COVER: The New Upsilon Chapter House, recently acquired by the chapter. The house is a two story stucco building, trimmed in green and is situated just across the street from the campus. In the back yard is a swimming pool, which is quite a popular mecca for the students of Fresno. Across the street are the University's tennis courts, which provide amusement for the non-swimming brothers. Upsilon's new address is 1023 Weldon Ave., Fresno, California.

Prison Inmates, "How Come?"

By ALFRED C. SCHMITT, Ph. D.

Director of Library and the Department of Religious Activities of the California State Prison at San Quentin. (Recently retired on account of age limit.) Member Sigma Chapter, K.D.R.

Alfred C. Schmitt, Sigma

In discussing the problems of prisons, the question which first arises in one's mind is, Why the criminal? When one purchases a certain quantity of fruit there are always some specimens in the lot showing signs of decay or rot sooner than others. Some may have blotches, some rust spots; some may be worm eaten, and some imperfect in shape. The reasons for these imperfections are not difficult to discover. Horticulturists have so carefully and completely diagnosed these imperfections that by looking at a defective specimen they can tell what caused the deterioration. Some may have been grown on poor stock, some on diseased trees, some may have been produced on soil having a superabundance of moisture, and so the fruit lacks solidity. Some may have grown in a section where injurious bacteria and fungi were allowed to go unchecked, or where moths or other destructive vermin had free course. It is possible that some of the infected specimens obtained their blemish by lying next to a rotten or infected specimen. The saying: "One rotten apple soon spoils a barrel," is still operative.

In order to produce marketable fruit the proper conditions must be maintained: fruit trees cannot be allowed to blossom and develop fruit without care. Trees must be grafted, or budded, pruned and sprayed at the proper time—when the fruit is still small. Fruit after it sets from the blossom needs to be inspected from time to time, culled, and the imperfect specimens removed. Then for the fruit to be readily marketable it must be gathered at the right time. In other words, to produce desirable fruit for human consumption, there must be constant care and struggle against adverse conditions and elements causing deterioration and destruction.

What is true of the growth and development of desirable fruit is true also, in a way, of human beings. Wherever there is found an individual having tendencies, habits or characteristics causing him to be an undesirable unit in the community, there are always causes for that abnormality. There is naturally a vast difference between a specimen of fruit and an individual in society. Man is created in the image of God his Creator, he is a spiritual being, having the capacity of unlimited development spiritually, of knowing right from wrong, and of choosing his own course of action and conduct. Freedom of will to choose his own course of action naturally involves the possibility of making the wrong choice. Man is capable of being educated and trained in his understanding and in making his decisions of what is right and wrong. Because of his freedom to choose his course of action, and because of his capacity to know right from wrong, man is held accountable for his actions and conduct by both God and his fellowmen.

When a human being is an infant his parents or guardians look after his welfare: food, clothing and the necessities of life. They see that he has proper care, proper teaching, proper surroundings, proper bringing-up. Where the proper teaching and the proper surroundings are neglected there is certain to be trouble sooner or later with the individual in his relation to his fellowman.

When an infant first enters the world he is naturally selfish and inconsiderate of others in the satisfaction of his wants and desires. He insists, evidenced by his cries and cooings, on having his bodily wants satisfied no matter where, when or in whose presence; he insists on having his nourishment and on performing his bodily eliminations without restraint. It is the duty of parents to so rear the child that it will realize and overcome its selfishness, and will fit into organized society, where individuals cannot have their own way prompted by their impulses, but must so shape their wants and desires as to make it possible for all to enjoy the greatest freedom and happiness. Putting it in another way, an infant needs to have new unselfish ideas and desires developed (ingrafted) in his mind, which will direct him to practice self-control and to choose for himself what is best for others and for all. Should the parents or guardians fail or prove negligent in this duty, the child enters society as a misfit, and is certain to cause trouble for both himself and others. We have all witnessed the conduct of children and grownups insisting on having their own way, regardless of the consequences to themselves and others. An individual never having acquired the art of self-denial and self-control harbors within himself a weakness which will cause him to come in conflict with his fellowmen and with the law.

In the bringing-up of a child the parents (home) have the first and greatest opportunity and responsibility. Along with the training in the home comes the training provided through the public schools. The schools have the responsibility of edu-

St. Michael's Indian Mission

By CLIFFORD WILSON, Eta, Ex '27

I am very glad indeed to have the privilege of telling you about my work among the Arapahoe Indians, and I invite you to stop off on your way to Yellowstone Park to visit our Mission. Although I am listed as Headmaster at St. Michael's Mission School, my work includes everything from being a teacher and preacher to being a farmer and midwife.

I came to St. Michael's Mission in November of 1936, and I have enjoyed my work with the Indians very much. They are a very sensitive people whom the Government and the Missions have spoiled and taken all their responsibilities from them, and now it is the task of everybody to train them to be responsible and self-reliant again. It is a long slow process, but the first step was taken when the boarding schools were discontinued in 1938.

The Arapahoe Indians are one of the finest Tribes of Indians in the United States. They live on the Wind River Reservation which is situated in the central part of Wyoming. It is a large fertile valley. The Shoshones occupied the entire Reservation until 1876 when a treaty was made whereby the Shoshones gave up half of the Reservation to the Arapahoes. Since that time there has been very little intermingling between the two tribes. Physically, mentally, linguistically, and religiously the two tribes are considered very different.

The Arapahoes are one of the tallest and largest people of any race. They are typical Plains Indians. In the early days they roamed the plains of Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas moving with the seasons or the migration of the buffalo or other large game.

The Arapahoes have always been a very religious people, regarded as such by both Whites and Indians. They call themselves Nunna-e-na (People of God). They have the story of Creation which is similar to the Bible history. They look for the coming of the "Great Deliverer" who will come from the West accompanied by the great host of the departed. Their doctrines of religion, sacred ceremonies, traditions, history, and folk lore are handed down from generation to generation orally, and through these teachings they can trace their history for many centuries back to the migration to this continent. They claim that 7 Old Men (700 years) ago the tribe crossed the ice far away in the north west. The Sacred Pipe, which was given to them by Jevaneauthau (God) when he created the earth, has led them safely in their pilgrimage through the ages to the present time.

The Sun-Dance is their greatest religious ceremony. It takes place during the latter part of July and there are generally three days of fasting and dancing. The participants of the dance are those who have made vows of sacrifice. The ceremony is divided into secret rites and public performance. The secret rites are held in a tipi where the priests congregate

If You Want Him to Be a K.D.R.

This next year will be a difficult year for fraternities in general, since it is expected that there will be a large decrease in enrollment in all institutions over the country. Consequently, each chapter will have to work extra hard on rush in order that they will have a sufficient number to operate successfully. This can be done if each and everyone of us will do our part in the rushing program.

If you know of any good freshmen, entering any institution where there is a chapter of Kappa Delta Rho, it would be greatly appreciated if you would forward the information on to the Rushing Chairman of our chapter at that institution. If you have information for several chapters, and feel that you do not have the time to write several letters, write one to this office and the information will be forwarded.

PRISON INMATES

cating the individual mentally, morally and physically. The schools need to provide the proper surroundings and moral standards in the school-room and on the playground. Then the church has a certain responsibility with regard to the inculcation and cultivation in the mind of the individual of the proper attitude and relation to his fellowman and to God his Creator. The church needs to supplement the teaching of the home in regard to what is right and proper and what is wrong, and with regard to what is sin and wrong-doing and the moral and spiritual consequences. It is the responsibility of the home and the church to acquaint the individual with the provision God has made for the pardon of sin. Then the community has a responsibility with regard to the moral atmosphere and surroundings in which the individual grows up, as to the opportunities he has for obtaining an education and doing honest labor. The community should assist the home and the church and the school in inculcating in the mind of the youth a knowledge of and respect for the laws of the community and nation, and the need for the observance of the same, and the punishment consequent upon the disregard of and actions contrary to the laws.

All too often parents neglect their duty and opportunity in properly directing and instructing the child committed to their care. God provided for each child a father and a mother to love, protect, nurture, clothe, educate morally and spiritually, and thus fit him to become a useful and law-abiding citizen. It requires a father and a mother to fulfill this task, and where one or the other is missing there exists an abnormal situation, foreboding trouble. In the present day divorce and separation rob some children of a proper bringing up, and leave in their wake broken homes. Occasionally, too, a youngster runs away from home because the discipline maintained by parent is objectionable to him, and thus he deprives himself of the training and instruction so needful for a happy and useful career. Where a home is broken-up through separation, divorce or death the children are left to the mother or father to rear and educate, or possibly to the grand-parents or relatives, or even to the county. God in His wisdom did not intend it thus, and parents by means of the divorce mill cannot escape the responsibility which God placed squarely upon their shoulders. It is true that because of the death of one of the parents, which causes a broken home, one of these make-shift homes is the best that can be provided. The records the writer maintained at the prison of the newly arrived inmates evidenced that between 50 to 60 per cent. of the inmates came from broken homes. It is in the home where prison inmates formed the habits and acquired the traits which later on led them to commit criminal acts, bringing them in conflict with the law. It is well to bear in mind that there is no such thing as a criminal class. There is no proof of the inheritance of criminal tendencies. The criminal population is a normal population. The tendencies toward a career of crime start invariably in the home, and in the early years of the criminal. The mal-adjustment of the parent-child relationship is one of the outstanding factors contributing to the increase of the criminal population. Dr. John Slawson of New York City rightfully made the statement that "The time has come for us to focus our attention upon the high chair, not on the electric chair." Every child needs to learn the lesson of self-denial and self-control. Austin H. MacCormick of the Department of Correction of the City of New York stated that "A nation has about as much crime and delinquency as it deserves. America is said to be the most crime-ridden nation in the world." Most of our criminals constituting the prison population get their start in criminal activity in the home.

