SORRY!

Inadvertently the name of Joseph Smuts, Eta '25, was omitted from the list of contributors to the 1953 Loyalty Fund as reported in the May issue of The Quill and Scroll.

This raises the total for Eta Chapter to $200.50 and places that chapter first in amount contributed during 1953.

Fraternities Weak In Public

Illinois Report Should Aid Groups In Future Planning

The Public Relations Committee of the Interfraternity Council of Illinois is doing what your editor considers an outstanding job. So far they have completed three surveys, one of which, "A Survey of Pledge Scholarship" has given Eta Chapter of Kappa Delta Rho sufficient data to enable them to revise their standards of pledging so that they will be able to initiate a higher percentage of those pledged.

Another outstanding survey was completed last year, this one on "Attitudes on Fraternities at the University of Illinois." We feel that most of the results obtained are applicable as well to most of our campuses and we are therefore giving them in detail for the use of chapters and alumni associations.

Chief purpose of the survey was to determine the attitudes of campus men toward fraternities, especially of the non-fraternity men toward the fraternity men.

Last year the University of Illinois had 9050 men enrolled in regular courses. Of these 2586 or a percentage of just 28½ were members of fraternities. Housing is as acute at Illinois as at most universities today so that practically all fraternity houses were filled to capacity. We can therefore assume, that, without the installation of any new fraternities on campus, as many men were being taken care of physically as possible.

The summary of results of the survey prove interesting along several lines. We will try to go into detail on some that seem more significant for study.

1. Few students change opinions about fraternities which they held before arrival on campus, even after being on campus for as much as four years.

2. Independent students consider fraternity averages lower than is actually true.

3. Independent students consider fraternity housebills as much higher than their own housebills. (Actually their cost of living as revealed in the survey is equal to the cost of living in a fraternity.)

4. All students on campus lack adequate information concerning fraternities.

5. Friends and their immediate family are the main sources of favorable or unfavorable attitudes students may hold concerning fraternities.

6. High school teachers are quite important in the views held by students concerning fraternities.

7. Most students feel fraternity men have more opportunity to participate in campus activities and that they receive higher positions.

8. A very large majority of students consider fraternity men as having more opportunity to participate in social activities. An even larger number state they actually participate to a fuller degree than independent students.

9. Men do not rush fraternities because they consider them more expensive, they take too much time, and they don't like the idea of being a pledge.

10. Those preferring independent living give the following as reasons:

- a. More independence
- b. Takes less time
- c. Better study conditions
- d. Less expensive

Many significant results were obtained by the survey, conducted by experts in the Statistical Unit of the University. For the use of fraternities the most significant are the attitudes and opinions of independent students on the campus. It is from these that we can get specific data on how to improve fraternities.

Fraternity men do not do a very good job of public relations, although they have organized houses that can be used for that purpose. When the survey reveals that 62% of all independents still hold the same opinions of fraternities as when they arrived on campus, and 15% actually have worse opinions, fraternities should do something about their conduct of public relations. Perhaps they take this area too much for granted, feeling that to stay out of trouble is good public relations. Evidently something more than that has to be done.

An area in which public relations might be tried is in the area of scholarship. Despite the fact that figures are published in the college paper 70% of the independents place the all-fraternity average at 3.4 or below at Illinois. Thirty per cent of the total place the all-fraternity average at 3.2 or below. Actually the all-fraternity average has been between 3.4 and 3.5 and has never in recent years been below the 3.4 mark. The independents are falsely certain of their own average too, and they place it usually higher than it actually is. Perhaps there is some tendency to rationalize here, for the figures seem to indicate such a tendency since only opinions were asked for. However, it would seem that anyone who keeps up to date on campus happenings would be able to come up with a closer answer.

In costs of living the disparity between fact and the opinions of the non-fraternity men was even farther astray. Ninety-five per cent of all independents estimated the cost of living independently at between $75 and $95 a month, the exact range of fraternity housebills on the campus. At the same time 95% of all independents estimate the fraternity housebill at between $85 and $125 a month. Fifty-five per cent thought fraternities cost between $100 and $125 a month. The average housebill on the Illinois campus is actually $84.50 and the highest $95. The extent of faulty thinking among independents is amazing in this area.

Two other answers should be of interest to fraternity men. Ten per cent of the independents indicated that they desired more information about fraternities. A large number of independents, 27%, actually preferred to live in fraternities rather than in independent housing.

It is promising to hear that the survey revealed that 93% of all those polled heard favorable comments about fraternities before coming to the campus while only 47% heard unfavorable comments. Favorable comments came mainly from friends, University publications and their immediate families. Unfavorable opinions came primarily from friends, their immediate families and high school teachers. A program to better relations with high school teachers seems evident.

