BULLETIN BOARD

Make Rush Simple

That's the recommendation of the 58 fraternities represented in the College Fraternity Secretaries Association, the organization of professional fraternity executives. The statement on Rushing Fundamentals, which has been approved by the Fraternity Scholarship Officers Association and the National Interfraternity Conference, concludes: that the best systems of rushing are those which are open, without restrictive regulations; are individual and personal in approach; are open to all without registration or charge; minimize inter-fraternity and chapter expenses; emphasize useful information; start at the earliest time and continue throughout the calendar year; and encourage upperclass, transfer and graduate pledging.

Fraternities Are Big Business

The University of Rhode Island has one of the most successful cooperative purchasing programs for chapters anywhere. Conservative estimates are that the Fraternity Managers Association (FMA) saves an average of 23 % on food costs alone. A fraternity which would be spending $16,000 a year on food without the coop, now spends an average of $13,500 under the plan. FMA also handles fraternity billing, keeps accounts and books for each fraternity, pays food and service bills, makes mortgage payments and provides budgeting assistance. Operating costs are raised by a 6 % tax levied on the fraternity's monthly net purchases. The levy provides the FMA with operating capital and pays professional staff salaries.

Alumni Fund Suggestion

Harold M. Osborn, Eta '22 has been thinking about the Alumni Fund and the apparent diffidence of members. He spoke to some of the undergraduates at Eta and came up with the following idea: Why not plan your donation to fall on your birthday? It's an easy time to remember, and an easy number to remember. Simply add your age to one, and become a member of the PLUS-1 club. Make it a point to give one dollar more than your age. If this is too much of a drain on your budget, why not do it at least on ten year anniversaries? Brother Osborn set the example. When he reached seventy, he sent in $71.00.

University Support

Indiana University, frequently recognized by the American Alumni Council as one of the best for alumni programs, reports that alumni with fraternity affiliations support the University better financially than non-fraternity alumni, both in terms of total amount and in percentage of participation. The same is true in their support of the University through recruitment of new students and athletes, in heading alumni clubs, and in supporting the University in nearly every phase of its operation.

The Future Of Fraternities

"In my opinion," says Vanderbilt Dean of Men Sidney Boutwell, "the greatest threat to the future of fraternities is the pessimistic attitude of many fraternity leaders . . . If the desire for small group identification is natural (and I believe it is), then why should the eventual death of fraternities be inevitable? Fraternities, I suggest, can have a bright future. If they die, it will probably be more the result of internal rot than external pressure, and I do not dismiss external pressure lightly." Dean Boutwell is a member of the executive council of the Kappa Alpha Order.

EDITORIAL

FORUM

I JUST HAPPENED to get a plastic paper clip the other day with the legend "Stamp Out Pollution" inserted into a tiny footprint. I would doubt that any of us could deny the fact that pollution is gradually shutting the doors of life upon us, and that greed, narrow-mindedness, selfishness and lack of concern for the rights of others enter heavily into its continued threat. A fraternity magazine is hardly the medium to launch a crusade against pollution, serious as the threat may be, however there is another kind of pollution which can be more closely tied to us . . . I like to call it word pollution . . . that changing of the meaning of a word from good to bad.

This kind of pollution is just as insidious as the more evident smog or fouled water that increasingly surround us. Freedom, a pure and simple word meaning liberation from imprisonment, tyranny or oppression, has been twisted into meaning license to do whatever you may want to do regardless of the consequences to other individuals. Freedom to bomb churches, to "take over" a resort, to murder, loot, riot, burn—is not freedom but license, the murderer of freedom. True freedom can only exist when the other person is considered, the other living creatures about us. And this requires a system of laws, some good, some bad . . . but all necessary, with improvement possible. Freedom in a fraternity should be the freedom to choose. We have the right to choose a job, a friend, a house, avocations, charities, and we have the right to choose a fraternity, of course.

KDR has the freedom to choose, today, who its members will be. This freedom rightfully does not distinguish between race, religion or color. Here, however, word pollution enters the scene again. A once sound, respectable word, Discrimination, has been uglified and twisted to its most vicious connotation. A discriminating individual was once one who had good taste . . . he chose well and intelligently. Dictionary synonyms are still, discernment, acumen, penetration, distinction . . . none with the frightening dirtified distortion of "discrimination". In the early days of the fraternity system many were guilty of the twisting of this particular word; mostly because they lost sight of the biblical principles upon which the groups were founded. As with Freedom, Discrimination can only be acceptable in its true, undistorted nature . . . and neither can be thrown aside. Without freedom, which still hasn't lost all its meaning, and without the liberty to choose (and what is discrimination but the act of choosing?), we have anarchy, despotism and all the evils that crowd the world.