Children in these broken or improvised homes are often neglected in the provision of proper food and clothing and moral training by word and example. Many a youngster at a tender age is allowed to shift for himself. It is easier to steal food and clothing than to earn it by honest labor. The only knowledge of right and wrong some of these youngsters have is what they obtained in the public schools and from their playmates. It is well known that our public schools are handicapped and lacking in the teaching of morals. It is really no fault of some of these youths that they were neglected in the home and were pushed out into the world unprepared to fit into the social order.

Father Edward Joseph Flanagan of Bboys Town (Omaha) has said, "It is love which makes good boys, and the lack of it which makes bad boys out good." This kind of love which transforms the lives of bad boys and guides them in the path of right is not sentimental love, but the love that emanates from God our Creator. God endowed parents with this love, and when parents walk and live in the fear and love of God they will love their children, and will endeavor to bring them up in the love and fear of God. Some of the sadest experiences the writer had as director of the library and the department of religious activities of the California State Prison, at San Quentin, were those where newly arrived inmates confided to him, in his private interviews with them, that their parents had never cared for them or loved them, that neither the church nor their fellowmen ever showed any interest in them. It is difficult for those of us who have had loving parents and friends to appreciate the attitude of mind and heart of a boy or man who feels that no one ever had any love for him or cared for him. It is the love of father and mother in the normal home which fondled the children in infancy, provided for them the material necessities of life, guided their foot steps in the way of right, imparted and interpreted to them the love which God has for all mankind, particularly for those who respond to His love. It is in such a home where the child is taught to love the church for what it stands, and to love his fellowman, and to have regard for him and for his possessions, and for the laws made by society for the welfare of all. The boy who has love in his heart for his neighbor will not steal from him, will not take undue advantage of him, will not murder him. Love for parents, love for God as He is manifested to us in the life and teaching of Jesus, love for brother-man, this love and the reverence that springs from it impels an individual to have regard for what is right and for what the laws of God and man require, and it gives courage and strength in the face of temptation to live a law-abiding life. The lack of this love leaves an individual cold, indifferent, hardened towards God and fellowman, ready to take advantage of him when the opportunity presents itself. "No one can be a Christian and a criminal at the same time."

Idleness is one of the causes leading to delinquency. Boys of the present day do not have the chores to do the boys of a generation or two back had to do in the home. There is the parental tendency to shelter youth against the hard ways of a former generation, and to pity the boys that have to hustle instead of play. Satan finds work for idle hands. The boy that is kept busy is the one that keeps out of trouble. During the past two decades the age of the criminal population has been steadily declining, that is another way of saying that most of the crimes committed are perpetrated by young men, some mere boys, between the ages of 18 and 25. Lack of employment during recent years has had much to do with the increase of youthful offenders. The Boy Scout organization is a wonderful and commendable institution, and achieves much in giving those belonging to it the right outlook and attitude towards life and fellowman. But the Boy Scout organization will not and does not keep boys and young men from committing crime and becoming inmates of a prison. It tends strongly to lessen the number of its members from becoming criminals.

The main causes tending and leading to the commission of crime as shown by the records of the prison where the writer was employed, in their order of importance, are as follows: broken homes, the use of alcoholic liquor, bad companions, love for adventure, bad environment, idleness and many others. There is no one remedy that will serve as a "cure all," and will reclaim and rebuild the lives of prison inmates. Education, the acquisition of a trade, religion, psychiatry, recreation, punishment, and others, all have a place in the rehabilitation of a criminal. A prison is supposed to be a place where human lives are reclaimed and rebuilt. But all too often the prison experience wrecks the life of the inmate. A prison inmate must be willing to be rehabilitated and must go out of his way to achieve this aim in order to be bettered morally by his incarceration. The man who has served a prison term, with few exceptions, has left only a broken life. It is most difficult for an ex-convict to get a new start in the business world or to gain the respect of the community in which he may choose to live. If he decides to reside in a place where his past is unknown and under an assumed name, he will always live under the constant dread that at some unexpected moment his identity may become known. Both the state and the federal authorities take and preserve on file the finger-prints of all prison inmates, all states and the federal government co-operating. The officers of the law endeavor to keep track of the whereabouts of ex-convicts. The habits the inmates acquire while incarcerated constitute one of the greatest handicaps to the leading of a normal life on being set free.

College trained men may take the attitude that serving a term of imprisonment is not a likelihood for them, but prison records do not bear out this assertion. During his connection with the California State Prison at San Quentin, the writer personally interviewed prison inmates who had attended or were graduates of some of the leading universities of our nation, including graduates from Harvard, Yale and Princeton, and outstanding foreign universities. Theodore Roosevelt remarked that an educated man without the needed moral training was like a trained tiger turned loose on society. Some of the greatest criminals on record have been highly educated men. Crime is more prevalent among the uneducated than among the educated. In general the indication is that the more schooling a youngster gets the less likely he is of becoming involved in crime. The question arises whether schooling tends to diminish propensity to crime or whether propensity to crime tends to diminish desire for schooling. Since criminal tendencies make themselves known early in life, it is quite likely that the latter is the correct statement. There is no connection between knowledge and morality in the sense that one implies the other. A child can be taught that it is wrong to lie or steal even before he knows his ABC's. In general it may be said that education tends to make one more proficient in the art of self-control, and it is upon self-control, rather than upon the acquisition of knowledge, that the emphasis should be placed. This is merely another way of saying that it is moral character rather than learning which keeps people from entering on a criminal career.

It may be asked, why bring religion into an article on the criminal? From his experience in working with prison inmates the writer is convinced that in order to rehabilitate an inmate of a prison it is not enough to develop his mind, teach him a trade, accord him mental treatment and place him on probation, but someone or something must change his heart, something must reach his very soul, and the greatest agency for accomplishing this end is religion. Youth as well as criminal offenders need to have inculcated into their soul the principles of right living as expressed and exemplified by Christ. If everyone were to live up to the principles of Christianity as taught in the Bible and by the church, there would be no crime and no prison inmates.

each day and spend their time in the performance of certain rites, consisting of smoking, feasting, praying, and the preparation of objects that are to be used upon the altar or worn during the public performance. The public ceremony takes place in a roofless inclosure with a tall center pole to a partially covered structure, consisting of an outer row of forked uprights connected by crossbars, from which rafter poles extend to the fork of the center pole. The opening of the inclosure always faces the East. The dancers are painted and wear only blessed garments. The dancers are decked with sage wreaths about the head, neck, waist, wrists, and ankles, and they blow on whistles made of the wing-bones of eagles to accompany Sun-dance songs, which are sung by musicians seated about a large drum at the southern side of the entrance. At the close of the performance the dancers take an emetic, drink medicine-water, break fast, and then enter the sweat-lodge.

In 1883 the Rev. Dr. John Roberts established the Agency school at Fort Washakie, and for many years the Arapahoes attended boarding school there. In 1910 the Arapahoes told Bishop N. S. Thomas they wanted a Church and School for their people. Bishop Thomas sent out a plea for money and with the first he received he purchased the 40 acres of land where St. Michael's Mission now stands. The process of building the Mission was very slow and there are a great many things yet to be done.

The Mission is laid out in the form of a circle, Indian Council style, with stone and log buildings facing it. There is a large school building which houses four class rooms, and activity room, office, school dispensary, kitchen and large dining room. There is a work shop for boys, Chaplain's home, headmaster's home, arts and craft building, large store building, club building, Deaconess' home, Chapel and Coolidge guest house all facing the circle. The gymnasium and all the farm buildings are outside of the circle.

Since the beginning of the establishment of the school at St. Michael's Mission, the school was a boarding school until September 1938 and since that time it has been a day school with buses going out in the morning and picking up the children and taking them home in the evening. At noon the children are furnished a good balanced dinner to supplement the very poor diet most of them receive at home.

Our school is now just an elementary school. Our main objective is to prepare the children to do better what they will probably do after they leave us. After the children have finished the eight grades here, they can attend the Government High School at Fort Washakie or the Lander High School or go to one of the Government Boarding High Schools. Some of the children don't go to high school anywhere. In the first five grades straight academic work is stressed. In the three upper grades the girls are given home economics and home nursing, and the boys are given woodwork and agriculture in addition to their academic work.

There is no law to compel an Indian child to attend school, so we must furnish every incentive for his wanting to attend, and we have found that by making the rules for participation in athletics and gym classes very strict, we are able to obtain a high percentage of attendance. In order to compete with white schools, we must keep up to their standards in academics, sanitation and equipment. This year St. Michael's Mission was the only Indian school admitted to the Junior High Basketball Tournament. In the last four years our basketball team has lost only two games, and for the last three years the team has won the Tournament.

All medical work is under the supervision of the Medical Director of the Reservation with whom we are working in closest cooperation. The health program is stressed throughout all the grades. The children are weighed monthly and those not making satisfactory progress are put in a special nutrition group receiving a breakfast of hot cereal and milk and extra rest is advised where necessary. The younger children receive toast and milk and cod liver oil as a mid-morning lunch. A home nursing class is held weekly for the women and all mothers are urged to bring their babies to the dispensary for general health supervision.

