Donald L. Stohl, Zeta '53 New Executive Secretary

On September 1, 1981 upon E. Mayer Maloney's retirement, Don Stohl, Expansion Secretary for the past year and a half, assumed the duties of Executive Secretary for the fraternity. By now you have seen Don's name many times in the articles announcing new colonies and chapters. He has been a vigorous and successful representative of the fraternity in the expansion field but few of us really know a great deal about his background, so let's throw a little light on his activities:

In his undergraduate years at Penn State, Don served the chapter as Social Chairman and Rushing Chairman. He preferred the latter position because he felt it to be the most important area of service in the chapter house. Judging from his recent achievements, he must have developed rushing into a fine art! Even in those days his interest was not only chapter oriented but total fraternity. His was the original contact with our present Omega chapter, and his efforts were instrumental in adding them to our roster.

While at Penn State he was a member of the Senior Board of the campus newspaper, Promotion Department; a member of the Thespian Club (officer, dance director and costume designer); and a staff member of Froth (humor and literary magazine). He graduated with a B.A. in Applied Arts with a minor in Geography.

After two years in Germany with the Army Security Agency, Don returned to Penn State and became the first Traveling Secretary for the National. During this time he brought Alpha Alpha at Lock Haven State College onto our chapter roll.

But it was necessary to get involved in business activities. He entered the retailing field with Allied Stores (Greensburg), Joseph Horne Co. (Greensburg), Wein Brothers (Brookville), and his own business in Greensburg.

While in Brookville, Don was a member of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. In 1960 he reactivated the Western Pennsylvania

Laurel Festival which is still being held. He served as President of the Laurel Board of Directors for 4 years and was named "Man of the Year."

In Greensburg he is a member of the Merchants Association, officer and member of the Board of Directors of the Westmoreland County Symphony Orchestra, President of the Board of Directors of the Greensburg Art Association and Past President of Rotary. He is a member of the Elks and Masons.

While in Brookville and Greensburg, Don has taught private oil painting classes and was on the faculty of the Business Careers Institute and Westmoreland Community College.

Don's wife, Kaye; son, Kent and daughter, Leslie round out the family.

For the past five years Don has served on Zeta's Alumni Corporation Board, being President for three years.

Among his first acts as Executive Secretary Don had to move the National Office to 331 S. Main St., Greensburg, Penna. 15601. We all wish him well in his new position. □

New Colony Inducted at UPJ

For well over a year, the members of the proposed colony of Kappa Delta Rho at the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown have been persisting in their attempts to gain the administration's approval to become UPJ's fifth campus fraternity.

Beginning on July 12, 1980 several enthusiastic UPJ students met in Greensburg, Pa., with the executive secretary, Donald Stohl, to begin colony formation procedures. Those original members included: Michael Sturnick, Clayton Stahl, Allan Lydic, Dave Smith, Dan Baird, John Testa, and Tony Garfola. Sponsored by Kappa Delta Rho at Penn State, the original members returned to UPJ in September 1980 and began selecting worthy candidates to enlarge their organization.

Weekly meetings were initiated as of September 26, 1980. The meetings were conducted according to regulation procedures. Officers were elected and committees were formed. The current officers include:

Michael Sturnick, consul; Stephen Feller, senior tribune; Sean Moran, junior tribune; Mark Fabionic, quaestor; Matthew Comi, praetor, and Mark Gannon, centurion.

During efforts to gain the administration's acceptance, the proposed colony engaged in several commendable activities; including recognized efforts in a Red Cross Blood Drive, participation in a Muscular Dystrophy charity collection and dance marathon, and involvement in a campus clean-up project. In addition, the members have entered several successful teams in the UPJ intramural sports program.

Academically, all members are in good standing, having a quality point average of approximately 2.75. Several members made Dean's list in the past semester. In addition, four members are involved in the UPJ Student Senate. Other members are actively involved in Phi Eta Sigma National Honor Society, geography club, various engineering clubs, and the ski club.

tension of the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh, Pa. In 1973 UPJ was consummated with the launching of four year, degree-granting status. UPJ offers a variety of programs for the college student, including Baccalaureate degrees in business and economics, humanities, the sciences, and engineering. The student body presently numbers approximately 2,250 full-time and 700 part-time students.

