COLUMNIST DISCUSSES FRATERNITY SYSTEMS

Syndicated columnist Russell Kirk, who is also a professor at Michigan State University, has written that college and university administrators across the country are having second thoughts about the fraternity system and its usefulness. Roughly a decade ago many administrators were persuaded that the social fraternity was hopelessly undemocratic, anachronistic and meritless. In some cases, fraternities were banished from the campus or so severely restricted that they could not survive. Kirk, not a fraternity member, says "the fraternities are more valuable today than they were in the 19th century, when many of them were founded . . . I mean that the typical student body nowadays is far too big, so that most students are lost in a lonely crowd, and many complain that they have been reduced to business machine numbers." In Kirk's judgment the fraternity offers an ideal means of eliminating the anonymity and impersonality of the large university. He sees the fraternity as a "residential club on a humane scale, a little community, a focus of affections." Kirk concludes: "If fraternities adhere to their declared objectives, they can do much to restore the higher learning in this land."

PENNSYLVANIA AND IDAHO

share an honor—they are the only states, both of whose U.S. Senators were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the national intercollegiate honorary society founded in 1776 and having its membership based on high academic standing.

The four senators are also all members of national fraternities. Pennsylvania's senators are Hugh Scott an Alpha Chi Rho from the University of Pennsylvania and Richard Schweiker a member of Phi Kappa Sigma from Pennsylvania State. Idaho's senators are Frank Church a member of Theta Xi from Stanford and Len Jordan a member of Alpha Tau Omega from the University of Oregon.

MEMBERSHIP UP ON WEST COAST

A study of the sixty-two campuses in 11 western states and Canada which comprise the Western Regional Interfraternity Conference reports that 709 fraternity chapters are sheltered, and the 32,914 fraternity men live in 638 chapter houses. In addition a comparative study of these 62 colleges for the period 1960-1970 shows that thirty-three campuses reported an increase in the number of fraternity men, and the number of chapter houses showed a net gain of 122. The study was part of the working papers prepared by R. W. Chamberlain, Assistant Dean at Arizona State University, the host for this year's Western Regional Conference.

MANY FRATERNITY MEN IN CONGRESS

Stewart S. Howe reports that of the 535 members of the 92nd Congress, 70 of the 100 senators (70%), and 159 of the 435 representatives (36.6%) have college social and professional fraternity backgrounds. Howe reports that only about one per cent of the U.S. population, and less than five per cent of all citizens who have had some college education are members of Greek-letter fraternities.

Among the respective college fraternities represented, Alpha Tau Omega has the largest delegation with 15 members. Other include: Phi Delta Theta, 14 members; Beta Theta Pi, 13 members; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 13 members, Sigma Chi, 12 members; Sigma Nu, 12 members; Phi Gamma Delta, 11 members; Pi Kappa Alpha, 11 members; Kappa Alpha Order, 10 members; Delta Kappa Epsilon, 10 members; Kappa Sigma, 7 members; and Lambda Chi Alpha, 7 members.

Ed. Note: Guess we're not overly political.

COST MAKES STUDENTS WORK

Mounting costs of higher education and the needs of an expanding number of college students from low-income families has greatly increased the number of full-time students working part-time. Between 1965/1969 the number of college students grew by 32% to 5.8 million. During the same period students working part-time grew by 64% to 2.1 million.

EDITORIAL FORUM

AS IS TRUE OF EVERYTHING ELSE in these day of strife, inflation, taxes and confusion, a fraternity cannot exist on a business-as-usual basis. There's the strange paradox of students in traditional, old-line universities and colleges becoming apathetic to the fraternity system, while at the same time students in the newer colleges and universities welcome the system eagerly. In some cases where we are banned, we become desirable . . . and where we're an accepted part of campus life, we become the establishment, and therefore suspect. We can't say this isn't true of Kappa Delta Rho any more than of other fraternities, although we feel the extremes may be less obvious, luckily, for us.

So what can we do to reinforce our own group? Much has been done already in emphasis upon what we are, the discarding of past inequalities, modernizing of our constitution and adaptation to student needs. More can still be done, and the renaissance of some of our feeblest chapters in recent years offers living proof of what may lie ahead in the years to come. One sparkplug, with national assistance, can literally renew a chapter. The incidence of four new chapters within a five year period points to activity unparalleled within recent decades. Alumni funds are showing sustained growth, and with the growth, greater alumni interest.