The Spiritual Nurture of the children is well cared for in the short daily Chapel Service, in week-day religious instruction in the class room and in Church School on Sunday. In fact the teachers try to have every part of their work serve as a school in Christian living. The curriculum material is carefully graded as to content and practice. There are the following religious organizations: Choir, Acolyte's Guild, Junior Chapter of the Daughters of the King, and a Young People's Fellowship. For the mothers there is the very active branch of the Ethete Indian Auxiliary which is doing a truly splendid work, as far as they are able, in the Five Fields of Service. We received a letter from the National Headquarters of the Bundles for Britain that our Indian Auxiliary was the first Indians to send in a box of clothing. They supplied the materials and made the garments themselves.

We have an active Parent-Teacher Association which is just local this year. The aim of this organization, besides the regular aims of the PTA, is to get a local law for compulsory education. We also have a committee to investigate needy families so that we may be of help to those who really need help rather than those who are just lazy.

The active organizations, not directly connected with the Mission, are: Memorial Flower Clubs, where the women make paper flowers for decorating graves; the Farm Chapter, where the men discuss farming methods and problems; and the 4-H Clubs. These organizations are all very helpful to the Indians and are all very well attended.

Steve, catching for the first time since his freshman year, started the season with three hits in his first game. He is backed up by Bro. Dingy Wright as substitute backstop.

Eddie Yeomans is one of the team's leading hitters again. In his freshman year he hit .411 but last year he dropped to a mere .395. Ed is improving in every game and still has a chance to regain his freshman average.

SENIORS

Alpha looks with regret to the graduation of its senior class. It is one of our strongest classes and is perhaps the strongest of any fraternity on campus. The three remaining classes will have to work hard to replace the "lucky thirteen," composed of Bros. Arnold, Bartlett, Brown, Bertuzzi, Coffrin, Easton, House, Ingalls, Pierrel, Treat, VanBuren, Warner, and Wright.

While several think the army has plans for them, others put other thoughts first. Len Brown made the fraternity jeweler happy by purchasing a wedding ring while the same man made Chuck Bartlett all set for engagement.

Eddie Gignac, one of the foremost skiers of the East, is now in the Army Air corps training at Albany, Georgia. He will be followed shortly by Bertuzzi and Aldrich in the Army and by House and Wright in the Navy Air Corps.

Al VanBuren is planning for a "private" life in the Army beginning this summer.

Chuck Bartlett plans to make ammunition for the other boys in the Dupont plant in Charlestown, Indiana.

Nel Easton, another chemist, has a position with Merck and Co. in Rahway, N.J.

Len Brown has his eye on several positions and intends to spend the summer picking out the best.

Dick Treat is entering the advertising department of the Boston Post.

Alby Coffrin plans to enter the Cornell Law school next year.

Win Pierrel intends to take a course for librarians at Columbia next fall.

Larry Warner intends to keep up his piano playing by joining a dance band this summer.

Steve Arnold, president of the senior class, and Les Ingalls, Editor of the Kaleidoscope, have not decided on further plans yet.

ALUMNI

George Lewin, '40, now has a position with the Provident Mutual Insurance company in Philadelphia. George spent a month here this spring recovering from his operations and left well on the way to recovery.

Bro. Russel Norton is leaving his position as instructor here to teach at the Chapman Technical High School, New London, Connecticut, next fall.

Art Jamieson, '43, George Fairchild, Bob Anderson, '40, and the Winslow brothers have visited the house this spring.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

On March 24, the chapter had its annual election of officers for the coming year. The new officers took office at the first meeting after Spring vacation. The new officers are: Consul, Lloyd Peele; Senior Tribune, Stewart Owre; Junior Tribune, Al Kopycznski; Pontifex, Douglas Wright; Centurion, Parnell McCarthy; Praetor, Moncure Way; Proprietor, John Burke; Custodian, Stanley Smith. Committee chairmen are as follows: Social Chairman, Walter Zera; Rushing Chairman, John Burke; Athletic Manager, Al Kopycznski. Retiring Consul Ray Hubbard thanked the fellows for their cooperation in the past and hoped that they would continue their good work.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Since his election, "Red" Zera has been quite active. The house has had two very successful vic dances, and Sunday, April 20, the fellows had dates at the house for dinner. Plans are now taking shape for the annual Spring Day houseparty. There will be a dance at the house on May 17, and the highlight of houseparty will be the Navy Day Ball in Barton Hall on May 16. The orchestras for the ball will be Jimmy Dorsey and Charlie Spivak. It looks as though this will be the most successful houseparty in many years.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Under the able direction of "Stew" Owre the K.D.R. four man crew is rapidly taking shape. It looks as though it should be highly successful in the inter-fraternity crew race in May.

The softball team got off to a bad start by losing its first game but came back stronger than ever to win its second game with Charles Clements, a veteran pitcher for KDR, on the mound hurling eight strike-outs. "Mac" McCarthy leads the batters with an average of 857% for the first two games. We have an excellent chance of placing first in our league.

CORNELL DAY

Every year on the first weekend in May the university celebrates Cornell Day during which the fraternities entertain sub-frosh. There will be about twenty sub-frosh at Beta this year and also several alumni who are bringing some of the boys here. The activities will include a banquet at the house and many and variety shows and tours on the campus. Cornell Day Chairman Lloyd Peel is working hard on a program for the entertainment of these boys.

RUSHING

We would like to have the names of any prospective rushing material for next year. If you have heard or know anyone coming to Cornell next year, send their name to either John Burke, 2106 Summit Ave., St. Paul, Minnesota or to Lloyd Peele, Rock Stream, New York.

ALUMNI NEWS

Howard Clements was one of the first Betas to join the service of Uncle Sam. His address is Headquarters Battery, 33 Coast Artillery (Anti-aircraft), Camp Hulen, Texas. We would be interested in hearing from other Betas in the army. Bud Pultz and Otto Marquart will be joining your ranks in June. JOHN BURKE.

Gamma

N.Y. State College for Teachers

ELECTIONS

Gamma has elected its officers for the coming year. Leslie Graves, of Oxford, N.Y., was elected Consul to succeed Ralph Clark. Les is a versatile man, having served prominently in both athletic and musical circles.

Roy McCreary, present Senior Tribune, will be replaced by Hubert Moore, from Long Island. Huby, the "little devil" of Gamma has been one of the leading social lights of the "teachers-to-be." Huby has recently announced that in the forthcoming year he will lead the life of a bachelor, in order to give more time to the fraternity.

Rushing chairman for next year will be Robert Leonard of Saranac. He will take over for Ed Holstein, well known in college journalistic circles. "Snowball" Leonard is the Bob Feller of State College, and during the winter warmed up for the season by putting a snowball through the front window. (The snow was used to revive the House-manager.)

Robert Meek, present secretary, was voted treasurer for the following year. Bob has worked hard for the fraternity, and it is only a fitting honor. His duties as secretary will be taken over by Jack Smith of Middletown, home of last year's Consul Otto Howe who is now teaching in Richburg, N.Y.

Bill Forrest of Cornwall will take over the duties of Pontifex from Warren Wagner. Bill was defeated for President of the freshman class by a girl with a two vote plurality, and is now running against another girl for Secretary of the Student Association. At the time of writing, we do not know whom is following whom.

Top job of the year goes to Fred Beyer, of Sags Harbor. Fred, the sleepy eyed "glamour-pants" of Gamma, was dozing in his chair (per custom) when the person to care for the files, clean up after meetings, etc., was discussed. One of the brethren made a passionate speech, declaring the job called for a wide awake, alert young man, and then called for a unanimous vote for Fred. Awakened by the hearty round of clapping, Fred joined in, only to learn he was elected chief-nursemaid for the records.

With these men comprising the slate of officers, Gamma should be able to look forward to a year of steady progress, with the banner of "Honor Super Omnia" always in the fore.

KUSAK SPROUTS WINGS

Steve Kusak, senior, managing editor of the college paper, and member of Myskania, senior honorary leadership society, hopes to sprout wings—but all who know him can assure you he is no angel. Kusak has gone through the entire physical examination for the air force, although his appointment has not yet been made definite. The examiner, after looking over our handsome "little giant" called him a perfect specimen, except for a bit of obesity. From now on, he's "Downwind Kusak."

DRAFT HITS GAMMA— MANY CATCH COLD

American safety was recently assured by the addition of eight Gammas to the peace-time army. Those selected to help halt Hitler are Ray Carroll, Steve Bull, Bill Brophy, Moe Stevens, John Bakay, Steve Kusak, Ralph Clark, and pledge Ed Casler. With the exception of "Downwind" the boys will all be marching July first. Consul Clark, who used to be an athlete when he was in kindergarten, is especially looking forward to the long treks during training.

TO THE ALUMNI

Brother Ralph Beaver, secretary of the Gamma Alumni society, recently sent out notices of the house fund pledges to the various brothers in the field. To date, no extra postmen have been added to the force to carry the replies. To date Brother Beaver has not hired any guards to watch over the money that pours in with the replies the postman doesn't bring. Brother Beaver feels confident, however, that the alums will all reply as soon as they recover from the Easter Vacation.

ALUMS VISIT STATE

Returning to the old stamping grounds for one reason or another, a few of the alums have been dropping in lately. Among these were Clem Wolff, '39; Ed Sabol, '35; Bob Hertwig, '39; Jack Newstead, '41; Lonzo DuMont, and Sandy Porcino, '39.