Perhaps word pollution is equally as vicious an encroachment on our existence as all the other kinds of pollution. Filth, excessive noise, smog and bad water can shorten our lives, kill our food sources and derange our minds, but word pollution also can take away everything worth living for. Both can be combated by adhering to the simplest rule ever invented—"Do unto others as ye would have them do unto you". □

February Issue Comments

"I've just finished reading . . . and enjoying . . . (For Humanity and Responsibility—The College Fraternity, by Benjamin Garvey)

I heartily agree with all (the author) said in the article and if the same spirit prevailed today that we enjoyed in the twenties, we would not be faced with the problems that confront our campuses.

But it's a bygone era. So many forces have been at work to devalue the currency of character that no single element can be held responsible for the violent reaction.

It was good to hear from . . . Ben, if only by way of the printed word—and those words were a mouthful."

Russell H. Miles, Eta '25
Kingsport, Tenn.

"I enjoyed the February 1970 issue of the Quill & Scroll. In fact, I believe it to have impressed me more than any previous issue I have read."

Durward W. Owen, Executive Director
Pi Kappa Phi

"The Curtain"

"A Bertram Davis's article entitled "When the Curtain Fell" . . . seemed to me especially significant, and I would like, if possible . . . extra copies to send to people in positions of educational and religious leadership whom I believe would benefit by it."

Rev. Baldwin W. Callahan, Della '21
Newtonville, Mass.

"I feel the otherwise good quality of our KDR magazine is being overshadowed by stories completely unrelated to fraternity life. This would not be so bad, except that they amount to little more than thoughtless political drivel.

Surely only the John Birch Society could be comfortable reading two recent items, "The Making of a Viet Cong" and the recent "When the Curtain Fell".

Political writing, if it must appear, could be a lot more thought-provoking, informative, and constructive. For example, you might include views of current campus politics, political activities of active brothers, KDR chapter views and policies on drugs and alcohol, etc.

If I were you, in response to this letter, I would say, "OK, you write the kind of article you'd like to see".

I'd be glad to, if given a chance, except that I feel abstract political interpretations have no place in a magazine such as the Quill and Scroll."

Edward Webster, Pi '55
West Newton, Mass.

In the first place, the editor feels his policy is a good one: that of letting any article written by or about a KDR of sufficient stature appear in the national magazine. It isn't easy to secure experts in any field, and we have tried to interest those brothers who could make this publication a better magazine . . . with in-different success.

The two articles you mention are both "true experience" stories . . . I'm sorry you didn't care for them, as many of our readers did. We're not John Birch by any means . . . (they use the same tactics as extremists of the left) . . . and recognizing the communist threat does not automatically determine that one is a Birchist.

You, yourself, said it: "OK, you write the kind of article you'd like to see." Of all the problems we face in this nation today, perhaps the most difficult to solve is that of those who do not prefer to become involved. It's true of magazine publishing, too.—Ed.

"In the May issue the article by Bertram Davis on 'When the Curtain Fell' is most interesting. I would like permission to send copies of it to a few of my Canadian friends and, also our Prime Minister, Mr. Trudeau."

Wesley C. Pietz, Beta '27
Kettleby, Ontario, Canada

"I am not impressed by your selection of articles for the Quill and Scroll. I am referring to the article by Mr. A. Bertram Davis.

To begin with, I am a student, not a communist, and have never participated in a riot. I wonder if your friend, Mr. Davis, is attempting to smear all students who persist in posing difficult questions about the way the resources of this country are used.

In this article he dwells on the Chinese students in the middle 1920's who were running around yelling "imperialist". Unfortunately, the fact is that most of the foreigners in China at that time were imperialists. The British, Japanese, French, Russians and Germans were not invited by the Chinese, but forced their way into China with naked military power, and preserved their position by a continuation of the same means. The Americans, of course, were not as deeply involved in the carving up of China and the ruling by gunboat as were the Europeans and their Japanese friends, but merely took ample advantage of the situation to rake in their profits.

I realize that it was solicitous of the British to fire only "into a corner" of one of the many mobs mentioned by Mr. Davis. The result was that only four "gooks", or "dinks", if you prefer, were murdered. If you will allow me, I will pose another one of those difficult questions. By what right did the British, Americans, Russians, or Japanese maintain, much less use, military forces in a supposedly sovereign nation? . . .

I truly pity people like Mr. Davis and those who allow the trash such as only he can write in your magazine. If you really believe what you print, your fate is continued frustration for the rest of your lives, since there will be more communist triumphs in the near future. They are a powerful indigenous force in Southeast Asia. When the U.S. imperialist forces withdraw, as they soon must, the communists will finally gain control of all of Vietnam, after a bitter thirty-year struggle.