On the debit side are the need of chapters for more men and the omnipresent need for money as building costs, mailing costs, printing costs, living costs and taxes all steadily increase year-by-year. Money, of course, helps, but this is not the total solution. As we grow in size, we should also grow in budget (which may sound great to the keepers of the coffers), but here too, growth requires more services, more publications, more staff. Size alone will not solve fiscal problems, as one increase balances-off the other . . . up to a point which we have not as yet reached.

Our most urgent goals must be several:

- Unity. Two few of each chapter's representatives can attend national conventions. Those who do, frequently arrive with preconceived notions of the futility of a national group . . . only to leave with a new spirit and understanding of the absolute necessity for survival of this brotherhood (in the truest sense of the word).
- Expansion. We are doing well, but we must do better. We are in the critical stages of expansion when outgo must exceed income, yet the two are getting closer together each year. Our goal of 30-35 chapters in a ten year period is not only possible but necessary for an effective operating budget with full services.
- New Members. This is easy on some campuses, hard on others, downright difficult in certain areas. Any move to modify restrictive rushing rules should be supported fully. Alumni can assist here both by supporting such recommendations, and even further by sending prospective members' names to the Executive Secretary in Indianapolis. You'll find recommendation forms in almost every issue of this magazine. Use them. Only through continuing interaction such as this can we grow.

We have other goals. You've been reading about them, issue by issue, and they're all important, too. For Kappa Delta Rho it is a time of great expectations and great possibilities. There's light at the end of the tunnel . . . let's keep driving toward it! □ as of April 30, 1971 are approaching last year's total. In round figures we now have approximately $6,500 with the following chapters leading the parade:

Beta	84 donors	$960
Theta	66 "	632

Eta	66 donors	648
Lambda	51 "	492
Zeta	54 "	461

If we get the magazine on press in time so that it reaches you before the June 30 deadline, let's make a last ditch effort to top last year's $6,715.00 It would appear at this point that Beta is well on its way to recovering the total dollar amount (lost last year to Eta chapter). Beta continues its dominance in total donors. A complete report will be found in the August issue which will be devoted almost entirely to the Alumni Fund. □

Epsilon Alpha Installed Feb. 13th

EPSILON ALPHA CHAPTER at Lewis-St. Francis College of Lockport, Ill., was installed Saturday, February 13th as the twenty-ninth chapter of Kappa Delta Rho. Sixteen neophytes were initiated at 2:00 p.m. at the Sheraton-Joliet Motor Inn in nearby Joliet, Ill., by the initiation team from Gamma Alpha Chapter of Bradley University. The initiation was conducted by Daniel Shack II as Consul, and he was assisted by Daniel Susina, Patrick Thomas, Gary Long and William Wagner. The sixteen new brothers and seventeen previously initiated Members-at-Large made a chartering group of thirty-three.

Epsilon Alpha was established on February 5, 1964 when it was installed as a Council of the Knights of Columbus. On May 5, 1968 the group disaffiliated with the Knights of Columbus and became a local fraternity known as KC. On September 24, 1969 they became a colony of Kappa Delta Rho. The colony has been active during its establishment. They sponsored several fund raising projects and have made a cash contribution of $200.00 to the school's Hockey Team and a $250.00 contribution toward a color television for the new Student Union.

Lewis-St. Francis was founded in 1930 as a technical school. Two years later it was taken over by the Franciscan Brothers and assumed the name of "Holy Name Technical School". The first year it had an enrollment of fifteen students and a faculty of five. Subsequently Frank J. Lewis, a Chicago philanthropist, became interested in the school and gave it financial assistance. From 1937-1940 it was known as the "Lewis School of Aeronautics". During World War II it served as a Navy installation and in 1946 the school was reopened as the "Lewis College of Science and Technology", offering a four year program in aeronautics.

In 1960 the Christian Brothers took over the school adding a Liberal Arts College and a School of Business Administration. In 1969 Lewis became coeducational when it merged with "St. Francis College for Women" in neighboring Joliet, Ill. The school has an enrollment of 2500 students with a 3-1 male to female ratio.