SPORTS

Intramural softball has started, with the Panthers (the pride and joy of Gamma) out there fighting and making a bid for the trophy, despite the fact that the boys dropped their first game, by a close score. Brothers carrying the colors for Gamma include Stevens, Marsland, Ok-sala, Carroll, Vero, Veyer, Holstein, Bombard, and Hudson. Pledges Murray and Verrey complete the roster. Verrey hit the first home run of the season for the Panthers. He specialized in slugging, and is the most picturesque player on the field. Manager Vero predicts a successful season, with Moe Stevens smoking them over the plate. Moe specializes in curves—on the diamond.

LAST ISSUE OF YEAR

This issue winds up a year of activity, as far as the alums who read the "Quill and Scroll" are concerned. The magazine, for many of them, is the only connecting link—for many of them it must cause a wee bit of nostalgia as they think over their college days—the good times and perhaps the few flings that are normal for collegiates.

We urge the alumni to keep in closer touch with the school, and the fraternity, that once was all-important for them. Any alumni who wish to get perhaps a more informal view of the boys at Gamma may do so by sending in their address to the Consul. (They will then get the issues of the Gamma Gazette our modest little Pulitzer prize) when, and if, they are published.

As we draw the year to a close, we say au revoir (but we can't pronounce it) to those departing. They hand the torch down to us. We must hold it high.

HERBERT LENEKER.

Delta

ACTIVITIES

Delta is again up with the leaders of campus activities. Howie Sprow, '42, is giving a good account of himself on the varsity debate team and Charles Back, '44, is an up and coming debater of frosh vintage. One of our most busy men is "Buzz" Hewitt, '42, who is not only sports editor of the Maroon but also a member of the Salmagundi editorial board. Town Carpenter, '43, is also a member of the Salmagundi board. Dick Hall, '43, and Jack Sim, '43, were recently elected members of Maroon Key, junior honor society.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The main social event of the spring at Delta was her Junior Prom. This was one of the finest parties in Delta's history. There were almost 35 men and their dates in the house over the weekend of May 2. The house was decorated in Hawaiian style, indirect lighting lent subtle and intriguing colors to the living room while Tommy Kirkwood and his band furnished the music for Friday night's formal at the club. Saturday night the men danced to the refrains of Will Bradley at an All-College dance held in the Student Union. A new and novel idea of party favor was used at the house this year. It is called the Monte Carlo favor wheel. Considering everything Delta had one of the best parties on the campus this spring. We owe our thanks for this affair to Social Chairmen Russ Ide, '42, and Duke Heinlein, '42.

ELECTIONS

At a formal meeting last week the men of Delta elected a new contingent of officers for the coming year. These men we think will carry on the fine work of retiring Consul Richard Ried and his fellow workers. The newly-elected administrators are: Consul, Donald Colburn, '42; Senior Tribune, Howard Sprow, '42; Junior Tribune, Edward Jabara, '43; Proprietor, H. Townsend Carpenter, '43; Pontifex, Joseph Brewer, '42; Centurion, Clifford Ball,

'42; Secretary, Larry Barr, '42; Treasurer, Porter Plumstead, '42; Rushing Chairmen, Edward Jabara, '43, Gordon Hewitt, '42; Social Chairmen, Russell Ide, '42, Elmer Heinlein, '42; Steward, William Lauroesch, '42; House Manager, William Lauroesch, '42; Pledge Master, Gordon Hewitt, '42.

We of Delta extend our congratulations and pledge our cooperation to these men and we know they will keep Delta the leader she is on our campus.

RUSHING

As the affairs of both college and fraternity are coming to an end for the current school year Delta makes selections from the freshman class. Winding up a successful and eventful year they have pledged nineteen promising members of the class of '44.

It may seem a strange time to indulge in the habitual but necessary rituals of rushing and pledging but that is due to a system called "deferred rushing." Although there are pros and cons to this question as to all others the emphasis now is on its mechanics and not its merits.

This rushing technique is based on the theory that men of the incoming class will have a better opportunity to meet the members of the upper classes on somewhat more common ground. Therefore the actual formal rushing period is deferred until the week following spring vacation. At this time men in whom the fraternities are interested are given formal invitations to a certain number of lunches, dinners, and tunks. Here rushing is carried on of the type with which we are all familiar. Emphasis is put on getting a fairly good cross-section of the freshman class, regionally, mentally, and physically.

Among the athletes of this pledge class there are three football men: Howie McCleaves, Bob Orlando, and Bill Deming. Orlando is working for center while McCleave and Deming are working the backfield. Although football has spring practice now, the major sport of the season is baseball and Lou Bush and Bob Burlison make the up and coming Colgate battery.

Turning to the genteel but equally difficult sport of fencing we announce Hank Plant. This approach to the aesthetic leads us to Al Herman and Ernie Horton who vie for top honors as pianists. The other men of our incoming class are working for positions in intramurals and on publications with Charles Bach holding forth as number one debater.

TOWN CARPENTER.

Epsilon

Franklin

INITIATION

Epsilon chapter formally initiated John Duncan, '43, of South Bend, and Cecil Clore, '43, Bargersville, Ind., at a nine o'clock initiation on Sunday morning, April 20. Following initiation the entire chapter attended church services, then returned to the fraternity house for the initiation dinner. We feel that both men will prove to be valuable brothers; Duncan is active in basketball and baseball, while Clore is a member of the Franklin College choir and is in numerous other activities.

The chapter intends to hold a special initiation some Sunday in May for three pledges, which will start the chapter with twelve active members for next year, only two of which may be subject to draft duty under present conditions.

SPRING RUSH

Our annual Spring Rush Dance will be held on the night of May 31 at Porter's Camp, east of Edinburg, Ind. Following our traditional custom the dance will be preceded by a chicken dinner to be served in the camp's cafeteria. William Wilson, our capable social chairman, has secured the services of Joe Beardsley's band, one of the state's up and coming bands, for the dance. We anticipate between thirty-five and forty couples at the dance including many good prospects for pledges next year. This will be our last social affair of the season and we are striving to make it a big success.

We have already pledged two men in our spring rush, both of whom we believe will be competent fraternity men. Kempton Smith, '42, from Camden, New Jersey, plays a prominent part in extra-curricular activities. He has participated in many college dramatic productions, he is a prominent member of the debate squad of the college, and is the editor of the new college quarterly, Trend. Smith is also making a strong bid for the position of president of the student council next year which would add to his laurels and ours too. The other new pledge is Robert Volland, '43, from Columbus, Ind. Volland is an excellent student and will undoubtedly be an asset to us in the race for the college interfraternity scholarship plaque.

VARSITY SPORTS

Epsilon is proud of the brothers and pledges which have made such a notable showing on the Franklin College Grizzlies baseball team for Epsilon has five of the nine men on the team. Captain "Mike" Knauff, completing his fourth year of varsity baseball, is a real leader both in hitting and defense ability, and in spirit. William Spencer, the other senior of this quintet, is hindered at present by a leg injury but he is expected to start in center field the next game, a position he has held for two years now. Ray Hollenback is an outstanding pitcher in the Indiana Conference, having lost only two starts in three years of pitching against some of the best teams in the state. John Duncan is playing his second year in the infield and is a leading hitter as well as a capable infielder. Gene Fisher is surviving his baptism of fire in the infield very well and should develop into an outstanding player. The Grizzlies have won 4 of 5 starts this year, the latest victim being the University of Louisville 4-1. We sincerely hope they are on their way to a conference crown.

SCHOLARSHIP

Epsilon chapter held runner-up position in the interfraternity race for the Blue Key Scholarship Plaque, a competition which was very close indeed, and only a fraction of a point prevented us from carrying off honors.

Plans have been made by the chapter for the purchase of a freshman scholarship plaque, the purpose being to engrave the name of the freshman leading in scholarship on the plaque for each semester. We intend this to be a step in the right direction in encouraging freshmen to study as well as participate in other phases of college life.

INTRAMURALS

Our intramural teams seem to have hit a mid-season slump, however, despite the slump we are still riding in first place in the total number of points for the year's large intramural trophy. Our basketball team had to be content with a third place in the final standing despite a good start. The ping-pong team fared no better in tournament play, the result being another third place. The baseball team has lacked the necessary punch as yet to win a game although we still have hopes of a third place here too. The baseball team does have some semblance of an excuse though for five Epsilon men are on the college varsity baseball team. Our best hopes, as usual, lay in our taking the swimming meet which will be run off the week of May 4. The team consists of at least one college record holder, Capt. Mike Rubosky, and Bob Lewis, Robert Patterson, Alton Kellenberger, and Al Porter complete the team. All members are experienced swimmers and we hold high hopes of annexing the meet. With track and field, golf and tennis to be played yet we stand an excellent chance of winning first place.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

Epsilon members on the Franklin College choir include actives Hugh Miller, Cecil Clore, and William Spencer, and pledge Gilbert Weed. Miller is president of the choir, and also of the Delta Alpha Theta, college pre-ministerial group. Pledge William Zeigert turned in a commendable performance as Bill in What a Life, the college dramatic societies last production of the season. Jack Townsend was selected to be master of ceremonies of the college May Day activities, an honor bestowed upon him for the second straight year. Al Porter was included among the college physical education majors which are to serve as officials and judges for all of Franklin High School's track and field meets. Epsilon's men are participating in all extra-curricular activities, and have a good standing in campus affairs.

SOCIAL

The pledges entertained the active chapter and guests with the annual pledge dance and weiner roast. The dance was held at Porter's Camp near Edinburg, approximately twenty-five couples attending the dance. A scavenger hunt the first of the evening added additional interest. We compliment the pledges on a very interesting and enjoyable party.

Our Mothers' Spread, held April 27, was quite a successful event as over half of the parents of "our good brothers" attended the spread. In the afternoon the parents were entertained by group singing by the fraternity chorus and the fraternity trio.