When the U.S. halts its destruction of eastern Laos by aircraft, the Pathet Lao will gain immeasurably. The situation in Thailand is also uncertain, and the revolutionary feeling in Malaysia, which was brutally crushed by the British is resurfacing. In Jordan, the left is gaining control of the Palastinian guerrillas.

All of this you and your reactionary friends are powerless to stop. This is not to say that the U.S. does not possess the military power to suppress these movements individually, or that this power is in the hands of those who would shrink at its use. However, Mr. Nixon and his gangster friends know that if they continue their attempts to dragoon the American people into useless adventures abroad, our patience will run out, and blood will flow through the land, the blood of the imperialists and those who abet them in their actions."

James C. Thomas, Alpha '70
Mayer, Arizona

We were forced to omit about a page and a half of typewritten copy in this letter for reasons of available space. Insofar as the portion printed, the same tired party-line phrases such as "Mr. Nixon and his gangster friends", "reactionary" and "U. S. imperialist forces", only prove that if not communist, you have been tinted by those who are. If a completely fair election could be held in the world today, the overpowering majority of people would choose to become Americans if they only could . . . and leave the subversion, terror, deceit and murder that are the by-words of communistic ascendancy. No, we're not perfect, nor even right all the time . . . but the great majority try constructively to bind up the wounds and abhor the thought of blood flowing through any land, much less our own.

Words from Past Presidents

Charles H. Wright, Alpha '16

Second in a series of articles written by living past presidents.

THE CHOICE OF A COLLEGE is among the most difficult decisions made by high school graduates. I entered Middlebury after graduation from Akron High School in 1912 because of the enthusiasm of my only uncle, Charles Baker Wright, a member of the faculty. At that time KDR was next to the youngest of six fraternities, and a local. The membership was recognized as an exceptional group after seven short years of existence. They met above a clothing store in a second-floor room. I was delighted at the opportunity of becoming a member.

During the next several years we acquired the house still occupied by Alpha today . . . and negotiated for the installation of Beta at Cornell. As mentioned in brother Houck's article in the last issue, Gamma was added a year later.

Late in my senior year I was offered a scholarship in the philosophy post graduate school at Cornell. I assume I was offered the Grand Consul honor (1916-17) on the basis of my connection with both schools.

When the United States entered World War I, I volunteered and left for training camp, arriving May 13th, 1917. I was assigned #13 in Co. 13 and came out of 18 months' active duty (3 in France) without injury. I guess 13 must be my lucky number.

I spent over 20 years in banking before another 3½ years in the army in World War II. Then 11 years in the Veterans' Administration, 4 more in banking before retiring. While I can't equal Chris's 53 years of marriage, we just celebrated our 47th anniversary. I wonder if he can match our 3 yr. old great grandson?

I regret that my contacts with KDR have not been closer in recent years, but you can be sure I haven't lost interest, following developments through the Quill & Scroll. □

TOO OFTEN I FEEL we take things for granted, particularly our Fraternity. It is so much easier to "do your own thing" and let George do the work. Easier only because we do not have to put our shoulder to the wheel and give it a good healthy shove once in a while.

Responsibility appears to be lacking at times. Webster defines responsibility as "trustworthy; dependable; expected or obligated for; involving obligations or duties; able to think and act rationally." This definition describes all our responsibilities to our fraternity. It starts with the first day of pledgship and ends when our name is added to the roll of the "Chapter Eternal."

The pledge has the responsibility of being honest and of high moral character. To study hard and achieve academic success, not only for himself but for his fraternity. To perform the pledge duties assigned him and to conscientiously learn his pledge lessons. To assist in the recruitment of quality men who might be invited to join his pledge class.

After initiation the new brother not only has all his pledge responsibilities but he acquires additional ones. He must be constantly aware of his image on campus, because through him his chapter is judged. He must strive for campus position and recognition. He must assist in the internal management of the chapter. He must guide and wisely counsel the pledges and constantly be alert for good prospective pledges for the future. He must participate to the extent of his ability in the institutions intramural program. He must seek responsible offices within his chapter, and once elected must fulfill the responsibilities of that office to the best of his ability. He must cooperate to the fullest with all brothers and fellow officers, putting personal feeling and prejudices aside for the good of the Chapter. He must continue to actively support the chapter personally and financially and not move out of the chapter house for what appears to be more personal freedom. And last but by no means least, he should fulfill his financial obligation promptly so the chapter will have the finances to meet its obligations promptly.