These then are the main findings in the survey done at Illinois. It is gratifying to know that we now have some figures to substantiate otherwise wild guesses as to some of these difficulties. Every chapter of every fraternity can profit by surveys like this for they show weaknesses that can be corrected. The Quill and Scro! will be interested in getting reports of chapters doing something about these findings. As many as suggest ideas to other chapters will be published.

NATIONAL SWEETHEART

MISS MARJORIE 'JILL' MILLER

PENN STATE 1955

Penn State Senior Chosen To Reign As National Sweetheart

Member of Kappa Alpha Theta Becomes Fourth Chapter Choice To Be So Honored

Washington, D. C. may be the capital of the country but for the 1954-55 school year it is more; it is the capital of Kappa Delta Rho pulchritude. The new National Sweetheart to reign for one year is Miss Marjorie Miller of 4452 Burlington Place, a native of the capital city.

Entrant of Zeta Chapter in the spring search for a national sweetheart Miss Miller became the unanimous choice of the judges and becomes the fourth chapter sweetheart to assume national honors. She is pinned to George B. Riefler of Teaneck, N. J. besides being the choice of the Pennsylvania State University chapter.

National Sweetheart 'Jill' was born in Takoma Park, Maryland, a suburb of Washington on November 1, 1933. After attending Washington schools she graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School in 1951 and matriculated at Penn State. She expects to be graduated in June from the College of Home Economics where she is majoring in Child Development. Jill has spent six summers at camp besides working for two summers in a bank in Washington. She says the summers are almost as busy as her winters at State College, Pa. Her schedule proves her point.

Jill has a younger brother Kent, age 14, who isn't too much interested in his older sister's hobbies, especially sewing (she makes many of her own clothes). Other hobbies of sister, bridge, dancing and swimming, he accepts with more or less enthusiasm depending on his age at any given moment. One thing Jill and Kent agree on perfectly; they like nothing better than a good meal. Did someone say Child Development?

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority is proud to claim the new national sweetheart as a member; her adoption by Kappa Delta Rho doesn't disturb her membership in her sorority.

Her ambitions are modest. After graduation she would like to tour Europe (who wouldn't?) before she begins work in her chosen field. But her ultimate ambition is to get married and raise four children. In the latter case Child Development ought to come in very handy.

A salute to the new sweetheart of Kappa Delta Rho from its chapters everywhere.

Do You Wish To Have The National Sweetheart As Your Guest?

Chapters within reasonable traveling distance of the National Sweetheart may wish to have her as their guest at some dance or other function this spring. Arrangements can be made through the consul at the Penn State Chapter, Ellsworth Smith, 420 Prospect Ave., State College, Pa. If it is possible for her to attend your function he will make arrangements and plan details, with the aid of other members of Zeta Chapter.

Sigma Chapter Plans Changes For House Hostess in Fall of 1955

Sigma Chapter will have to have a hostess in the chapter house beginning with the fall term of 1955 and towards that end have had several meetings with the alumni relative to the renovation of quarters suitable for the purpose. The following account of what has been done so far indicates the progress made between the two groups, alumni and actives:

"At the alumni meeting here on October 16 it was tentatively proposed to build a small wing on the front of the house to make room for the hostess quarters. By doing this it would be possible to retain the den for the members.

"Morrie Robertson, our alumni adviser, consulted an architect and discovered that Corvallis building codes will not allow us to build the wing at the proposed location, because it would extend too close to the intersection of 23rd and Jackson. The only feasible alternative is to remodel the den and provide quarters there. This can be done with little trouble since all masonry facilities are available and the necessary carpentry work can be done by the members.

"The den could be restored by building a wing on the back of the house, if necessary, or the party room in the basement could be enlarged by the members to provide extra space. The latter seems more practical considering the relative costs, especially when the cost of a new wing is considered in relation to the value of the rest of the building."

The above excerpt from the Sigma Scoop develops a situation that must be faced by other chapters between now and 1960. Both Penn State and Gettysburg are planning to initiate the hostess system in fraternities by that date.

Eta Now Claims Best in Washrooms

Eta chapter can now lay claim to one of the most beautiful and modern of fraternity bathrooms. This past summer the entire room was remodeled under the direction of the Alumni Building Association and both alumni and actives are justly proud of the results.

The old wood trim and partitions were removed and new paneling was put in. The original shower room with three shower stalls was made into one room with four showers, all the most modern. The walls were tiled in light green with dark green trim. Indirect lighting and a dropped ceiling were put in the lavatory along with new wash bowls and toilets. The French casement windows were removed and glass blocks have replaced them. Truly the facilities at Eta are now the best that can be had and may have been reflected already in the pledging of the largest pledge class in Eta history.