AL PORTER.

Zeta

Penn State

INITIATION

On April 27, six men were inducted into the fraternity. They were Harry C. Ashenfelter, '42, Anson C. Burwell, Jr., '42, Arthur S. Hand, '43, George D. Makibben, '44, George E. Wagner, '44, and Richard L. Fuchs, '44. This is Zeta's second initiation for this year, making a total of sixteen new members and a remainder of three pledges who will move into the house next fall. The new members from the previously initiated class were the ones that took the most delight in performing the initiation.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At the regular Zeta Chapter meeting of April 7, the election of officers for the coming year were held. The following were elected: Frank Marmion, Consul; Walter James, Senior Tribune; Thomas Magill, Junior Tribune; Jack Reitz, Praetor; Lester Stine, Proprietor; Peter Pfahl, Centurion; Ralph Yeager, Pontifex; Jack Freutiger, Quaestor; Arthur Hand, Assistant Quaestor; and Joseph McCormick, House Manager. The Social Committee consists of Walter James, chairman, Bruce Gardner, and Thomas Magill. The Assistant House Managers are Bruce Gardner, Thomas Magill, and Jack Rietz. Zeta feels extremely lucky in having such a fine group of officers, and we are sure that they will carry out their duties to the best of their abilities.

SCHOLARSHIP

Zeta is lucky to have so many brothers that are members of honorary societies. Brother Joe McCormick, '42, is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity, and he has received bids to Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternities. Brother Bud Burwell, '42, has received bids to Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternities. Brother Walt James, '42, has also received a bid to Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity. Delta Sigma Pi, honorary commerce and finance fraternity, counts on Brother Walt Nicholson, '41, as Vice-President and Secretary. Brother Pete Pfahl, '42, is a member of Pi Alpha Xi, honorary floriculture society, which recently held a convention here. Brother Les Stine, '44, was recently initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, highest ranking freshman honorary society. This is quite a sizeable list of honorary members, and Zeta and all of Kappa Delta Rho may well salute these men for their fine achievement.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority was entertained on Thursday, May 1, at the chapter house. Dinner was served, and softball was played. This is the first in a series of get-togethers with the various campus sororities that Zeta has planned; such get-togethers are very helpful in bettering the relations between women and men students.

At the Junior Prom on May 2, 1941, Paul Whiteman and his band played. Zeta was well represented at this, the biggest dance of the year. With his usual good show, Paul Whiteman made a complete success of the dance. The presence of over a thousand couples also proved the dance a financial success.

Plans for Spring Houseparty now are complete. We will dance with the Phi Kappa Taus this year. This is the first time Zeta has danced with this house. It promises to be the biggest social event of the year.

Zeta has had a very successful social year. The coming social events should top off one of the best seasons that Zeta has ever had.

SPORTS

With no men in varsity competition this year, the house honors will be upheld by Bill Calvert and Johnie McCreary of the freshman class. Calvert won his numerals in swimming and at the present time is being considered as a candidate for Druids, freshman honorary athletic hat society. McCreary was numeral winner in fencing, where he gained number one position on the team. As yet there have been no results from the boys trying out for spring sports. Hugh Murphy is high jumping on the track team, and Fred Krug is out for the baseball team.

In intramural competition Zeta at the present time is in second place for honors for the year among the 48 fraternities.

Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity is in first place at the present time. The winner of group honors gains the interfraternity cup each year. Alpha Chi Sigma was last year's winner. Individual honors gained so far this year were the winning of the boxing trophy and third place in wrestling.

LESTER G. STINE.

Eta

OFFICERS

Eta chapter held its election of officers April 28 and after the smoke had cleared away, the following men elected: Edward Tudor, Consul; Ralph Haag, Senior Tribune and Quaestor; Alfred Corduan, Junior Tribune; Robert Dexter, Praetor; James Dippold, Custodian; Clarence Dunn, Pontifex; George Nibbe, Proprietor. Bob Dexter is also new Junior Interfraternity Council representative and Rushing Chairman; Glenn Summerfelt, Centurion.

SOCIAL

Eta's big dance of the year, the much looked forward to Spring Formal, will be held May 10, and the social chairman, Brother Corduan, and his committee are hard at work on the decorations for the dance. This year the two large living rooms will be transformed into a Spanish patio, with a low hanging ceiling and a fountain in the center.

A picnic will be held May 11, after the Spring Formal, to climax the social season for Eta.

The University Mothers Day is Sunday, May 4, and KDR again plans to entertain a large number of mothers at the chapter house that weekend. The annual Saturday night party with the mothers is one of the highlights of the weekend, and after last year's hilarious gamefest, the fellows are really looking for another good time.

Another very informal radio dance was held April 4, with Brother Harold Osborn, Eta, '22, and his wife serving as chaperones.

ADKINS WINS CENTRAL AAU TUMBLING TITLE

Jack Adkins, '43, added another laurel to his fame April 28, by scoring 86 points in the Central AAU meet, to retain his tumbling title. He recently received his varsity letter, and was pledged to the Tribe of Illini, honorary letter man's society. Jack also led the field in the National Intercollegiate Gym meet, and is expected to win the coveted national title in the National AAU meet soon.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Kenny Friend is doing very well on the freshman baseball squad, and will probably receive his numerals in that sport soon. He has been mentioned as certain varsity material for next year, in the local papers. Harvey Hyland, '44, won the intramural wrestling championship in the 121 pound class, to add more points for KDR in the intramural race. Our softball team got off to a terrific start in intramural spring softball, defeating Lambda Chi Alpha 33 to 7, in our first game, and the team is now pointing for the division championship.

ACTIVE CHAPTER

Brother Avery returned to school, on leave of absence from his work with Westinghouse, in Denver, to finish up the loose ends on a CE course, and graduate in June. Charles Stevens and Charles Russell are planning to enter the draft army after graduation, while Frank Muller will be stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., as a lieutenant in the cavalry. Robert Ferris will take the bar examination in September, as a finish for six years of college. Robert Kaiser is looking for one of those draft deferment jobs, after receiving his questionnaire recently. He will graduate in architectural engineering.

MASCOT HITS THE JACKPOT

Hedy Yehudi, our Great Dane mascot, completely surprised the holders of tickets in a pool recently, by presenting us with ten pups. The pledges are really happy about the whole thing. They thought one was bad!

GEORGE NIBBE.

Theta

Purdue

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The week-end of May 3 was Gala Week here at Purdue and several of the alumni were back for our open house.

The traditional wagon fight between KDR and Phi Kappa Tau was carried off in grand style on the evening of May 9. It was our turn to obtain and defend the wagon. Everything came off and went off in the customary brawl.

No plans have been made yet for the annual Memorial Day baseball game with the Phi Kappas. Last year we were rained out and we are hoping that this year old man weather will feel more favorable toward us. We have retained the trophy for several years and we are looking forward to winning it again.

NEW OFFICERS

Consul Elect Archie Steele, Theta, '42

Archie Steele has been elected Consul for the first semester of the 1941-'42 school year. Other officers are: Senior Tribune, Bob Carpenter; Junior Tribune, Dick Brown; Quaestor, Les Parrish; Praetor, Jack Kuch; Proprietor, Bill Clark; Centurion, Dick Kentner; Pontifex, Clete Tepas; Custodian, Bert Hine; Social chairman, Al Grefrath; Financial committeeman, Don Corp; Athletic Manager, Bill Weslow.

PLEDGES

Rushing has been going along in fine style. The following men have been pledged since the last issue of Quill and Scroll: Merritt W. Goff, '43, Frankfort, Ind.; Richmond C. Neff, '44, Moline, Ill.; Herbert Zinsmeister, '44, Otterbein, Ind.; Robert L. Blanton, '44, Fortville, Ind.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

KDR is rolling along in fine style in the field of baseball. The team is well on its way to a championship having at this time gained four wins with no losses to top the list. Dick Brown, our ace moundsman, has turned in two no-hit, no-run performances so far, and is the only pitcher in intramural ball to pitch even one of them, to say nothing of two, this season.

We are also in the midst of the mass horseshoe playoffs here in the house. So far there have been some good games pitched. The championship of the house will play winners from the other fraternities on the campus.

WE'RE IN THE ARMY

Several of our alumni are in the service of Uncle Sam's armed forces.

Major L. L. Hittle, '23, is with the 2nd F.A. Observation Battalion, Fort Sill, Okla.

Capt. R. Coblenz, '30, is in BOC No. 8, F.A.S., Fort Sill, Okla.

Iota

Bucknell

PLEDGES

Mark Slingwine, '44, Reinerton, Pa., has been pledged to Iota bringing to total to six for the year.

William Andrews, '44, of Mount Vernon, N.Y., was elected president of the pledge class.

For a week beginning April 24, the pledges were sent through their paces during the annual Hell Week program. Most of the time and energy of the affair was directed toward house improvements, but the neophytes were given an early glimpse of Hades during the week.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Iota completed one of the most successful house-parties in its history during the first weekend in May. With the chapter turning out in full force and many alumni having returned, it was a time which will be long remembered by all present.

The event began with a banquet Friday evening in the Orange and Blue Room of Hotel Lewisburger, followed by a dance. A picnic was held Saturday afternoon and after this came another dance Saturday evening. Social chairman Jack King, '42, was in charge and was assisted on decorations by Jack Clark, '42, and Paul Munson, '42.

Part of the dance floor was decorated as a ball-room and the other portion resembled a summer garden.