Finally the members' persistence paid off. Over the summer of 1981 the UPJ administration granted the needed approval. The exuberant members immediately began planning for the colonization ceremony.

Saturday evening, October 17, 1981, the group was installed as a colony of Kappa Delta Rho. Sponsoring the ceremony was our chapter from Penn State headed by the past president, Mark Pulos, and the new president, John Burke. In attendance was National Executive Vice President Richard Nolan, and Executive Secretary Donald Stohl. Kent Roach, an alumnus of Omega Chapter, was present, also. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held, attended by representatives of the Greek organizations on campus and other faculty and administrative officials including Dean Shaffer, dean of student affairs. A large celebration was held immediately following the reception.

Members of the new colony not mentioned include: Jay Barron, Eugene Battisti, Mark Bittings, Thomas Burns, Edward Coleman, Tim Huber, Scott Jones, Eric Kern, John Kreiter, Tim Lazor, Kirk Mauro, Gregory Morrison, Mark Myers, Matthew O'Connor, George Pasierb, Gregory Perry, John Peters, Frank Petryga, David Ponchione, Louis Saut, Timothy Schrock, James Sheffler, Raymond Sutilla, Brian Sweigart, Herbert Torrance, Jacob Weinstein, Thomas Young, Jack Valentine, and Timothy Zernick. ☐

The following are rough estimates:

1/10th of the contributors are new contributors who have never given in the past.

1/7th of the contributors are members who have donated in the past years but did not contribute last year.

1/5th of the contributors have upped their donations over the last year — some were sizeable increases.

Some of the comments received from alumni along with donations make interesting reading:

"Can't you do something about getting Delta back in (the fold)?"

"Hope you guys go over your expectations!"

"Keep up the good work!" (several similar comments)

"Glad to see we're expanding again."

One note stated, "Why not on the West Coast?"

Obviously the rejuvenation of our expansion efforts has created a surge of interest, which we hope will be sustained as growth continues. The Alumni Fund's success is critical to our continuing effort. ☐

Hall of Fame

Kappa Delta Rho alumni have contributed much to this nation and the world. Too often we see evidence of their efforts in the Alumni Worldwide section of this magazine or in an obituary, but until now there never has been any lasting recognition.

Undergraduates too, never realize the extent of our expertise, or our past heritage. To help remedy this situation the Board of Directors has authorized the establishment of the Kappa Delta Rho National Alumni Hall of Fame.

To enable the Fraternity to honor these alumni, we must ask each chapter's alumni to cooperate in the initial nominations. It would be helpful to have each chapter appoint a committee whose knowledge of chapter alumni will cover as many years as possible.

During the first year, Alpha, Beta, Epsilon, Zeta, Eta, Theta, Iota, Lambda, Nu, Xi, Rho and Sigma will be asked to nominate 7 alumni, along with resumes for consideration. Nominations should come through Chapter Alumni Corporations. No more than 5 alumni will be accepted from an individual chapter. Those not selected may be renominated in following years.

Psi, Omega, Alpha Alpha and Beta Alpha are eligible for 5 nominations with a limit of 3 acceptances. For chapters on present inactive status (Group 1, chartered prior to 1950; Group 2 chartered from 1950-1971), should there be no active alumni corporation at this time, nominations can be made by key alumni or the National Executive Committee.

Nomination Group: Chapter Alumni

For each following year, each active Alumni Corporation will be eligible to submit 2 names with no guarantees.

Nomination Group: Chapter Alumni

Selection Committee: Five members of the Hall of Fame appointed by the National Board of Directors

Categories to be used in consideration of nominations should include personal or business accomplishments, national recognition (Sports, Politics, Entertainment, etc.) and Fraternity involvement.