THE 69 CLUB.

Psi Chapter at Lycoming College has a rather unique basketball record so far this year. To date they have won three out of the four games played and all three winners saw them come up with exactly 69 points. They hope that lady luck will continue to make them members of the 69 Club and that they can go on to win the intramural trophy.

Gressens Made Head Of Peabody Coal

(TIME, August 2, 1954)

"O. (for Otto) Gressens, '56, was elected president of Peabody Coal Co., the nation's second biggest commercial producer (after Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co.). Gressens attended the University of Illinois, remained there to lecture on corporate finance, and in 1926 earned his Ph.D. He joined Illinois' Commonwealth Edison, climbed to Comptroller in 1934 and vice president a decade later. In 1951 he joined Peabody, before long was made vice president. As the first non-Peabody-family member to become president, he succeeds Stuyvesant Peabody, Jr., who becomes board chairman."

(Brother Gressens is a member of Eta Chapter, class of 1921. He took an active part in the 1948 Convention in Chicago.)

Garman Elected to Board of Trustees

Walter E. Garman, Sr. was elected to the Board of Trustees of Gettysburg College last spring. He assumed his new duties in that capacity immediately.

Brother Garman is national assistant treasurer and a member of the Board of Directors. He has long been active in the Alumni Association of his college and also in the Alumni Association of Pi Chapter. His new administrative position on the college campus is his reward for the many years of active service he has given as an active alumnus.

LAMBDA BROTHER HONORED

After receiving the Commendation Ribbon for meritorious service Sgt. Paul R. Dolan (right) of Oakland, Calif., is congratulated by Colonel Adam S. Buynoski, deputy chief of staff of the Korean Military Advisory Group in Korea. Brother Dolan (Lambda '52), whose wife, Helen Arlene, lives at 5719 Keith Ave., Oakland is a statistical clerk in the adjutant general section of the group. The California soldier, who arrived overseas last January, entered the Army in April 1953.

Brother Mackenzie Honored by Army

Colin S. Mackenzie, Theta '55, has been awarded the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant for meritorious service in Korea.

Entering the U. S. Army in September 1951, Brother Mackenzie was relieved of active duty in September 1953 and is a junior at Purdue University School of Mechanical Engineering. He and his wife, Margaret A. (Betts) Mackenzie reside at 723 Allen St., West Lafayette, Ind.

Born in Gary, Colin graduated from Horace Mann High School. He is a member of the Gary Boat Club.

The citation awarding the decoration reads: "Sergeant Colin S. Mackenzie, U. S. Army in Korea, is cited for meritorious service in connection with military operations against an enemy during the period January 22, 1953 to July 4, 1953. During that period, Sergeant Mackenzie performed outstanding service as Chief Fire Direction Computer, 623rd Field Artillery Battalion. The technical skill, perceptiveness, conscientiousness, and perseverance demonstrated by Sergeant Mackenzie in the fulfillment of his duties and the superior organizational ability he exhibited in his supervision of the Prearranged Fires and the Battalion Registration Program resulted in the delivery of timely and effective fire upon the enemy. Under stress and pressure, he maintained his composure and kept his crews operating at maximum efficiency. Through his exceptional grasp of artillery fundamentals, Sergeant Mackenzie developed many original ideas which were adopted and proved to be most practical in application. His many achievements contributed substantially to the success of the I Corps combat mission. The outstanding devotion to duty, initiative, and ability displayed by Sergeant Mackenzie reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

Annual Conference

The National Interfraternity Conference held its annual meeting at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, December 2, 3 and 4. Representing Kappa Delta Rho were President Crosen, Assistant-treasurer Garman, Ferd Ensinger, representative to the House of Delegates of the NIC, Don Wolfe, executive secretary and Fred Closs.

A digest of important business transacted at the Conference will be given in the next issue of The Quill and Scroll.

Phi Gives Up House

Because of a deferred pledging policy at the University of Oklahoma and the fact that only six actives returned to school this past fall the house was closed up on November 1st. A high rental, and regulations of the University requiring a hostess made it impossible for six members to bear the financial burden.

Phi Chapter is now on inactive status on the campus. Little hope is held that any solution to their problems can be effected before the end of the year, and they will then be forced to withdraw from the IFC and cease to exist as a chapter. Five of the six members are seniors which makes their problem more difficult than it would be had they been underclassmen. (IFC regulations make it mandatory that a fraternity on the Oklahoma campus have a house.)

ACROSS THE EDITOR'S DESK

QUESTIONS, PLEASE?