Kappa Delta Rho is the third national of the six fraternities on campus. Phi Kappa Theta and Tau Kappa Epsilon installed chapters in 1967. At 6:00 p.m. a social hour was held and the Installation Banquet was served to 85 members and guests of Epsilon Alpha. Executive Secretary E. Mayer Maloney, Nu '36, served as Master of Ceremonies and Rev. Virgil Hall, Epsilon Alpha's faculty advisor, gave the Invocation. National President Kenneth R. Gesner, Xi '53 welcomed the chapter into the fraternity and presented the Charter to Consul Donald Piccirilli. Don accepted the Charter on behalf of the entire membership and expressed the hope that Epsilon Alpha would prove itself worthy of the confidence placed in it by the fraternity. Mr. Craig Stewart, Assistant Student Affairs Officer of Lewis-St. Francis welcomed Kappa Delta Rho to the campus and expressed confidence in the future growth of the chapter. Mayor Maurice Berlinski of Joliet welcomed Kappa Delta Rho to the Lockport-Joliet community.

Congratulatory messages to the members of Epsilon Alpha were read from President Richard M. Nixon, Senators Percy and Stevenson of Illinois, Governor

Ogilvie and the Lt. Governor of Illinois. Another letter which was greatly appreciated was from "Mr. KDR", George E. Shaw, A '10, the first pledge of the new fraternity back in 1906 in Middlebury College. Letters and telegrams of congratulations and welcome were read from nearly all National Directors and chapters.

Dean O. D. Roberts, Eta '36 gave an inspiring address to those present. He likened the period he was in school during the depression to the problems of turmoil, discontent, and change facing the current generation of college students. He said, "The very organization of Fraternity is built on the principles of democracy—the will of the majority rules as it operates within a framework of logic, reason, and a belief in truth. This does not allow every person to 'do his own thing'. A Chapter cannot operate on its own. A fraternity is such, because it represents a part of the whole and gains strength from the other parts.

"Fraternity should show as a result of its activities the ability and desire of its members to dedicate themselves to working together—to set goals—worthwhile goals, and to unite its men in achieving those goals. Hopefully, to engage in projects which benefit each other and society around them.

"One of the less obvious benefits is that each man and each group then leaves a heritage to those who come after—man cannot be allowed to destroy, he must build.

"The challenge here is for you to identify yourself with the best of fraternity and to absolutely identify yourself with your institution." All present left the banquet inspired by Dean Robert's remarks and the new brothers reaffirmed their determination to become one of the leading chapters in the fraternity. □

KAPPA DELTA RHO granted its thirtieth charter on March 27th when Zeta Alpha Chapter was installed at the University of Dayton, Dayton, Ohio. Twenty-seven neophytes were given their vows by the installation team from Kappa chapter headed by Rand Pixa, Consul. He was assisted by David Swindler, Alan Lord, Bruce Byron and Gary Nelson. There had been six brothers previously initiated as members-at-large, thus making the chartering group total thirty-three active members.

Zeta Alpha was founded on January 9, 1969, when twelve close friends decided to start a new local on the University of Dayton campus. They selected the name of Theta Beta Kappa. At this time the university did not recognize chapters of national fraternities. The new fraternity, realizing the advantages of national affiliation, decided to try to convince the administration to allow national fraternities on campus. After numerous meetings and conferences with faculty and administrative groups, the ban was lifted on April 21, 1970. The next day, April 22nd, Theta Beta Kappa became a colony of Kappa Delta Rho, the first national to pioneer the University of Dayton campus.

The University had its beginning in 1850, when a small group of French missionaries acquired a one hundred and twenty-one acre farm south of Dayton. The first class consisted of fourteen boys and classes were held in the old farm house. This school was known as St. Mary's Institute. In 1920 the name was changed to the "University of Dayton" and the enrollment had grown to 171 male students. In 1935, the U. of D. became coeducational and within two years the enrollment passed the thousand mark. Soon after World War II, the enrollment passed the 3,000 mark and currently the enrollment is over 10,000 students.

The institution is fully accredited and offers courses in forty departments of instruction to twenty-one degrees on associate, baccalaureate and graduate levels.

Center: Mr. John (Jack) Anson, Executive Director of the N.I.C. giving major address.

Right: Assistant Dean of Men, Richard McCauley welcoming KDR to the University of Dayton.

The six major units of the University are the College of Arts and Science, Schools of Business Administration, Education, Engineering, and the Technical Institute.