It is our intention to place official plaques in each chapter with names of those honored engraved on individual name plates. Inactive chapter name plates will be held at the National Office until the chapter is reactivated. New chapters will be given special consideration in the event any member should receive outstanding honors.

Scholarship to Gulati

The Board of Directors at the August 22 convention accepted the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee and awarded the 1980-81 Kappa Delta Rho $500 scholarship to Sunil K. Gulati, Iota '81.

Sunil earned an A.B. degree in Economics/Political Science from Bucknell University with a 3.8 G.P.A. He plans to enter Columbia this fall in pursuit of a Ph.D. in Economics.

Sunil was on the Dean's List six of seven semesters. Was elected to mem-

on Phi Beta Kappa in the Spring of 1981.

In January, 1978 he served an internship as an administrative assistant to Philip S. Robertson, representative in the Connecticut General Assembly. In January, 1980 he had an accounting internship at MRM Industries, Division of Insilco. During the second semester of his senior year, Sunil served as a teaching assistant for the introductory principles of economics.

Not all of his activities were centered around academic endeavors. He served Iota Chapter as consul, I.F.C.

representative and centurion. In addition, he participated in the chapter's intramural sports of soccer, handball, softball, wrestling, bowling, billiards, racquetball, cross country and basketball. During 1977-78 he was on the Bucknell Junior Varsity Soccer team. During his senior year he was assistant coach of the Bucknell Soccer team. This fall he will assist the Columbia soccer coach in the same capacity.

He was a member of several youth soccer teams in the state of Connecticut and on occasion served as the assistant coach. He officiated at approximately 100 youth soccer games at age levels 8-23.

During the summer of 1980 he obtained his "C" coaching license from the United States Soccer Federation. This is the highest soccer coaching certification attainable by those under 22 years of age. In addition to these endeavors, Sunil was active on many other committees at Bucknell which gave him a wide insight into a variety of activities.

He is an outstanding young man and well deserves the scholarship. We expect to hear of him in the future.

Kappa Delta Rho is proud to call him Brother. □

Nu Revitalization

Nu chapter's goal is to restore Kappa Delta Rho to the outstanding chapter it once was at Indiana University. There are several steps to be taken along the way:

Scholarship. This is the most important, for without a good academic foundation the house would be limited in other areas. After reorganizing the chapter attained the number two G.P.A. among fraternities in its first semester. They hope to be the best academically this semester.

Social activities. There is an active social calendar with a Barn Dance held on October 24 and a Halloween dance later in the month.

Intramurals. The chapter plans to field a team in at least 80 % of the events available. Participation has already been felt by some of the other houses — as Nu's undefeated I.M. football team continues to win.

Philanthropy. One way to not only do good for the beneficiary as well as the house. A project is on the drawing board to raise money for the Ronald MacDonald House in Indianapolis.

Rushing. The campaign is very active and Nu is pleased with results to date. The hope is to have the house at full capacity by next semester.

To help the chapter attain these goals, the house was remodeled with the help of alumni and an interior decorator this past summer. All living areas and the TV room were recarpeted and refurnished with great care. The chapter is proud of their "new" quarters and feels this has helped them come as far as they have.

Of course, another top priority is Alumni Relations. There has been "incredible support" from local alumni and the chapter hopes to augment this with alumni across the nation.

Once these goals are met, Nu can again become one of the fraternity's foremost chapters. □

E. Mayer Maloney honored

Homecoming day at Nu chapter was marked by the chapter's recognition of Mayer's 45 years of service to the chapter and the national fraternity. As announced in our May issue, Mayer retired on September 1st as Executive Secretary of the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho. This move signified the official end of a long career of service. Following graduation in 1936, Mayer served as alumni advisor to Nu Chapter for the next 30 years. His efforts were invaluable to the chapter on many occasions; to mention only a few, his struggle to keep the chapter house open during World War II when all but one other fraternity was forced to close; managing to accommodate the tremendous expansion of the chapter in the 1950-60 period; and guiding and assisting through the loss of the large house to the present castle-like home at 1503 East Third Street. The current revitalization of the chapter cannot be forgotten, either. After assuming the post of National Executive Secretary, he still remained active in the affairs of Nu, continuing to serve as vice president of the Realty Corporation today, and hopefully for many more years. His devotion to both the national and the chapter is unquestioned and October 17th presented a way for the chapter to reciprocate in a small way.