Collectively the brothers have chapter responsibilities which must be fulfilled. The chapter must cooperate with other fraternities and sororities on campus for the common good of the Greek system. It has the responsibility to periodically inform their alumni of the chapter's progress and activities and invite the alumni to return to the house for a planned function, or for just a casual visit when they are in the area. The chapter has the responsibility

The Duties Of Involvement

ty of cooperating with the administration of the visitation and conducting itself in such a manner that it will be a credit to the fraternity system. The chapter is responsible for keeping a clean and orderly physical structure which will be conducive for studying and proper living by the brothers.

Graduation does not relieve a brother of his fraternal responsibilities however. Granted they change considerably and are reduced in number and magnitude. The undergraduate chapters all need alumni advice and guidance and it is the alumnus' responsibility to share with other alumni-to take his turn doing his part. He has the responsibility of encouraging the undergraduate chapter and assisting them in whatever way he may be called upon to do, such as; providing names for rush or an occasional financial assistance to complete a necessary project at the chapter house. He has the responsibility of supporting the chapter's alumni association's dues program as well as that of the National. Both local alumni associations and the National have crying need for qualified men to serve their respective organizations; and it is the responsibility of all qualified brothers to accept these duties when called upon.

This thought of fraternity responsibility has struck me several times when I visit some of our chapters and when I review the participation of the Annual Alumni Fund drive. Several years ago senior apathy became "fashionable." The seniors would reason that they had worked for the chapter for three years, now it was time for them to enjoy the fruits of their labors and let the younger men take over. Possibly we could not argue too much with this philosophy except that their experience was valuable to the chapter and to the younger brothers who were taking over the responsibility of guiding the chapter for the coming year.

Unfortunately in a few of the chapters this apathy has become contagious and has spread to the rest of the brotherhood. Except for pledges and officers, all seemed to be affected. This is not only detrimental to the chapter, but to the individual as well. Life is involved and in order to grow and prosper, an individual must become involved in the activities around him. He cannot sit idly by and let the rest of the world go 'round.

Today more than ever before, we need to become involved, to identify ourselves with life, to take advantage of the many opportunities about us and to accept our responsibilities. With the 60's behind us, we have started on the new decade of the 70's. Let each of us resolve to seriously accept our responsibilities toward our fraternity, be you a pledge, active or an alumnus. Try it—I am sure you will find it well worth your efforts. □

Dr. Harold Vagtborg, Eta '26

DR. VAGTBORG WAS BORN in Copenhagen, Denmark and moved with his family to the United States when he was 3 years old. While in college he served a full apprenticeship as a union bricklayer in Chicago. Following his graduation (he received his degree in municipal and sanitary engineering), he entered a Chicago construction business with his father, building factories and apartment buildings. In 1929 he and a friend formed Allen & Vagtborg, Inc., a consulting engineering firm in Chicago. They designed water, sewage treatment and electrical power facilities throughout the midwest. Following the depression, Henry Heald, a schooltime buddy and later president of the Ford Foundation, talked Dr. Vagtborg into teaching a few classes in municipal and sanitary engineering. This led Dr. Hotchkiss, president of Armour Institute into offering him a full time job as professor at Armour. He was eventually appointed superintendent of buildings and grounds, assistant to the president, executive secretary of the Board of Trustees and director of Armour Research Foundation of Armour Institute of Technology (now Illinois Institute of Technology Research Institute). During this period (in 1937) a Reader's Digest article was printed about Dr. Vagtborg's duties which was to have a tremendous effect on his future. With the advent of World War II, civic leaders in Kansas City decided to found an applied research institute. They raised $500,000 and appointed Harold as first president of the now prestigious Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City.

But to go back to the Reader's Digest article: somewhere in its depths Dr. Vagtborg was misquoted as saying, "We can improve anything". It actually was, "Anything can be improved". In 1964 a young naval officer in the South Pacific read the article. He had just signed a trust indenture to establish a research activity to stimulate new advances in science and technology, and as soon as he read those words, he determined to get this man to help him develop his plans. Tom Slick, out of the Navy and raring for action, called Dr. Vagtborg in 1947—they met shortly thereafter. And from the meeting came 23 years of service at Southwest Research Center. In the beginning it was only an empty piece of land—today 71 buildings dot the landscape. More than 1,400 people walk where there was only cactus, rattlesnakes and mesquite in 1947. Dr. Vagtborg acted as Tom Slick's consultant at first. In 1948 he became president of Southwest Research Institute and Southwest Foundation for Research and Education. In May of this year he was appointed president emeritus of both organizations. Retirement? Far from it! As a man who has had a significant role in the founding of more than 60 internationally known applied research institutions for economic development in the United States, Europe, Scandinavia, South America and Mexico, this will be only a lightening of duties to enable him to concentrate on what still can be done. As he puts it, "How can I retire? There's too much to be done. Look at all the land out there". He gestures toward the still undeveloped areas of the Southwest. Brother Vagtborg—we're proud of you! □

THE 1969/1970 ALUMNI FUND

Record Contributions for the Fourth Consecutive Year.