Initiation for the new brothers was held at 2:00 p.m. Alumni, undergraduate and friends of Zeta Alpha gathered for an informal social hour in the Crown Room of the Stratford House prior to the banquet which was held at 7:00 p.m. Executive Secretary, E. Mayer Maloney, served as Master of Ceremonies and Rev. David McLane, Pi, '69, gave the Invocation. National Vice President, Robert J. Fox, welcomed Zeta Alpha into the fraternity and presented the charter to Consul, Robert Berg. He accepted the charter in behalf of all the brothers of Zeta Alpha and expressed their pleasure of becoming part of Kappa Delta Rho. He predicted the future of the chapter would be prosperous and that the fraternity would be proud of its newest chapter in the future. Robert McCauley, Assistant Dean of Students, welcomed Kappa Delta Rho to the University of Dayton community and expressed confidence in the future of the fraternity system on the U. of D. campus with the advent of Nationals on campus. Many letters and telegrams of congratulations and best wishes to Zeta Alpha were read, among which were messages from President Nixon, Vice President Agnew, the Senators of the State of Ohio, as well as the Governor.

Mr. John (Jack) Anson, the newly appointed Executive Secretary of the N.I.C. gave the main address. Jack is particularly well equipped for his new assignment in the N.I.C. since he started as a field representative for his fraternity, Phi Kappa Tau, immediately after graduation from Colgate in 1943 and continued with the fraternity in various capacities until he resigned in December 1970 to accept the N.I.C. appointment. He served Phi Kappa Tau as editor of their magazine for a period of twelve years, and as National Secretary for the last twelve years.

He challenged the brothers of Zeta Alpha to build their chapter to new heights in the fertile fields of the academic community. To grow, prosper, and serve their campus and the community. Although in some sections fraternities appear to be on the decline, he pointed out that during — The Sweetheart of Kappa Delta Rho —

THIS YEAR'S contest represented a departure from past experience in that all photographs of submitted chapter sweethearts were published and every chapter had the right to vote for the national sweetheart. We were disappointed in the fragmentary showing in both regards. Ten chapters had submitted entries; one was withdrawn because of the girl's tragic death, and one was ineligible. The following represents the roll of voting chapters and disposal of their votes:

Beta—4, 4, 6, 6	Kappa—5, 5, 7, 7
Delta—6, 6, 4, 8	Lambda—9, 9, 8, 8
Epsilon—1, 1, 6, 7	Nu—6, 6, 1, 3
Zeta—2, 2, 4, 9	Rho—6, 6, 4, 4
Eta—10, 6, 6, 8	Omega—2, 2, 8, 8
Theta—3, 3, 1, 2	Gamma Alpha—(abstained)
Iota—4, 4, 9, 1	Epsilon Alpha—10, 10, 2, 6

All chapters were alerted upon mailing of the issue that votes must be in within a month of receipt of the February issue. All non-voting chapters were given a second chance either by letter or phone call to cast their votes. We held this issue open until May 20th (well beyond deadline) to assure as many votes as possible.

The results place Nu's entry of Miss Carol Sue Abdon as the new sweetheart, with Iota's entry as runner-up. Carol is a senior in medical technology at Indiana University's Medical Center. She is a member of the Indiana University Student Foundation, and past president of Alpha Delta Theta. Her hobbies include ice skating, swimming and water skiing.

She and Bob Shaffer are looking forward to a late summer wedding.

Patti is a junior majoring in Biology, a counselor for a freshman hall group, and an active Beta Gamma.

Oran Stanley

Omicron '30 Professor of Botany at Colgate University is among three retiring Biology Professors who have been honored by (primarily) students who felt that a fund which would perpetuate their names on the Colgate campus would be appropriate recognition. The fund will be used to support programs of the biology department, with a portion set aside to defray the cost of individual portraits of the three men. The portraits will be on display permanently in the Olin Hall of Life Sciences.

KAPPA DELTA RHO ON CAMPUS

Omega's Seventh Walk a Tremendous Success

On Friday evening, December 18, 1970, the Brothers of Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity, Omega Chapter, kicked off their seventh annual Walk-to-Pittsburgh, completely unaware that this walk was to be by far the most successful in the events' history. In each of the last seven years the brothers have set aside the weekend prior to Christmas vacation as one dedicated to collecting funds to aid the crippled children at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. The money is collected in the process of a sixty mile hike from Indiana University of Pa. to Children's Hospital. Through the generous contributions of passing motorists and cooperative merchants along U.S. Highways 119 and 22, in addition to the huge sums collected on campus and from the good citizens of Indiana, Pa., the brothers are able each year to make a sizeable contribution to the drive.