Claude Maines, '41, represented Iota in Bucknell's first inter-fraternity dance held March 24. It is hoped to make the dance an annual affair.

ACTIVITIES

Pledge Robert Koble, '44, was initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, honorary freshman scholarship fraternity.

Maurice Longo, '41, was an "end man" in Bucknell's Varsity Show held April 24.

Bill Maguire, '42, was elected secretary of the interfraternity council for next year. Bill Griffiths, '43, was appointed as the new junior member from the house.

Jack Clark, '42, is a member of Omega Phi Delta, national Boy Scout fraternity, recently formed on the campus.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Completing the volley ball campaign with a .500 average, Iota's score sheet shows a record of three wins and three losses. Ken Maust, '43, managed the team.

With a strong softball team on the field, playing-manager Ken Maust promises that Iota's team will cause opponents plenty of trouble during the season.

Pledge William Huff, '44, represented Iota in the quoit and tennis tournaments.

ODDITIES

Iota's hitch-hiking artist, Jack Clark, '42, has thumbed his way over 3000 miles since the beginning of the year 1941. Last summer he took a tour as far as 100 miles south of the Rio Grande River into Mexico. His home is in Washington, D.C.

Pledge Bill Andrews, '44, has proved his worth as a competent electrician. Last summer Bill was employed as an electrical apprentice. Since he is an electrical engineer, his knowledge is of no little value to Iota.

WILLIAM GRIFFITHS.

Kappa

Ohio State

INITIATION

On Sunday, April 26, two men, Vernon Lein, Bowling Green, O., and Howard Gardner, Genoa, O., were formally initiated into the bonds of Kappa Delta Rho. Although somewhat tired they managed to shake hands with many well wishers and manage a smile now and then.

RUSHING

Spring quarter rushing started slowly at Kappa but is gathering momentum as each new week rolls around. So far this quarter the following men have been pledged, John Lichty, '43, Bryan, O., Floyd Taylor, '44, Columbus, O., Robert Gallagher, '43, Columbus, O., Robert Fuller, '44, Cleveland, O., Armand Romano, '44, Lancaster, O., and Jack Waring, '44, Brunswick, O.

SOCIAL EVENTS

On Saturday, April 19, Kappa entertained with a "vic" dance at the chapter house, which was well attended, and as it was a warm spring night our spacious front porch was very much in use.

On the following afternoon our pledge class entertained the pledges of Phi Mu sorority at a tea dance also at the chapter house, and many "spur of the moment" events, such as a jitterbug contest and Pledge Bob Fuller's imitation of the Hunchback of Notre Dame, brought many laughs.

CAMPUS POLITICS

Consul Bernard Hoffman is a candidate for the Ohio Union Board of Overseers and as this is one of the most important offices on the Ohio State campus we're all pulling for "Barney" to win.

Jack Waring, '44, has been elected fraternity pledge council representative for the year '41-'42. Waring is also a cousin of the famous Fred Waring.

SCHOLARSHIP

The results of last quarter's grades show Kappa very much in the running for the fraternity scholarship cup. Up to the present time we have maintained a straight B average and are ready to add another trophy to our collection.

VARSITY SPORTS

Reviewing the year finds KDR well represented on Ohio State's athletic teams. Pledges Santschi and Model held down the position of end and tackle on the football squad. On the wrestling squad, George Beshara, John Summa, and John Santschi gave capable performances. On the baseball team, Jay Ingram, who plays centerfield, is belting that old apple and Pledge Armand Romano is whipping the ball over the net on the freshman tennis team.

THE DRAFT

Here, as well as anywhere else, the Selective Service Act is taking its toll of men. Those men that will be called for duty in June, are, Bernard Hoffman, Bryan, O.; Jay Ingram, Edon, O.; David Davies, Youngstown, O.; Howard Hardman, Cleveland, O.

Alumni Brother Carl Engleman of Cleveland, O., who is a member of the Reserve Officers Corps, is expecting to be called on active duty at any time.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Our softball team won its first game over a tough Zeta Beta Tau outfit 8 to 7. This was a hotly contested affair, which ended in our favor when Dave (Slugger) Davies hit a home run with two men on.

The second game was played against the Chi Phis but due to five errors we came out on the short end of a 7 to 5 score. We still have many more games to play and are looking forward to the university play-offs. HOWARD HARDMAN.

Lambda

California

RUSHING

A large number of vacancies are expected in the house next semester as a result of the better than average number of graduating seniors and the ever present threat of losing men in the draft. With this fact in mind we have started a rushing campaign, the object being to make contacts with high school and junior college prospects now so that we will have a start for next semester.

The weekend of April 26-27 was set aside here at the house as a rushing weekend, and a large number of prospective rushees were entertained for the two day session. At present there are indications that this work was successful. Entertainment was furnished by the California-Stanford track meet and baseball game, this is an opportune situation to mention that California won the track meet by taking every event, and the baseball game by a score of 4-3. Moving pictures were shown at the house on Saturday evening, followed by a general get together at which Bro. Luke Brubaker and Pledge Bruce Coggins entertained with some gymnastic feats. Both are members of the University's Gymnastic team. Bro. Leslie Ley gave one of his recitations that are always welcome. On Sunday several tours of the campus were made to show the prospective students the points of interest about the campus.

SOCIAL

The highlight of the social calendar of the last semester was the Spring Formal held at the Orinda Country Club on April 4. The formal proved to be an especially successful event.

With finals to face, the usual calm before the storm has settled upon the house. At this writing there is one last event that we are looking forward to, namely the annual Charter Day Banquet. This will be held, as in past years, in the California Room of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, on May 3. Brother Alumnus

"Pool Shark," Ted Foster in the Lambda Game Room.

Bill Shipley, '24, will preside as master of ceremonies; speakers will be Brother Alumni Leonard Wall, '30, Howard Kley, '33, and Asa Beudell, '36.

The Charter Day Banquet is an event that will successfully culminate the activities of the semester. From there we have only the displeasure of finals to look forward to.

An "informal shot" on Saturday night of Bro. Ken Kuney.

Some of the Lambda Brothers enjoying some of the "Sunshine" on the steps.

ELECTIONS

The men elected to fill the offices for the coming fall semester are Brother Jim Hicks, '42, Consul, replacing Leslie Ley, '41; Brother Ken Wolfe, Senior Tribune, replacing Brother Bud Price, '41; Junior Tribune Bro. Charlie Scruggs, replacing Kenneth Wolfe, '42; Brother Luke Brubaker, '42, replacing Brother Ken Kuney, '41, as Quaestor. The rest of the offices were filled as follows. Advisor, Bro. Carl Carlson, '42; Brother Bill Douglas, '43, Praetor; Propraetor Brother Clarence Hillman; Centurion, Brother Carol White, '42; Pontifex Brother Bert Jameyson, '43. The retiring officers other than those above mentioned are: Brothers Dave Hunt, Clarence Hillman, Ken Hickey, Bill Douglas, Carol White, Bob Tucker.

We feel sure that everyone joins with us in wishing Consul Hicks and the new officers a successful term of office.

There is a large group of graduating seniors: Past Consul Leslie Ley, Dave Hunt, Bob Williams, Richard Price, Ted Foster, Harry Diffenbaugh, Jack Striker, Dave Divanovich, and Ken Kuney. Another group expecting to start their army service in the near future includes Brothers Luke Brubaker, Charlie Scruggs, Bill Cameron, and Bob Tucker. Some of the graduating men who expect to be called soon are Ted Foster, Bob Williams, Dave Hunt and Jack Striker. BOB TUCKER.

Mu*MichiganINITIATION

A special initiation was held for Joseph Straayer, '42E, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, on April 24. Joe is a transfer from Grand Rapids Junior College where he had an excellent scholastic record. On the Michigan campus Joe is an active member of I.A.E.S., an aeronautical engineering society.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Plans are under way for a formal dance to be held at the chapter house as part of the program for Founder's Day. This is a two day affair, including the dance on May 24, early morning breakfast and a baseball game on the following day. There will be a business meeting in the afternoon. This marks the 16th year of the chapter at Michigan.

This weekend, May 10, there will be a radio bridge dance held at the chapter house. This dance is to give the pledges a chance to show their ingenuity and ability in planning such affairs.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Pledge Emile Gele has had the good fortune and honor to be chosen as the managing editor of the Michigan Daily. He was also tapped for Michigammas, one of Michigan's better honor societies. Gele was chosen for his tendency toward a "middle of the road policy" in his editorials as junior editor. Just at this time on the Michigan campus a "middle of the road" man is more or less essential for the administration has put the check reign on the liberal tendencies of certain campus groups. The Michigan daily is one of the few college papers in which the editorial policy is not dictated by the faculty.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

KDR has not fared too well in its baseball season this year. We have lost our first two games, but are having batting and fielding practice after lunch and dinner and are all set to give our opponents a good battle next game.

We have a tennis team of five members. As yet we have played no matches but two of the men have had varsity experience so we should have a good chance of a place in the tournament.

PLEDGES

Mu wishes to announce the pledging of the following men to our chapter: Earl G. Barrett, '44, Rochester, N.Y.; Willis A. MacLeod, '43, Birmingham, Ala.; Kenneth L. Repola, '43, Ishpeming, Mich.

Two of these boys are active on the Michigan daily staff, one is a junior editor and another is a member of the Michigan Glee Club.

PHI BETA KAPPA

Brother Donald Van Hook, '44, Med., was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi.

ART PUGH.