Advertising

In a departure from past policy, you will notice an occasional advertisement in this and succeeding issues of the Quill & Scroll. We are not trying to become a typical consumer magazine by loading the pages with paid space. In fact, the postal authorities limit the percentage of advertising in a non-profit 2nd class publication to 10 % without penalty.

Acceptance of advertising is dependent upon approval of products, services and copy by the Editor and the Executive Secretary. Even after acceptance has been secured, there is no implied endorsement by the fraternity of any product or advertiser.

With the increase in chapters and colonies we are anticipating the need for more pages and with a limited budget we are hoping that a modest advertising effort might provide a portion of the necessary funds for such expansion.

Should any brother be interested in reaching our 11,500 readers through advertising please write the Editor (or) the Executive Secretary at the addresses listed on the back cover, for further details. □

The following portions of the National Directory have had to be placed within the magazine as a temporary expedient. Our intention is to eventually redesign the publication to better accommodate the directory in the future.

University President Supports Fraternities

The potential for the future development of the college fraternity is bright because "the essential root idea of brotherhood is absolutely fundamental and always has been to mankind," Dr. Richard D. Cheshire, President of the University of Tampa, said recently before a National Interfraternity Conference audience.

The trend in our society is to broaden the definition of "academic" to include values and emotions along with facts and statistics, Dr. Cheshire declared.

And this relates to fraternities, which can help students in tangible ways to develop their whole personalities, to forge their capacities for leadership, to help point them in career directions and to cement those cherished fundamental ideas of friendship.

"As we in the academic world open up to the traditional wisdom, as we reimbrace, as the ancients did, the ideas of love and beauty and justice and faith, we adopt those concepts as being legitimately an academic concern." He continued: "And that's when the idea of fraternity, that's when the idea of brotherhood, can again be seen as something that is legitimate, that is respectable, that is important, and that requires all the encouragement and nourishment that we can give it."

Dr. Cheshire said that both fraternities and academic institutions have responsibilities to meet in fostering fraternity chapters.

Fraternities need to have skilled professional staffs, good volunteer alumni, and interested faculty advisors to work with chapters, solving problems and suggesting opportunities.

College administrations, faculties, and trustees, on the other hand, need to take fraternities seriously as offering opportunities for identity, vehicles for participation, and embodiments of values. Colleges must reward the people on their administrative staffs and faculties who work with fraternities, the college president emphasized.

"Fraternities should no longer be something 'outside the pale' as it were, but something that is integral to what is needed in college life." □

Columbia University Colony

Starting with an idea and a great deal of hard work and dedication, the Columbia University colony of Kappa Delta Rho was officially recognized at a colonization ceremony held Sept. 26, 1981 in Ferris Booth Hall. The members of Rho chapter from Lafayette (sponsors) conducted the ceremony. Others in attendance included Richard Nolan, executive vice president, Donald Stohl, executive secretary, and members of Beta Alpha colony from C. W. Post.

Following the proceedings, a party was held to celebrate the occasion. To complete the evening, several members and guests "tapered-off" at Trader Vic's, a favorite Columbia Colony watering hole.

The colony held its first official meeting on April 14, 1981. Officers Wayne Cowan, president; Ed Lijo, 1st vice president; Mark Berti, 2nd vice president; Carl Franzetti, secretary, and Mike Statti, treasurer, were elected April 15th. In the six short months since its inception the colony has successfully enriched the lives of its members and enhanced the social atmosphere at C.U. Several parties, brunches and get-togethers were held so members could spend some time together and discuss plans for the fall. K.D.R. enjoyed its initial success in intermurals by advancing to the semi-final round of the soccer tournament.