This year the Walk's Chairman, Brother James Perry, set a goal of $4000, more than $700 above the previous high of $3280 collected on the Walk in 1969. The brothers were confident as they left on Saturday morning for the two day hike having already collected close to $2000 from students on campus and residents of Indiana. Lodging and meals were provided along the way by cooperating merchants who were familiar with the drive. The brothers arrived at Children's Hospital at 5:30 P.M. Sunday evening and, even though weary from the weekend's activities, immediately began an organized and thorough count of the money collected. After the money had been counted the brothers were treated to a buffet style dinner provided by the hospital as they awaited the final tabulation. The 1970 KDR Walk-to-Pittsburgh collected $7,422, a sum almost twice that of the goal set by the brothers at the beginning of the march. This amount was the largest collected by any college group or organization participating in the drive and raised the brother's total lifetime contribution to the hospital to over $18,000.

The brothers were rewarded for their efforts with a dinner dance for 400 aboard the Gateway Clipper, a yacht which sails around Pittsburgh, on April 2, 1971, by the drive's sponsor, KDKA-TV in Pittsburgh.

The KDR's continued their leading ways in the recent Heart Fund drive in Indiana by collecting the greatest amount of money in comparison with the other fraternities on campus.

On Saturday, March 27, the brothers will be collecting again, this time for the EyeFund, along with the other fraternities and sororities at I.U.P.

The reliability and service of Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity has been tested and proven time and again, and the Brothers of Omega Chapter are one of the big reasons for the fraternity's outstanding success.

Kappa Milepost

Kappa Chapter has just passed a milepost. The men of Kappa have been telling you of the progress we have been making since the reestablishment of our chapter two years ago. And now we have something big and brassy to show for it — a whole mantle covered with trophies.

Thursday, April 15th, was something different from the last day to pay your income tax at Ohio State. April 15th marked the annual Greek Honors Banquet, an event which must have been made for Kappa Delta Rho. At least that is the way it seemed since KDR was called more than any other single fraternity or sorority. The first award was the runner-up for the highest chapter average in Gray Division. Alpha Kappa Lambda edged us out 3.011 to 2.808. But we had the highest pledge class average with a 2.861. Starting to look like a trend? The final scholastic award was the Alpha Rho Foundation Annual Scholastic Improvement Award. In

The best part of these awards is the trend they indicate. They are not a destination. Instead they are only a milepost. Kappa Chapter is moving faster and faster.

Delta — March 15th marked the addition of 13 new pledges to the chapter. The intramural season was not exceptional with a 2nd place in wrestling as the only bright spot.

Epsilon Alpha — We welcome the appearance of a new bi-monthly newsletter, the Epsilon Alpha Flyer. The first rushing season as a national has produced a 12 man pledge class.

Lambda — Seven new brothers were initiated on Feb. 7th. Informal rush is now permitted year-round and the winter quarter provided two new pledges. Scholarship is the 3rd highest among living groups. Alumni spring banquet was held at the Elegant Farmer in Oakland on May 21st.

Gamma Alpha — The IFC grade report for Fall '70 showed KDR earning top honors for the semester with a g.p.a. of 5.31. KDR pledges also earned an award with 5.71.

the last two years 192 new chapters have been added to the chapter rolls of national fraternities and that last year alone, fifty-five new campuses had been opened to National fraternities, the University of Dayton being one of them.

YOU are Kappa Delta Rho

Whether you are an undergraduate or an alumnus, old or young, rich or poor, YOU are a member of Kappa Delta Rho—and only through your efforts will the unique experience of fraternity become available to others.

Too many members have that “lost” feeling of “what can I, one person, do that would have any effect?” And the answer is simply this: One undergraduate started Gamma Alpha. One alumnus sends Quill & Scroll news items consistently about his chapter. One man has provided the impetus for our current expansion. Dozens of unheralded men sacrifice time and effort for the national fraternity and the individual chapters. They can use help all the way down the line, and would welcome your assistance.

“But I can’t spend much time . . . I’m overloaded with work now!” So are we all. This magazine is essentially a one-man operation done in spare time, between the design and production of six national magazines . . . and they aren’t quarterly’s.

There are two coupons on this page—they just hint at a few of the things that even the most isolated member can do. Why not fill out one or both and send them in? Be an active member!