This year for the first time the Annual Alumni Fund (formerly the Loyalty Fund) exceeded $6,000., with 744 alumni contributing $6,715. This year's donors set a record, exceeding by 97 the previous record of 647 donors established in 1966/1967.

For the first time in six years, Illinois (Eta) alumni took top honors with $749. from 60 alumni while Cornell (Beta) followed with $675.

However, Cornell maintained first place, its sixth consecutive time, with 76 donors, closely followed by Purdue (Theta) with 70 donors. Indiana (Nu) with 66, Illinois (Eta) with 60, and Penn State (Zeta) with 52.

Both Indiana (Nu) and Lafayette (Rho) moved up two places in the list of contributions. Indiana's $498. gave it fourth place and Lafayette's $475. gave it fifth place. Purdue maintained its third place position but its alumni increased their contributions $210. this year for a total of $661.

Nine chapters, namely Middlebury (Alpha), Franklin (Epsilon), Penn State (Zeta), Illinois (Eta), Purdue (Theta), Bucknell (Iota), Indiana (Nu), Gettysburg (Pi) and Colby (Xi) set records with this year's number of donors exceeding their previous all time highs. (See next page for a full account).

Brother Harold Osborn, Illinois '22, suggested to all alumni a unique method of contributing to the Alumni Fund by giving on their birthday each year. See Bulletin Board for details.

Alumni Fund receipts are used to defray the operating costs of the National. In this era of increased expansion activity, additional financial support from alumni is a crucial necessity.

Hal Newcomb, Xi '29 previously forwarded a "Tales of the Unknown" which was published by us some years ago. As he puts it, "My memory seems to function better in this category . . . I have several other "Tales" (all true) which keep cropping up every so often."

The Midnight Ride of Henry McGoff

Harold L. Newcomb, Xi '29

BACK IN THE ROARING TWENTIES I was a member of a home-town dance band called Dick's Harmony Boys. We were very business-like, belonged to the Musician's Union, and played for crowds of young people at pavillions for miles around Gardiner, Maine. This was the era of the Charleston, the Black Bottom, the Big Apple, the Shimmy, the Mah Jong and the Jitterbug—we knew them all and prospered for over nine years.

Harold McGoff was one of our best saxophone players. When he heard my story about my Grandfather's experience in the Maine woods, (See Quill and Scroll, February, 1967) he insisted on telling us about his Dad and Uncle.

One cold night in December . . . it must have been about 1924 . . . Henry McGoff, age 35, awoke from a deep sleep near midnight, shook his wife gently and told her he had had the wierdest experience of his life. He had been dreaming and in his dream he "saw" his brother, Jim, lying on a cot, desperately ill. Jim lived in New Hampshire, approximately 60 miles from Gardiner. Henry's wife, Mary, looked outside, noted that it was snowing rather heavily, and tried to reassure him . . . to no avail. Henry began pacing the floor and Mary suggested he telephone Jim and settle this fantasy. He did, but there was no answer. This only caused additional concern, for Jim was living alone ever since his wife had passed away a year previously, and a silent phone was unusual. Henry began to dress. The clock read 11:30 P.M. The snow had increased in volume. Bundled up in cold weather gear, Henry started his old faithful Maxwell, put on tire chains, checked the radiator alcohol and left. The highway was slick. Driving along slowly, slipping and sliding over the bad spots, he gradually approached Rindge, N.H. while the storm howled dismally around the car. Whether he was trembling from cold or with apprehension about his brother who had a history of high blood pressure, he didn't know or even notice at the time.

It was after 1:00 A.M. when he parked the Maxwell outside of his brother's home. Lights were shining in some of the windows, and the front door opened to his touch. He called . . . no answer. He went upstairs to the second floor, knocked on the bedroom door (which was locked) and after several attempt at entrance, he heard the lock turning slowly, watched the door creak open . . . and Jim McGoff fell forward into his brother's arms. He was dead.

Harold, my orchestra buddy, was eight or nine when this occurred. I'm positive the story is true . . . even recall seeing the obituary notice. Henry was a devout and honest citizen as well, not given to exaggeration or fabrication . . . or for that matter, irrepressible urges to go driving sixty miles in the middle of a blizzard! □

The Stone Memorial

J. Truman Stone

ON MAY 5, 1970, Richard L. Kennedy, Director of State and Community Relations at the University of Michigan received a contribution of $100.00 from Franklin L. Everett, former National President of KDR and a Michigan graduate, class of '25. There would be little of the unusual in this, but for the fact that there was a special proviso attached to the donation. Let me quote from the letter:

I have enjoyed listening to the Glee Club. My own musical activity however, has been as an undergraduate in the University Band, Mimes Orchestra where I played clarinet. Perhaps some worthy member of the Glee Club might be awarded ten dollars ($10.00) each year at the annual banquet until the above contribution has been liquidated.