During the present fall semester, several parties were held to better acquaint members with the student body. A cocktail party to meet the pledges is scheduled for the first week of November. A swim-a-thon to raise funds for World Hunger is scheduled for November 14th. The colony has participated in intermural water polo and football, placing 2nd in the interfraternity football tournament. Its 25 members are active in a variety of activities ranging from wrestling, basketball and swimming to organizations such as Pax Christi, Asian Student's Union, Brass Choir and Intervarsity fellowship. Present grade point average is maintained at 3.05.

West Virginia Installed

Early in the fall of 1980, Don Stohl, expansion director, met with Don Tassler to discuss the possible interest at West Virginia University for establishing a new fraternity. After several weeks, Don Tassler, along with his roommate, Vince McCourty and friend, Louis Spina, had a group of 10 interested parties. Bylaws were established and officers elected with Vince as president. The next several months were spent in a very successful rushing endeavor. On April 10 colony status was formally requested of Kappa Delta Rho. There were now 35 members in the group. On April 27 the official installation occurred with Eta Alpha from Robert Morris performing the national pledging ceremony. This was followed by a party held at Pledge Brother Spina's. Dr. John Ludlun, representing the area alumni and Don Stohl were among those attending.

The fall semester has become an adventure in learning to work together and in getting the house in order. Phi Sigma Kappa (neighbors) have been very helpful in welcoming the new fra-

GREEK WEEK TROPHY

Since Theta Alpha was not accepted on the campus by I.F.C. until late in the semester, we did not have the opportunity to really participate in all the campus activities. However, we did win the first place trophy in the Blood Drive with 96% of our members donating.

Whatever time was lost in the fall, was made up in the Spring during Greek Week. Although we only took 2nd place in flag football and 3rd place in basketball, we took 1st place in all of the remaining events. One of our members was re-elected as the Greek God to reign over the week. Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority was our partner, and as a result of our combined victories we won the all-over Greek Week Trophy.

Miller Beer Company sponsored a "Tug-of-War" contest with Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity as triumphant 1st place winners of a new T.V. Completing the week, we and the Tri Sigs had a victory celebration which will be long remembered.

SIGMA ENERGY HIGH

Rush Week at Sigma Chapter was very successful. We pledged 18, the largest pledge class in many years. The large number was due to the efforts of many alumni and undergraduates.

Before rush week, renovation of the living room and front hall was completed. New carpet and furniture highlighted the project.

Individual efforts also abound. Brother Dale Krzmarzick is our OSU wrestler who this summer honored our country by winning gold and silver medals in West Germany at the 1981 Deaf Olympics Games. Dennis Linnell is the OSU mascot in the "Benny Beaver" costume. Ben Bisbee, Kevin Holland, and Dave Parkhurst are leading members of the OSU rifle team.

Among the pledges, we sport the graphics director for OSU's art magazine, two pledges are on the OSU choir and marching band, and three more are involved with their respective ROTC units.

Sigma's Mom's Club will be working on their project of fixing up the kitchen this year and will be pushing the Dad's Club to complete a project of their liking for the house.

Needless to say the energy is high here at Sigma and we plan to keep it flowing throughout the upcoming year. We are proud of winning the 1981 KDR Chapter Publication Award.

We are working with Executive Secretary Don Stohl to get a chapter started at the University of Washington in Seattle. We extend a welcome to Stohl and thank past Executive Secretary E. Mayer Maloney for his time and efforts. We hope he is enjoying his well deserved vacation. □

Editorial

As we turn over another year in our history, brothers can see evidence of a new aggressive spirit, confident and positive in nature. You can expect to see more changes in the future. We hope to enlarge the Quill & Scroll at an appropriate time. As already mentioned, we now have limited advertising. But to be able to effectively expand the publication, we will need more careful attention to deadlines. It was a major problem to assure that this issue printed in November would be mailed in November. When we accept advertising space, ads frequently are keyed to the time of year they run. We are no longer in the lazy "let's wait until we can fill the pages" era. The published deadlines must be met to the best of everyone's abilities.

And if they aren't met, we cannot delay publication to insert late copy.

Chapter Eternal