Nu*IndianaSOCIAL ACTIVITIES

On May 3, Nu entertained rush guests and their date sat a radio dance and picnic. After several hours of informal dancing in the afternoon at the chapter house, the entire group went to McCormick's Creek State Park for a wiener roast and picnic. The entire affair was planned as an informal one so that the guests and KDRs might become better acquainted. Dean Foster, Louis Conn, and Bill Walton were in charge.

The weekend of April 18 was a big one here at Nu. Friday night was the Junior Prom and in accordance with tradition, Nu held a Prom dinner preceding the dance. Dinner was served at 6:30 at tables lighted by candles. Bro. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Bennett were chaperones. After dinner, the group gathered in the lounge for informal conversation and card games. The weather man favored Bloomington that evening for a warm, moonlit evening fit in well with the Prom setting of a Spanish garden. Ray Noble and his orchestra played to about 500 couples in Alumni Hall of the Indiana Union.

VENISON BANQUET

Sunday, April 20, was the day of Nu's annual Venison Banquet. Those present were E. Mayer Maloney, '36, Kappa Delta Rho Executive Secretary, Brother Eugene Kanning, '28, Robert Hartman, '28, Elmer Waltz, '37, Ben Miller, '31, Claude Rich, '29, J. Raymond Cope, Epsilon Hon. and John B. Spencer, Epsilon, '39—all on the University staff. Others present were Prof. John L. Geiger, Hon., Gilbert Glendenning, '33, Fred. Eberle, '39, V. V. Burns, '31, and Frank M. Fitch, Ex '38. President Wm. Spencer of Franklin College was the principal speaker. The Venison Banquet is Nu's annual tribute to the founders of the chapter of Kappa Delta Rho on the Indiana University campus. This marked the fifteenth year of Nu's existence on the campus.

Pledge William Siffin, Nu, '44

From Frankfort, Indiana comes Nu's outstanding freshman. Member of Phi Eta Sigma by virtue of 16 hours of "A," Skull and Crescent honorary, and several committees in the College of Business, Pledge William Siffin was announced as winner of the annual freshman Achievement Award at the Venison Banquet. The award, which is an annual tradition here is based on outstanding activity on campus, as well as ability, sincerity, and an outstanding interest in the fraternity. Pledge Siffin is in the College of Business. He was also awarded Blue Key recognition for his outstanding work in the school.

ATHLETICS

A summary of Kappa Delta Rho's activities in various sports throughout the past year shows that KDR was quite versatile. Freshman football found Gerry Zahrt a numeral winner. Dan Bannister was sophomore manager. Fred Pfrommer and Ray Steffey were on the varsity swimming team. Duane Joyce was on the frosh squad. Dean Foster was a member of the track team with Bill Walton out for the freshman group. Bob Ford was sophomore track manager. Louis Conn is junior manager. John Ambler is on the varsity baseball squad while Jon Evans and Duane Joyce are on the rhinie team. Louis Conn is on the tennis team.

SUMMER RUSH

Louis Conn, '42, has been appointed as rush captain for this year. Brother Conn is planning on making several trips throughout the state of Indiana, during the summer. If you know of any fellows who may attend Indiana University, please contact Louis Conn, Danville, Ind.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

While not concerned with Kappa Delta Rho alone, the spring elections here on the IU campus should be of sufficient interest to readers to warrant mention. In the past all campus elections have been a contest between the Independent Student's Association and the Coalition, composed of the fraternities and sororities. This year, campus politics took a decided turn, the resulting rumpus being great enough to warrant front page stories on most of the state's newspapers. Disappointed at not having a candidate on the Coalition ticket for Union Board, one of the long established fraternities left the ranks of the organized in campus politics and went over to the side of the ISA. As a result they were dropped from membership in several honoraries and face a four year suspension from Inter-Fraternity Council. Early in April mud-slinging reached its height when Miss Dede Lung, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and the organized candidate for Prom Queen won by eight votes. The old Coalition made a complete reorganization, changing their name to Liberal, and went on to make a clean sweep of the Union Board election.

This incident should be of interest to all fraternity men for it does represent one of the problems faced by fraternities and sororities when large, new, dorms are built by the school. In this case, the organizations won the election by making small concessions to the dormitories in return for their support. The dorms are openly soliciting social equality with fraternities. At any rate, we all breathed a sigh of relief when the last night meeting was called and we once again found it possible to go to bed reasonably early.

Now that this fraternity has been dropped from membership in two honoraries, the significance of membership in Skull and Crescent, sophomore honorary, and Sphinx Club, honorary for upperclassmen, is even greater.

Two freshmen are annually picked from each fraternity to membership in Skull and Crescent. It is the highest honor attainable for freshmen. Membership lasts through the sophomore year. Members of the club are permitted to wear green and orange skull caps. This year's pledges to Skull and Crescent from the KDR house are Jim Doyle and Bill Siffin. Pledge Doyle has been active as a member of Indiana's famous Marching Hundred band, as well as working in the University Theatre. Pledge Siffin has distinguished himself by earning 16 hours of "A" which entitled him to membership in Phi Eta Sigma. Bill was also announced as winner of the annual award as outstanding freshman here at Nu.

Fred Pfrommer, '42, was recently initiated into Sphinx Club, honorary for upperclassmen.

Nu announces the pledging of the following men: Duane Joyce, '44, Rollo Pruett, '44, and Gene Russell, '42.

SCHOLARSHIP

Nu's scholastic average, always one of the highest on the Indiana campus, took a considerable drop this past semester. The average released by the Dean of Men showed that KDR had an average only a little higher than a "C." However, the next grade list to appear will also include the averages of several freshmen with excellent grades and we are looking forward to a return to top ranks in scholarship. Kappa Delta Rho is still the only fraternity on the IU campus to hold the scholarship trophies offered by the school. In order to retain permanent possession of the trophies, it is necessary to lead all organization on the campus for at least three consecutive semesters. We now have two such cups—the only two on the campus.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The return of warmer weather brought the intramural softball season with it. Nu's softball team is at present tied for league leadership with Sigma Nu. Both teams have lost one game. Our past record shows a 3-2 loss to Sigma Chi, and 11-8 and 10-5 wins over the Co-Ops and Sigma Alpha Mu.

May 1, 1941—Kappa Alpha Psi, colored fraternity, went into the league leadership by virtue of a 9-7 win over the KD Rs. The KDRs had been leading the league for about a week, after beating Sigma Nu, 16-5. The loss today put Kappa Delta Rho in second place, but with a chance to still win.

ALUMNI NOTES

Brother Loren Ake, Nu, '32, has been stationed at Camp Polk, Louisiana since March 21. Brother Ake states in a recent card that he is one of the doctors helping to get the camp hospital organized. He holds a commission of First Lt. in the Medical Corps. The new camp is to hold 12,000 troops.

Aden K. Long, Nu, '29, is teaching music in the Martinsville High school.

D. Stanley Stoker, Nu, '36, is now employed in the chemistry department of the Allison Company in Indianapolis.

Douglas Kendrick, Nu, '27, now has offices as Certified Public Accountant in Fort Wayne.

Reed Giese, Nu, ex '41, is employed by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. in Gary, Ind. Brothers Hal Cook and Richard Guth, both Nu, '40, are working in the Chicago plant of the same company.

FRED PFOMMER.

Xi

Colby

VARSIY SPORTS

Xi also has another singular honor in the field of sports: that brother Slattery has so far been the only pitcher on the Colby baseball team to win a game. This particular game was against Northeastern, which is reputed to have one of the best ball clubs in New England. The brothers who are on this baseball team are: Brothers Dennison, Blanchard and Slattery.

Xi for the first time in a great many years won the interfraternity basketball trophy. This trophy has been held in the past by only one or two other fraternities on campus. This year we have broken the monopoly and have gained for Xi the trophy.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

In the field of Interfraternity Softball Xi is not doing so well because all but a very few of the brothers are on Varsity teams thus making them unable to compete in Interfraternity sports. Brother Burnett represents Xi on the tennis team and from all indication we expect that Brother Burnett will be third or fourth man on the team.

SOCIAL

This last weekend, during the College Holiday, Xi held a very successful Chaser dance. The purpose of this was to dance at as many Fraternity Houses as possible, but as Xi has the best of any dance floors we had a very large crowd dancing to recorded music most of the evening. On May 29 Xi is holding its annual Spring Formal dance about fifteen miles out side the city in a hotel on the Belgrade Lakes. We are having for an orchestra the Local College Swing Band—Jimmie Springer and His Colby White Mules. This band has proven itself to be very popular with the various organizations of the college. Also in the social line we entertained our new coach—Nelson Nitchman—formerly of Union College. He made a great hit with the brothers of Xi. We know that he and the football team, under the captaincy of Brother Ero Helin, will have a successful season next fall.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Two brothers of Xi have been especially active in Public Speaking this spring term. Brother Palmer was selected as one of five men to form a debating team to go to a series of debates in the colleges of the Maritime Provinces. Brother Palmer also placed in the Murry Debate and won fourth place in the Hallowell contest. Brothers Palmer and Hildebrandt have placed as finalists in the Levine Extemporaneous Contest and Brother Hildebrandt is a finalist in the Sophomore Declamation.

Two of our seniors have been called by the draft and will go at the end of the year: Brothers Blanchard and Hughes, Brothers Berry, Burnett, and Conley also expect to go. We are also losing another of our brothers through transferring. Brother Gurney is transferring to the University of Southern California, which is near his home and where his father has a professorship. We are sorry to see all these worthy K.D.R. go.

HENRY S. TILTON.