The annual award might be known as the J. Truman Stone Mu '33 Memorial; Mr. Stone was a member of the Glee Club and in his senior year was President from 1932-33. On July 10, 1962 he died of a heart attack. He was a very active member of Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity. He served as Treasurer of the Mu Chapter on the University of Michigan campus during the period until World War Two. During the existence of KDR on the campus it held the record for scholarship for a period of nine continuing years as well as having prominently engaged in campus activities. It is the only fraternity of seventeen which closed during the war which has not been reactivated. I, myself, have been very much interested in past years in KDR, having been one of its directors and President of the National organization.

Perhaps it would be appropriate in designating the award, that it be named the J. Truman Stone Memorial given by "The Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity". □

There may possibly be other Mu brothers who would like to participate in this form of remembrance of J. Truman Stone—and while I have not consulted Brother Everett about this, I feel certain he would appreciate hearing of additional donations. He can be reached at 1200 Rosewood St., Ann Arbor, Michigan.

KAPPA DELTA RHO ON CAMPUS

Illinois State Colony

The colony is anxiously awaiting activation as a chapter. It was the first national colony on campus, started by Jerry Hymen of Gamma Alpha in April, 1969—to day there are 23 enthusiastic members, including a member of the student senate and presidents of both the Young Republicans, Young Democrats and Viva. The colony's first formal was held May 16th in conjunction with Gamma Alpha chapter in Peoria. Kappa chapter hosted the Illinois State pledge walkout (the pledges set a goal and the rest of the house tries to beat them to it—in this case, Kappa chapter) and the colony wishes to express its thanks for the hospitality and assorted goodies.

Lewis Colony

The Black Student Union sponsored a Christmas food drive, with first prize won by the colony. Scholastically the group has a cumulative grade average of 2.35, among the highest of fraternities on campus. On March 12-14 the colony visited Gamma Alpha chapter, initiating 4 men into the national on the 13th. Activities include a colony sponsored car and airplane wash, and a candy drive with proceeds going to a color TV fund for the Student Union; an ugly man contest with the $100 raised being turned over to the college hockey team; selling daily and sunday papers as a convenience to the college, and many more. In intramural sports we have made the semi-finals in basketball for the past two semesters. We were the only fraternity to put on a halftime show for homecoming. Consul Don Piccirilli has received the Most Valuable Player award on a Chicago Park District softball team. Proprietor Richard Braun has been on the Dean's List for the last three semesters. Five members of the colony performed with the Lewis College Chorale at Orchestra Hall, Chicago.

From the Convention Site

The present school year has been perhaps the most exciting and yet the most challenging in the history of Nu. Never before on the Indiana University campus has the Greek life in general been more criticized and tested since its existence.

And never before has it emerged as strong and as united as it presently is.

Kappa Delta Rho has been no exception. Fifteen excellent men were initiated into KDR on February 22, 1970. Due to the outstanding efforts of Brother Bob Cummings '72 as rush chairman, KDR ranked first in Spring Rush. The Spring Pledge Class now numbers fifteen and exceeds all other fraternities in both numbers and scholarship.

Nu's annual Venison Banquet, (founder's day) on May 2 featured guest speaker, I.U.'s football coach, John Pont, voted the nation's most outstanding coach in 1967. Also, a panel discussion on "the new college student" moderated by Dr. Thomas Scherck, Dean of Students at I.U.

"The Hawaiian Luau", the annual spring dance, has been labeled as the "greatest fraternity dance at Indiana University." The house is transformed into a South Sea Island. Three high rise straw huts are connected by a 25 foot suspension bridge that crosses an enormous pool. Truck loads of sand plus three huge Teke Gods, one of which has a waterfall from its mouth, add to the Hawaiian atmosphere.

Again the KDR men have taken the top leadership positions in the campus activities. Ernie Yelton '70 is a member of the Indiana University Student Foundation Steering Committee as well as the field director of the I.U. card section, named "Best in the Big Ten" by ABC. Rex Cooper '71 was a member of the card section steering committee and will succeed Ernie as field director next year. Chris Herrington '71 was appointed as President of the Student Athletic Board and Steve Pock '72 and Tim Marlow '72 were elected officers of the YMCA. Dave Solan '70, past Worthy Counsel, inaugurated and helped organize the student march upon trash, (S.M.U.T.)—a giant step in the unity of the Greek System here. E. Mayer Maloney, Jr. '72, newly elected Counsel, is a member of the IFC executive board and completed Dave's preliminary work on the S.M.U.T. program. This year Doug Otto '72 gained prominence on the I.U. tennis team. Presently there are five men training with next year's Rose Bowl football team.

