Knights; Quaestor, Brother Whitman; Emptor, Brother Wallace; Praetor, Brother Edwards; Pontifex, Brother Helmer.

Pledges Geiss and Jackson were initiated Sunday, October 10. This year Brother Geiss again wears the skirts of the Kiltie Band, and Brother Edwards is an editor on the staff of the Carnegie Technical, a school engineering magazine.

MIXING 'EM UP

DURING the week-ends of the Cornell-Penn State and the Cornell-Colgate football games, the Beta house was the week-end host of a good-sized group of Brothers from Zeta and Delta.

With the fine spirit of fellowship and friendliness, not only the boys themselves but also the chapters, benefited by this intermingling of members; and the friendly feeling of the chapters was more closely cemented.

College years are the ripe time for making lasting friendships, and it is our hope that more of these visits will take place, and that the paths between our chapters will be kept increasingly blazed, and the belonging to Kappa Delta Rho will become more significant than ever.

WHEN THE STEED IS STOLEN, SHUT THE STABLE DOOR

With the announcements of recent robberies at Beta and Tau Chapter houses, it may not be amiss to sound out a warning to our members.

A fraternity house is generally considered a very easy prey for a robbery. They occur regularly on every campus. It might be worthwhile for every Chapter to secure keys for their members, and then see that doors, windows, etc., are locked every night and at any other time when no one is in the house.

Certainly past experience has proven that more caution can be practiced, and eternal vigilance is necessary.