Pi

Gettysburg

INITIATION

Pi's spring initiation was held on March 14. Four men were inducted into the fraternity. Those initiated were Charles Olsen, '43, William Marshall, '44, Russel Jefferson, '44, and Heinz Schwaneger, '42.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

This date was also the occasion of an inter-fraternity weekend in which Pi participated. Our play in which brothers Senft and Whitson starred just missed taking the prize of the evening.

On the weekend of May 10, Pi is planning to play host to its mothers. The mothers of most of the brothers are going to be present and we are all looking forward to getting better acquainted. On May 16 and 17 Pi is holding its annual spring dance. We are counting on making this the best event of its kind ever held here. All the brothers are working hard to make the affair a real success.

VARSITY SPORTS

Brother Olsen is a member of the varsity baseball team which is having a good season.

SCHOLARSHIP

Pi is one of the leaders in scholarship this year. Our house average is among the leaders this term. Brother Whitson was elected Phi Beta Kappa.

IMPROVEMENTS

We are planning to put in a ping-pong room and possibly a pool table. We are also starting a library of our own. The third floor of the house has been thoroughly cleaned and overhauled. It is being used as a reading room. Brother Senft donated a set of chessmen and Brother Jefferson got us a fine chessboard which is constantly being used. The furniture has been cleaned and repaired. In addition Brother Maddock burned out the weeds in the adjacent lot and planted hedges. All of the brothers participated in minor repairs and we think that our house is among the best looking ones on the campus.

FAREWELL

Brothers Flegeal, Whitson, Cook and Schumacher are going into the service upon graduation. Brother Flegeal will probably go to the Philippines while brothers Whitson and Cook are going to camp here in the states. Brother Schumacher will probably become a member of the air corps. Brother Fahrer is planning to continue with his studies at another school after he has received his degree here. We wish them the best of luck "out there" as we reluctantly bid them farewell.

HEINZ SCHWANEGER.

Rho

Lafayette

ELECTIONS

Last month Rho chapter had its elections for house officers. Robert B. Howard, '42, was elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers elected were: William C. Richtmyre, '42, Senior Tribune; Edmund S. Wood, '43, Junior Tribune; Timothy M. Tamblyn, '42, Secretary; Hubbard T. Warren, '42, Treasurer; Breslin W. McKnight, '44, Corresponding Secretary, and Charles F. Beck, '43, was elected Pontifex.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Practically everyone at Rho had a wonderful time at our annual Spring dance. Paul Whiteman and his orchestra furnished sweet music for the dance on May 9. During intermissions Charlie Barber and his Swing Band gave out with hot "jive."

On May 10 we had a dinner dance at the house. A local band furnished the music for dancing. Many of our Alumni brothers returned, and the dance was a huge success.

May 2 and 3 was Sub-Freshmen weekend at College. We had many of these boys staying at the house. They were given a dance on May 3 (we furnished the dates). We showed them our fraternity life and they all seemed to enjoy every minute they were here. All the brothers at Rho feel that because of this weekend we have made valuable contacts for Fall rushing.

SPORTS

Our bowling team has emerged the winner of their league. They are going into the playoffs with an unbeaten record and we at Rho hope they come out victorious.

Although our hard and softball teams haven't done as well as we had hoped, we have been gradually improving and trust by the end of the season to be right up there with the best.

We are proud of Ernest W. Kohl, '41, for the fine work he has been doing in the varsity pole vault. We all expect him to reach 12 ft. or more in the near future.

IMPROVEMENTS

During the Spring vacation we had our kitchen and pantry resurfaced. It was a rather expensive proposition, but we felt the improvement was necessary. A general overhauling of the house has been going on, and the changes have added a great deal to Rho's appearance.

CHOIR

Rho is well represented in the College Choir. Some of our silver throated brother who give out with melodic tones are: John S. Knoblock, '42; Edmund S. Wood, '43; Charles F. Beck, '43; Charles J. Berlau, '41; William E. Snyder, '41; Lester P. Kennedy, '44; Stanley H. Erbacher, '44, and John W. La Mond, '44.

BRESLIN W. MCKNIGHT.

Sigma

Oregon

INITIATION

Spring term initiation was held Sunday, April 20, at the chapter house. The chapter had pleasure of initiating the following men: Robert Puckett, sophomore in Business Administration, from Keno, Ore.; Robert Hoffman, junior in Fisheries, from Portland, Ore.; Sherwood Frakes, freshman in Engineering from Scappoose, Ore.; Lyle Lindsay, freshman in Engineering from McMinnville, Ore.; and Stanley Leaf, junior in Engineering from Portland, Ore.

HOUSE DANCE

Sigma's spring formal was held April 26 at the chapter house, to the music of Jack Merrill's orchestra. Under the directions of chairmen, Brothers Larry Plagmen, George Drury, and Raymond Smith the house was converted into a luxury liner of the sea. Realistic touches were given the "ship" by having a gang plank entrance, a ship's bar, and a chart room in addition to wall scenes depicting the life of the sea. A large crowd attended the dance and much favorable comment was given us by guests.

Sigma initiates, from left to right: Sherwood Frakes, Bob Hoffman, Bob Puckett, Stan Leaf, and Lyle Lindsay.

Professors Bill Paul and Thomas Ornsdorff, Sigma Alumni, and Professor T. Krawick, Xi Alumnus participated as chaperones for the dance.

SPORTS

Brother Sherwood Frakes, Pledge Bruce Taylor and Pledge Rover Muskrat, all '44, have now earned their numerals in track.

Brother George Wieman has now become a permanent cog in the freshman golf team, which entitles him to a numeral.

Brother Howard Carlson who finished his track career last year is ably handling the strong freshman track team which so far, has been undefeated.

INTRAMURAL

Sigma's tennis team is progressing up the bracket and consists of the two pledges Robert and Howard Vincent.

In softball, Sigma, hasn't as yet found herself but soon hopes to mold into a strong well rounded team.

ALUMNI NEWS

Bernard Orell, Sigma, '38, will be married June 12 to Miss Helen Kirchoff.

Lee Port, Sigma, Ex '36, will be married June 24 to Miss Jewel Mayes.

Sigma's men participating in National Defense: Faye Stewart, Ex '38, Lt., Camp Clatsop, Ore.; William Semmler, '40, Lt., 146th F.A., A.P.O. 41, Tacoma, Wash.; Irving Hoyt, Ex '41, Staff Sergeant, Camp

Murray, Wash.; Robert Faulkner, Ex '44, Naval Reserves; Everett Holstrom, Ex '40, McCord Field, Wash., Air Corps; Thomas "Si" Thoreson, Ex '41, National Guards, Camp Clatsop, Ore.; Robert Slocum, Ex '42, National Guards, Camp Clatsop, Ore.; John Slocum, Ex '43, National Guards, Camp Clatsop, Ore.; Alfred Allen, Ex '41, National Guards, Camp Clatsop, Ore.; Andrew Shoemake, '39, Army, Lt., Camp Ord, Calif.

At present these are all the men in the army, navy, or marine corps but in June there will be several more called because of draft.

ADDITIONAL NEWS

Brother Morris Robertson, Sr., in Secretarial Science was one of six students from that department, chosen for service scholarships to New York University.

Brother George Wieman, freshman in Pre-Med, entered politics by being elected treasurer of the sophomore class for next year.

JAY HUGHES.

Upsilon

Fresno State College

PLEDGING

Upsilon came through the official rush season at Fresno State in number two position on the campus pledging 10 boys. They are Bob Clark, '43; Roy Cass, '43; Jack Peebles, '43; Arleigh McConnel, '42; Bill Schallenberg, '44; Edward Clapp, '42; Wayne McCoy, '44; John Kohler, '44; Al Thonen, '44; and Dick Post, '42. The boys have already taken an extremely active part in the chapter activities.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Upsilon has been playing host to the Inter-Fraternity Council here at Fresno State for the past several weeks. The Council has a luncheon meeting every Tuesday and has agreed that Upsilon puts on the best lunch on the campus, consequently we have gotten the job. We have a plenty swell cook!

Further along the Inter-Fraternity line is the Pan-Hellenic—Inter-Fraternity formal which was held just recently. This is an annual event which is open to all fraternity and sorority members. It is a social highlight of the season. The theme of the evening was "A Night in Rio" with palms surrounding the dance floor.

The council is also planning something entirely new locally. It is to be an Inter-Fraternity smoker at which all eligible prospective fraternity members are to be invited. The plan is to have some representative from each of the six fraternities have a part in the program. Upsilon is going to contribute, by popular demand, Leland Forsblad and his accordion.

At the annual Masque Ball Ed Clapp, one of our pledges, captured the first prize for the best comical costume. He wore a rubber monkey mask with coat and tie, hunted fleas and played drunk.

SOCIAL

We held an exchange with the Delta Sigma Epsilon at the house recently. The Delta Sigs are the only national sorority on the campus. The evening was spent in dancing and swimming, for those who had brought swimming suits. Incidentally, the pool in the back yard has been filled for the past two weeks and is the envy of the rest of the fraternity and sorority members on the campus now that the weather in Fresno is getting to its customary summer heights. Refreshments were served just before going home. (Going home means getting there eventually).

SPRING SWING

The annual variety show, Spring Swing, came off in as big a style as ever this year. The swing band, which was larger and more professional-sounding this year than in previous years, was under the baton of Brother Leland Forsblad. It was also dominated by several other KDRs. Three of our pledges, Norman Katen, Arleigh McConnel, and Dick Post had prominent parts in the production.

Plans are now under way for the spring formal. It is to be held on May 9. Also, each fraternity on the campus is to stage an assembly this semester. Our turn comes on the 15th of this month.