Yes, it's been an exciting and rewarding year for Nu, and the chapter is making plans for housing Kappa Delta Rho's National Convention here this summer. Nu hopes that they will be able to see as many of our brothers from across the nation there as possible.

Eta Chapter News

This year has been a successful one for Eta. Although our football team didn't win any trophies, there was considerable improvement. Basketball was less successful (0-5), but at the time this was written the softball team was performing well. The scholastic average for the first semester was impressive with 30% of the membership named to Dean's List. House improvements included new carpeting in the halls and a major portion of the interior repainted. The lawn has also been reseeded. Initiation saw eleven new brothers brought into the brotherhood... one of the largest initiate classes in recent years. Two pledges have been obtained this past semester.

Two brothers, Larry Beanblossom and Steve Zerbel, were chosen as members of Skull and Crescent (honorary) in recognition of their service and activities during the year.

The Epsilon Story

How goes it at Epsilon?

Things are becoming bigger and better! With the addition of several talented pledges Epsilon started the intramural season with a second place in flag football: Quite an improvement over last years no win season! Brother Espy '72 and pledge West were named to the league all star team. Brother Mike "Boom Boom" Bailey was one of the Hoosier College Conference's leading ground gainers for the Franklin College Varsity. Our intramural basketball team climbed from the bottom of the standings to the middle. Little can be written at this time on the spring sports that are now in progress, however, Epsilon usually excels in these sports and hopes are high for capturing of the coveted all-sports trophy.

The pledges and brothers straggled out of bed for two consecutive week-ends to receive a national citation from the Boy's Clubs of America for their work in painting the local club. The work was hard but rewarding for the participants. Also on the service side, Brothers Bonar, Barczak, Bishop, Vaughn, and Richmond are active in helping the local Kiwanis in their Drug Alert efforts.

Many of the brothers will be gone next year. Brothers Bishop, Vaughn, Overmyer, and Thomas will graduate. Marriage has already claimed Brother Duebel and will claim Brothers Farkas and Thompson. Brother Bonar will be attending another college pursuing a degree in electrical engineering.

Brother Bonar was named student of the Month for November. Brother Vaughn has just completed a year as intramural director. Brother Overmyer is leaving his job as sports information director and will be succeeded in this important position for the college by Brother Henniger. Brother Strong has been named Editor of the Franklin College newspaper. Brother Bonar will be ending his three year reign as head student photographer for the college publications.

Epsilon came in a close second for fraternity scholarship the first semester of this year. Six pledges are now brothers. Congratulations are in order for Brothers Henniger, Thompson, Hertz, Rolland, Poindexter, and Van Sickle.

The brothers worked with Delta Delta Delta Sorority on a homecoming float this year. At least one pinning and one engagement resulted. This year several successful dances were held with other fraternities at Franklin. The Chapter journeyed to Nu at I.U. for "The First Annual Little Rose Bowl" flag football game. Epsilon won and everyone dined and danced at what hopefully will be a continuing function!

1970 saw the creation of "The Little Sisters of the Epsilon Rose". A girls auxiliary. 31 lovely co-eds were pledges in the first pledge class. Credit goes to Brothers Fagan and Mazzai.

Among alumni who have recently visited us were Brothers McQuillian and Thibodeau. It was good "old times" with them and other alumni who have visited us this year. The new pledges received cards and letters wishing them success from various alums at the start of the year.

Much work has been done on the house this year. The pin lamp has been re-wired and lighted by brother Bonar. All of the brothers pitched in at the start of the year to paint the halls and heads. Also much needed work was done on the heating and plumbing system, including new showers.

Another "Little Sister" Program At Penn State

For the first time at Zeta chapter we have initiated a little sister program. Our first class consisted of eleven girls, who pledged for three weeks this winter. The Brotherhood decided on the name Little Sisters of Dionysus for the group, and from this time forth all little sisters of Zeta will go by this name. We plan to run the program much as we run our regular pledge program. The one outstanding exception is that the girls will rush by invitation early in the term, and pledge later that same term.

The little sister Constitution was drawn up primarily by LeVan P. Smith, with suggestions and approval by the Brotherhood. Girls initiated in the first class were: Jeanne Marie Boone from Kensington, Maryland, Layne Alice Bretsnyder, Butler, Pa., Gaynor Ruth Chandler, Pittsburgh, Pa., Andreana Michelle Davis, Malvern, Pa., Leigh Susan DePaul, Pittsburgh, Pa., Susan Rae DeVaty, Pittsburgh, Pa., Martha Sue Hayes, Lake City, Pa., Linda Anne Hittner, Chester, Pa., Kathryn Ellen Lehman, State College, Pa., Linda Diane Lutes, Bentleyville, Pa., Maxine Elaine Rubenstein, Wallingford, Pa., Eleanor Irene Stott, Warminster, Pa.