An Associated Press dispatch dated September 21, 1954 concerning a released report by the National Committee on Fraternities in Education blames 'powerful alumni forces' for fostering racial and religious bias in many college fraternities. We know that our own Kappa Delta Rho alumni will be amused at this accusation especially since several of our alumni groups are considered more 'liberal' than the active groups.

Attempts by the NIC to discover the financial backers of the National Committee on Fraternities have met with failure. If the Committee is a legitimate organization, it should certainly be willing to state the source of its financial backing. To distribute elaborate six-page folders and prepare elaborate reports for the AP takes money.

The purpose of the Committee is somewhat hazy. It states that its main purpose is to assist fraternities to become "valuable adjuncts to college education." The central theme of its statement of purpose indicates that this can be done only through elimination of discrimination in fraternity membership and enabling young people in fraternities to "select their own companions free from outside pressures." These last two are in conflict.

It is evident, therefore, that while the National Committee on Fraternities in Education purports to be a committee engaged in assisting fraternities to realize more nearly their objectives, that it is actually organized for the purpose of enlightening the fraternity system on the sole question of the elimination of discriminatory clauses in constitutions.

We believe from this standpoint that we have the right to ask "Who is financing this project?" When educators permit their names to be used as a respectable front group for another sponsoring organization we believe we have the right to ask that question and also another, "Why is a front group needed?" If the objective is reasonable this group should be willing to name its sponsor. To operate as it does only hinders its purpose and creates more opposition.

THANKS!

Every issue of The Quill and Scroll sees approximately 250 returned by the post office department. The resulting work in trying to find new addresses for the 250 takes many, many hours of office time. To those who are thoughtful enough to send us their new addresses when they move we say a heartfelt

"THANKS."

Orchids to the two judges of the 1955 Sweetheart Contest, Hal E. Phillips, Middlebury '26, and James W. Smith, Gettysburg '43. Hal, with the New Jersey State Highway Department for many years, and Jim, a manager with the New Jersey Telephone Company completed their first job of selecting a winner from the many beautiful entries of the KDR chapters in a very scientific way. They couldn't have been more meticulous if the entries had been there in person.

This is the second year that two so-called amateurs acted as judges. The previous contests were judged by two 'pros' in the business, Roland Gammon, editor of See Magazine and Warren Young, science editor of Life. The removal of the national office to a spot more remote from New York City necessitated the change financially. Many thanks to all who have acted so willingly in this capacity for KDR. It has been well done by alumni who took their 'humility' seriously.

Two young bank robbers used Leo Weisenfluh, Iota '26, as an unsuspecting ruse to get on Governor's Island, New York, on November 27. Their objective was to hold up the bank there. They were foiled and captured. Both carried University of Miami registration cards.

Leo is director of the YMCA on the Island. The two robbers got past the guard at the ferry in New York by saying that they were to go to the island to see

Mr. Weisenfluh about "faculty athletic equipment."

The Interfraternity Council of Purdue does a superb job on The Purdue Greek, a mimeographed paper of Greek news on the campus. The last issue featured a story of the annual Christmas Tree Lighting Program on Sunday evening, December 13, and sponsored by the Junior Interfraternity Council. We would like to see more papers like this among the Greeks on many campuses. Every word is interesting.

Through the efforts of Herb Johnston, Cornell '17, funds were collected from former basketball players and fraternity brothers for a memorial to be placed in the new Moakley House on campus. The memorial was named in honor of Howie Ortner, Cornell '19, former basketball coach at Cornell and a former executive secretary for Kappa Delta Rho. Congratulations, Howie.

The hospitality shown to your executive secretary on his recent western trip was truly marvelous and no amount of thanks could cover his appreciation of all the kindnesses shown by KDR's along the way. It really made the trip unforgettable to feel a KDR spirit wherever there was a member willing to sit and chat about our fraternity. And they were all willing to sit and chat.

Believing that alumni relations are extremely important to every house we have been trying to institute a filing system (with appropriate cabinet) in every house.

Several houses still depend too much on some good-natured alumnus to take care of this detail, but the progress is extremely gratifying.

Latest to buy and install one of the latest of filing cabinets is Kappa Chapter of Ohio State. It even contains a section where confidential matters like rituals, etc. can be kept under lock and key. It ought to be money well spent.

To help all chapters who keep a complete filing system of actives and alumni the national office is instituting a service of sending to all such chapters a card duplicate of all new addresses received in the national office. This 3 x 5 card can easily be filed with the rest and new addresses noted without any more effort than just replacing the old one with the newest.

Orchids to 'Moki' Neely for an outstanding job as the new consul at Lambda Chapter in Berkeley. Taking over such a responsibility at a moment's notice is not easy, but Moki rose to the occasion and with the cooperation of the entire chapter has led them through a rather difficult period of their history. With such leadership a chapter can't fail to go forward.