The first class of 13 brothers initiated this scholastic year was the pledge class of last Spring.

Spring rush, traditionally weak, was true to form for us. We pulled five men, two of whom depledged along the way. Three more joined later this spring.

As far as scholastic achievements go, the most recent records we have received from the university lists KDR first among all the social fraternities at Penn State, with a cumulative average of 2.67 out of a possible 4.0. Several fraternities were ahead of us, but these were the scholastic fraternities, such as engineering and science groups. There are 53 fraternities at Penn State.

There have been many summer initiated improvements: The living room, foyer, first floor stairway and the second floor were completely recarpeted, and the old carpets from the first floor were used to carpet the third floor, which previously had been linoleum.

The furniture in the living room, a couple of chairs and sofas, were reupholstered in leather.

But the most impressive transition came in the kitchen, with completely new equipment. The chapter was fortunate, with the direction of Mr. Ken Kramer, to be able to purchase a new gas range, a sink with automatic dish washer (something our cook and kitchen help find quite useful), a spacious new refrigerator and a freezer. Also, in the center of the room, is a large new service table. It's not a bad set-up.

In the sport world, KDR is holding its own. Last spring we won the intramural golf championships, were runners-up in the tennis competition. This autumn we were quite active in intramural football, establishing a fine record which we are confident will catapult us into the top ten of all fraternities in intramural competition. Our tennis doubles, gold team and volleyball team are ranked as early season favorites in their sports.

Several of the brothers have been gaining some personal notoriety around campus. Tom Eshbaugh, formal consul, was selected as the Interfraternity Council Board of Control Chairman. He was an influential force in establishing the 24 hours open house policy which is now in effect at all Penn State fraternities. Also on the Board of Control was LeVan Smith, a twelfth term now student teaching in Art Education at Radnor High School in Radnor, Pa. Joseph Huston, a junior and former consul, is running for the Presidency of the Undergraduate Student Government.

James Finegan, a sophomore, has been named the Assistant Sports Editor of the Daily Collegian, the student publication. He will serve in that capacity until next Spring.

Our consul, Dave Reese, has recently been elected treasurer of the Penn State Marketing Club, and is running for Interfraternity Council Vice-President.

From Chapter Newsletters

Delta

The percentage of Colgate freshmen entering fraternities was slightly lower than last year, but Delta took one of the largest classes on campus (15) without sacrificing quality. David Peet '70, a biology major, has been elected Phi Beta Kappa. On April 26th the chapter held a reception for William Everts, Romance Languages Professor and Registrar, who retired from Colgate this year. In March a cocktail party and dinner was held for John Falcone, former chapter advisor and a Rho graduate who is leaving the controller's post at Colgate for another collegiate position at Connecticut College for Women.

Lambda

The house is steadily developing at its new location with active membership almost doubling over the past two quarters, however even more growth is necessary to assure a comfortable financial situation. Fall rush in 1970 should complete the transitional phase and increase membership to a profitable ratio. The traditional Annual Ski Dance is no longer possible—as the ski run stayed at the Le Conte address. □

New Initiates

Following is a list of initiations which were reported this year. They total 305, an increase of 16 over last year and an increase of 32 over the previous year. This is an encouraging trend since most fraternities are complaining about a loss in initiations. There were probably a few more brothers initiated than those listed below, but their initiation has not been reported officially to the National Office, by that we mean their Certificates of Initiation, or their initiation fees have not been sent in and recorded. Let's set our goal for 350 initiations next year:

YOU are Kappa Delta Rho

Whether you are an undergraduate or an alumnus, old or young, rich or poor, YOU are a member of Kappa Delta Rho—and only through your efforts will the unique experience of fraternity become available to others.

Too many members have that “lost” feeling of “what can I, one person, do that would have any effect?” And the answer is simply this: One undergraduate started Gamma Alpha. One alumnus sends Quill & Scroll news items consistently about his chapter. One man has provided the impetus for our current expansion. Dozens of unheralded men sacrifice time and effort for the national fraternity and the individual chapters. They can use help all the way down the line, and would welcome your assistance.

“But I can’t spend much time . . . I’m overloaded with work now!” So are we all. This magazine is essentially a one-man operation done in spare time, between the design and production of six national magazines . . . and they aren’t quarterly’s.

There are two coupons on this page—they just hint at a few of the things that even the most isolated member can do. Why not fill out one or both and send them in? Be an active member!
